

Washington Society

Bureau of The Bee, Washington, Nov. 26.

General Pershing entertained a company at dinner Saturday night in honor of the novelist, Mary Roberts Rinehart, who is in Washington as a correspondent for the conference. General Pershing has a charming large apartment in the apartment house de luxe at 2029 Connecticut avenue. He had a beautiful luncheon in honor of Marshal Foch of France on Monday.

General Pershing and Marshal Foch arrived together at the ball of the Robert E. Lee chapter of the U. D. C. last Monday evening in the ball room of the Willard. A canopy of flags of the countries in the conference had been arranged over the large box which had been reserved for the guests of honor, who were received with military honors and escorted to the box where they viewed the scene for a considerable time. They were greeted with the greatest enthusiasm as they entered the ball room arm in arm.

Mrs. James C. Davis, wife of the director general of railroads, entertained at a luncheon last Friday in honor of Miss Esther Smith, who was married next day to Edward Mitchell Brown, son of Col. and Mrs. E. T. Brown of Atlanta, cousins of the first Mrs. Woodrow Wilson. Among the guests who came to Washington for the wedding were the three daughters of former President Wilson, Mrs. Sayre, Mrs. McAdoo and Miss Margaret Wilson. They remained through the week and spent Thanksgiving with their father and Mrs. Wilson.

Representative and Mrs. A. W. Jeffers of Omaha had a little family Thanksgiving day dinner party, with no outside guests. Mr. Jeffers is just recovering from a little illness. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Scott had with them for their Thanksgiving dinner Mr. and Mrs. Charles George of Omaha, who have been in Asheville, N. C., for several months, and who are on their way home. They arrived here on Wednesday and are spending the week-end with the Scotts.

Representative and Mrs. Robert E. Evans of Dakota City had a little house party for Thanksgiving and for the dinner of that day. Their guests included Miss Miriam Evans of Long Beach, their niece; Miss Winifred Evans, Miss Elsie Allen, Raymond Allen and Roy Budwig of West Point, Neb., who is now a cadet at Annapolis, Miss Anna Evans, daughter of the representative, accompanied by Miss Elsie Allen, went to New York yesterday to witness the Army and Navy game and will return tomorrow. They were at the Claridge.

Representative and Mrs. Frank C. Reavis and their son, Jack Reavis, who has been here for a time with them, left on Wednesday for Cleveland to spend the Thanksgiving day with C. Frank Reavis, jr., having a complete little family circle for the day. Representative and Mrs. Reavis went on to their home in Falls City, Neb., where Mrs. Reavis will spend the month of December. Mr. Reavis will return here early in December.

Mrs. D. C. Stapleton, who is spending the winter in her Washington home with her small daughter, is expecting to spend next summer abroad.

Mrs. Burke, widow of Col. John Burke formerly of Omaha, but who has spent her winters here for some years has returned to her apartment in the Dresden after a summer in the Catskills. Her daughter, Mrs. Marsh, spent the summer in Wyoming on a ranch with the hope of improving her health, which improved so greatly that she is remaining for some months longer.

Mrs. Burke had a pretty tea Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. K. C. Barton of Omaha who has an apartment at Wardman Park Inn for the winter. The company was made up for the most part of Omaha people who are either living here or are here temporarily. Mrs. Lemly, wife of Major Henry R. Lemly, U. S. A., and who was formerly Miss Katharine Palmer of Omaha, and Mrs. F. D. Barkalow, formerly of Omaha assisted at the tea table.

Mrs. Frank Hamilton of Omaha is established at Wardman Park Inn where she has taken an apartment for the winter. She spent this week in New York enjoying the opera and will return here early next week.

Problems That Perplex

Answered by BEATRICE FAIRFAX

When He Proposes.
Dear Miss Fairfax: I am a boy 17 years of age and am in love with a pretty girl one year younger. I am in doubt whether she loves me, but I hear from other people that she does. I would like to have you advise me whether it is proper for me to propose to her and how?

JIMMY.
Can you support a wife, Jimmy? That's the main thing expected of a young man when he proposes. But are you not a little hasty? Just fancy plunging into the sea of matrimony at 17. The man's job, so, all things considered, you'd better not propose for a few years yet.

