

Three Iowans Win Berths on All-Conference "Big Ten" Team

Devine, Locke, Slater Placed On Star Eleven

Peden, Illinois, and Elliott of Wisconsin Selected As Halfbacks on 1921 Squad.

By WALTER ECKERSALL. Following a successful western conference football season, featured by the victory of Chicago over Princeton in one of the most important inter-sectional struggles ever played by a Big Ten eleven, and the defeat of Ohio State by Illinois in the biggest upset of the season...

While some of the elevens were outclassed, the customary close and hard fought struggles were played, and an undisputed title holder was not determined until Coach Zuppke's Illinois team put Ohio State out of consideration on the last Saturday of the playing season.

Many Angles to Consider. In selecting honorary, or "all-star" elevens, every angle of offensive and defensive football must be taken into consideration.

Coaches generally take their material into consideration before evolving plays. In other words, formations are planned for the candidates. Plays may be built around one or two players of exceptional ability.

In the development of an all-around attack a mythical eleven should be composed of men who are past masters in the art of advancing the ball, whether the close or open offense be used.

Backs Sure Gamers. Thus, such a team must have accurate forward passes and reliable receivers, a strong off tackle driving half back, and another who can run the ends or cut back in with dash and speed.

Such an attack would be worthless if it did not have a line capable of giving the necessary protection on all sorts of plays, whether delayed forward passes, split backs, or plays into the line.

These men should know the importance of holding their ground and never permit an opponent to break through and smash a play before it is formed.

Respect to Injured Stars. Before going into the personnel of the teams, certain players are deserving of mention because they were unable to show their true ability because of injuries.

Charles Carney of Illinois, unanimous choice of critics for an all-American flank position last season, failed to play true to form because of the knee injury in the Ohio State contest of 1920.

Aubrey Devine Unmatched. Aubrey Devine, leader of the championship Iowa eleven, is awarded the position of quarterback and made captain of the first honorary eleven.

The Iowa captain, while not a fast runner, has an excellent change of pace on his runs. When he is about to be tackled, he throws himself at an opponent and generally makes a yard or so.

"Fritz" Crisler, one of the best ends developed by Stagg in years, is placed at right end. The Maroon has been a factor in all Chicago's games, but his general play in the

Navy Cruises to 7 to 0 Victory Over Army Eleven

Conroy Plows Through Rival Line for Score

Koehler, Nebraska Boy, and King of Iowa, Big Factors In Middies' Triumph Over West Point.

New York, Nov. 26.—The battleships of the Navy eleven plowed through the heavy seas of the Polo grounds today, battered the Army's fortifications in the rain, captured the annual service football classic, 7 to 0, and took the lead in the series.

The Navy scrapped its airplanes on discovering early that dreadnaughts were more effective. It attacked with line plunges and end runs that resulted in an advance of 53 yards to a touchdown in the second period.

Barchet was the stellar battle cruiser in this advance and indeed throughout the game. From his own 44-yard line he circled end on a kick formation for 20 yards.

Conroy and Barchet then alternated in carrying the ball off tackle from a tandem formation until the former smashed over, followed by King's goal. The progress comprised 13 plays, during which the Navy earned first down four times.

Army Threatened Goal. Outrushed and outplayed in the line, Army threatened to tie late in the game as the result of the brilliance of French. Receiving a punt at his own 40-yard line, he ran it back 10 yards and followed this with a 23-yard run around his right end with interference provided by a double shift of the backs to the right before the ball was passed.

In two more plays he had put the ball 10 yards away from the Navy's goal, but was thrown for a five-yard loss in attempting to repeat the feat.

Here Hamilton, a substitute back, intercepted a forward pass and the threat of a tie score was averted. Hamilton was tackled as he grabbed the ball eight yards from his own goal, and although the Navy was realized off side, it kicked out of danger.

Army on Defensive. Navy had the Army on the defensive most of the game, twice having the ball within Army's 25-yard line in the second period, only to lose it. Most of the play in the third and fourth periods was in midfield.

The Army had one real scoring opportunity besides that which was lost with the interception of a forward pass in the fourth period. This was in the first quarter, when after its first kick off, it carried the ball 41 yards to the Navy's 33-yard line, where the Navy compelled the Army to resort to an attempt to score by a goal from placement.

Milligan failed, the ball going under the crossbar. The advance that culminated in this attempt was the only exhibition of offensive power by the Army until the flash toward the end of the game. Smythe started the thriller on the first line play, a 20-yard end run. French made one smash that gained nine yards and another that earned 11, but these gains were partly offset by a 15-yard penalty for holding.

On its own 20-yard line after the touchback due to Mulligan's unsuspecting kick from placement, the Navy had its first offensive play of the game to display its offense. After 13 plays it had the ball 22 yards from the Army goal as the first period ended, only to lose it on downs shortly after the start of the second quarter.

Two forward passes in Navy's territory were grounded during the attack, and the Navy stuck mostly thereafter to straight foot ball.

On the kick off after Navy's touchdown, Barchet ran the ball back 42 yards to midfield. Five more plays put the ball on the Army's 20-yard line and an attempt at a placement goal ended in loss of the slippery ball on a fumble.

In the third period the Navy had the ball in enemy territory only twice; one advance to the Army's 45-yard line that included a 15-yard end run by Barchet, was nullified by a penalty for holding and on another occasion the Navy lost the ball on a fumble at the Army's 43-yard line. The Army did not have the ball within the Navy's 45-yard line until a poor Navy punt gave it the ball 41 yards from the Navy's goal as the period ended.