D. H. Your poem is a good little bit of rhyme, but would not pass as high grade poetry. It is difficult to market even very good verse, so I cannot encourage you to believe you can sell your effort. Keep at it, though. You will develop an appreciation for literature, and you may develop considerably yourself.

Fee: William Ritchie is state commander of the American Legion. He lives in Omaha. If you would write him, he might give you the information you wish.

Jessie: I am forwarding your letter to Robert, without your name. He will be glad for your advice, I am sure.

The knife used for peeling a pineapple should not be used for slicing it, as the rind contains an acid that is likely to cause a swollen mouth or sore lips. The Cabans use salt as an antidote for the ill effects of the peel.

To clean a veil put into a glass jar one pint of wood alcohol, drop veil into jar, cover and shake thoroughly for several minutes. Remove veil, squeeze gently and dry on a round, clean stick.

A Recent Bride

Mrs. Donald Funk is a bride of the month. She and her husband are residing at present with the parents of Mrs. Funk, Mr. and Mrs. O. McGuire. She was Miss Helen McGuire before her marriage. They plan to have their own home in Benson in the spring.

Is There Love Without True Congenialty

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

"H'E'S darling," writes Mabel, "and I adore him. But I can't understand him at all. He doesn't care for society. He's even bored by theaters and motion pictures. He gets no pleasure out of music. All he seems to care for is me and the outdoors and his work—engineering. We haven't a thing in common, but we care for each other a lot. What do you think are our chances for happiness?"

"It's true that opposites attract. I'd say we were bound to be happy together, for two such different people never lived. I enjoy dancing, music, the theater, crowds and all the pleasures of the day. But I've a great devotion for my Jimmie. What shall I do? He's 30 and I'm 27, so you see neither of us is likely to change."

There never was a more tragic half truth than this: "Opposite attract." To be sure they do. But they do not hold together. In the end like seeks like.

No one can get on for long with anyone else who does not speak his language. We all seek those who understand us, who are capable of enjoying what we enjoy and who share our standards and beliefs as a whole or in part.

The man and woman who have nothing in common but their attraction for each other are taking a grave chance when they try to build a life's happiness on that appeal, which is dangerously likely to be physical and perhaps passing.

The mere lure of the senses cannot be counted upon to hold two people together in any existence that is well rounded and satisfying. But isn't there a peaceful feeling of coming home when you find yourself with someone who is agreeable to your nature and who is in harmony with your ambitions, longings, tastes and desires?

The love that is based on congeniality has a real foundation. Its house of love has a genuine chance of enduring. For two who have tastes and desires and ambitions in common are bound to grow together instead of apart.

A great philosopher once said: "I often think friendship consists more in liking the same things than in liking each other." And so perhaps for love. It may not consist as much in enjoying the same things as in caring for each other, for the natural attraction counts beyond any outside diversions. But love thrives on congeniality as it cannot do in hostile atmosphere of feelings that are set widely and hopelessly apart.

Tenderness is beautiful. Unselfishness is noble. Devotion is heart-warming. But even they cannot give the warmth and the comradely feeling and the comfort and the freedom from boredom and the peace that come from speaking the same language.

When love is perfect it means a life companionship. And unless there is the community of spirit that comes from congeniality, how can that companionship prosper?

When a man and a woman care for each other but neither cares for the things that are breath of life to the other, they must either have the toleration and wisdom to cultivate interests in common or to set each other free.

Sittings for photographs made before December 21 will be delivered in time for Xmas.

Your Own Photograph

from The Heyn Studio 10th St. at Howard

Personals

Ray Millard will return to Chicago Sunday evening.

Mrs. Frances G. Robison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Robison.

Miss Elizabeth Stewart arrived Saturday morning to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Crofoot.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Goldstone and son, Louis, of Kansas City, Mo., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Adam Bonoff.

Mrs. Milo Gates returned from New York Thursday. Her mother, Mrs. Charles Offut is expected this week from New York.

Mrs. Nathan Merriam arrived Friday evening from California to be the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Barton Millard, and Mr. Millard.

Mrs. Richard Payne of Albert Lea, Minn., is expected the first week in December to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Howland.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Mulhauser of New York City announce the birth of a son. Mrs. Mulhauser was formerly Miss Bess Weinberg of Omaha.

Mrs. Victor Caldwell, who has spent the month of November in the east, will return Wednesday morning. She will spend the winter at the Blackstone.

a student in Kent Place school, Summit, N. J., is spending the Thanksgiving vacation at the home of her roommate in New York City. Miss Robison is preparing for Vassar.

Mrs. George M. Lunt, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Burke for several weeks, leaves Monday for California. She will be in Pasadena for the winter.

Captain Edward S. Murphy of Fort Crook, accompanied Dr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Offerman to Columbus, Neb., to spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. Offerman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Adts.

Miss Dorothy Miner of Falls City is the guest of Miss Gertrude Harte over the week-end. They will attend the Delta Gamma dance this evening and return to the University of Nebraska Sunday.

Miss Mildred Kalmus of Denver is the guest of Miss Zerlina Brisbin. The two girls were together in Europe last summer. Miss Kalmus is on her way home to Denver, after attending the Yale-Harvard game.

Mrs. Frances Nash Watson with her husband, Col. Edward Watson of Paris, will arrive the week of Christmas to spend the holidays here with her mother, Mrs. E. W. Nash. Miss Catherine Cartan, a niece of Mrs. Watson, who went abroad last summer and was attending a French school, will return with Colonel and Mrs. Watson. Miss Cartan recently recovered from an attack of typhoid.

For Denver Guest.
In honor of Miss Mildred Kalmus of Denver, who is her guest, Miss Zerlina Brisbin entertained at luncheon at the Athletic club, followed by an Orpheum party, Saturday, Monday, Miss Lydia Burnet will give a luncheon at the Brandeis tea room for Miss Kalmus.

Kappa Kappa Gamma.
Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority will meet for luncheon Saturday, 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Charles W. Russell, 411 North Fortieth street.

The Roentgen Society of London has amended its rules so that Curie, the noted radium expert, can become a member of the society.

Escape Winter on Other Side of the World

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cowell and Miss Mona Cowell, who are at present on the Isle of Man, will return to Omaha some time next May. Their winter's trip will take them to India, Straits Settlement, China and Japan and Honolulu.

Other Omahans who are seeing far countries this winter are Mr. and Mrs. Will Millard and Joe Millard, who sailed yesterday from France for South America. They will visit Rio de Janeiro and later the Argentinians, having arranged their trip to enjoy the summer months while the northern hemisphere is snowy and disagreeable.

For Miss Stewart.
Miss Elizabeth Stewart, who is a guest at the L. F. Crofoot home, will be honor guest Monday evening at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fraser at their home.

Wednesday Mrs. W. J. Foye will be hostess at a luncheon for Miss Stewart, and Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Myron Learned will entertain at dinner in her honor.

Will See Junior League Show.
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Clarke will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Riders of Kansas City for the last performance of the Junior League Follies, to be put on Dec. 6-10. Mr. and Mrs. Barton Millard will go to Kansas City at the same time to visit Mr. and Mrs. E. Brookfields, and so will Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Davis, who will stay for the festivities with Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Morrison.

Affairs for Miss Bull.
Mrs. Herbert French entertained at a tea Saturday afternoon for her guest, Miss Clara Bull of Pasadena. Thirty guests were present: This evening Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rogers will have at tea for Miss Bull, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Devereux, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert French, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tukey, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Luberger, Miss Josephine Congdon, Frank Campbell and Carl Paulson.

P. E. O. Notes.
Mrs. Nellie Grantham of Lexington, state organizer of the P. E. O. Sisterhood, will attend a meeting of the Omaha association Thursday, 4 p. m., in the Burgess-Nash auditorium. Mrs. Grantham desires to meet all P. E. O. members in the city who are not members of Omaha chapters.

The Only Gift Your Friends Ask For—

Your Photograph

HAVE IT TAKEN FOR CHRISTMAS OR ANY OTHER GIFT OCCASION BY OMAHA'S EXPERTS

The Heyn Studio
The Trussell Studio
The Skoglund Studio
The Nelson Studio
Shaji Osato Studio

Satisfaction Is Included in the Price You Pay for

Updike Carbon Lump

Carbon Egg $9.50 a Ton Carbon Lump $10.50 a Ton

We do not sell you good coal alone, but include with it the assurance that Updike Carbon Lump will, we think, give you more fuel satisfaction and economy than any other coal at the price.

UPDIKE LUMBER & COAL CO. 4500 Dodge St. Omaha