The chance to profit thereby was lost by an Army fumble in the fourth period began Barchet made one small play of 7 yards in the last quarter, but the Army's defense was stiffened by substitutes. The Navy never got beyond the Army 40-yard line, nor did the Army reach a similar position in Navy territory until late in the quarter.

Trap Committee To Meet in N. Y. Lawmakers of Clay Target Sport Go Into Formal Session Next Thursday.

The third annual meeting of the general committee, the rule-making and governing body of the American Traps shooting association, will be held on December 1 and 2 at the Pennsylvania hotel, New York city, and even now the members of this board of control are on their way to New York, for there is some preliminary work to be done before the magistrates go into formal sessions.

This committee, which will doctor the rules and regulations of the great clay target sport, is composed of 10 members—the five members of the amateur committee and the executive committee, which has the same number. President, Elmer E. Shaner of Slippery Rock, Pa.; vice president, Tom A. Marshall of Chicago, Ill.; secretary, Stoney McMillin of New York, and treasurer, Tom A. Davis of New York, also have the right to sit in with this committee, so if all are present, 14 experts of the scattergun sport will answer the roll call.

The member of the general committee realizes there is much to be done before the 1922 traps shooting season opens and the time is short, for even now there are clubs on the Pacific coast and in the south that are merely waiting for this annual session to formulate new policies so they may open their registered target campaign.

After winning the undisputed championship of the western intercollegiate conference and the entire middle west, the University of Iowa team will appear as an opponent on Yale's schedule at New Haven next year. The formidable Hawkeye machine, however, will be robbed of much of its strength in 1922, for Capt. Aubrey Devine and his brother, Glen Devine, "Duke Slater, tackle; Leslie Belding, end; John Heldt, center, and other redoubtable linemen will be lost by graduation.

Lincoln Bowler Rolls High Game

Banks Shoots 610 in Mid-West Singles at Des Moines Meet.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 26.—E. Waite and G. Wolf of Denver went into the lead in the doubles event in the Mid-West Bowling tournament here this afternoon by shooting a score of 1,270. The score lacks 14 pins of equalling the association's record in that event.

W. Banks of Lincoln, Neb., shot a score of 610 in the singles, which led the field in today's shooting, but which barely puts him into the money.

Star Chicago, St. Louis and St. Paul five-man teams took the alleys tonight. Standings in the various events follow:

Nebraska's 1921 Football Team Was One of Best in History of University--Coaches Deserve Credit

Thanksgiving witnessed the dropping of the curtain on the grid sport and with it the completion of a season by one of Nebraska's best teams. Coach Dawson worked the Cornhusker machine into such shape that it has been lauded by some of the best critics in the country as a headliner among all teams of the nation.

The Nebraska team is one of the best in the country," said Walter Eckersall of Chicago when in Lincoln a few days ago. Eckersall, quarterback of the Chicago university team in 1903, '05 and '06, as well as all-American quarterback in 1905 and '06 and all-American end in 1904, is in a position to know. He has seen practically every team of note in the country this season.

"The Nebraska team is one of the best in the country," he states. "It ranks with the big three of the east, with the best in the west, and, I believe, is the strongest team ever seen at Nebraska. Iowa and Nebraska are about equal this season. A game between them would be an excellent match."

Dawson Deserves Credit. Such words of praise from one so well lettered in the grid sport cannot help but be gratifying to the University of Nebraska, the city of Lincoln and the staff which placed the Huskers on the ladder of fame during the past grid season. The Huskers themselves should feel very much elated at so much commendation.

Coach Dawson came to Nebraska not knowing just where he stood nor what foundation he had to open up with. He was forced to learn his men, his associates and the conditions under which he would be required to work.

The disconcerting influences which he was forced to fight and over which he triumphed places Coach Dawson high in the estimation of the Huskers whom he tutored through the victorious season.

Little has Coach Dawson to say except it be in the line of duty. His foot language is snappy, goes to the point and brings results. His method of handling men as a man has had its benevolent influences with the Husker squad. All tendencies to make light of the opening workouts were quickly taken out of the men when Coach Dawson started his action.

Assistant Coach Frank handling the backfield men performed wonders with his material. During the entire season he kept a spirit of rivalry brewing in the back garden of the two halfbacks.

Work on the line is to be credited in the main to Bill Day, captain of the 1920 Huskers, and assistant coach this fall. Bill's own recent practice with the Huskers enabled him to work with the men in a way that no other coach could reach them, captain and fellow player of several members this season.

The line of heavies, under Day's instruction, became a charging machine of beef that threatened to crush all in its way or, on the other hand, became a stone wall for defense.

Schulte Was Great Help. Coach H. F. Schulte, although little mentioned throughout the football season, worked constantly with the line, especially during the illness of Assistant Coach Bill Day. Schulte's work aided materially in developing the line which went into action against Pitt. Others who worked with the team were Ray Elliott, Lum Doyle, Zac Hertzberger and numerous former Husker players.

Rounding out a season with one defeat, that at the hands of Notre Dame, Nebraska has reason to feel proud of its team. Only 17 points were scored against the Huskers this season and while the Nebraskais tallied 277 points. The record:

Swat King Asks $60,000 Salary

Yankee Winners Look Favorably on Ruth's Wage Demand for Next Year.

New York, Nov. 26.—Babe Ruth has asked the owners of the New York Yankees to pay him a salary of $60,000 next season.

And more than this, it is said that Colonel T. J. Huston and Jake Ruppert look favorably on the king of swat's demand. Ruth drew $30,000 in the season just passed, but if his new request is granted it will be the biggest salary drawn by a man connected with base ball.

At present Commissioner Landis is paid $42,500, Ban Johnson, American league president, gets $30,000 and Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker are said to draw $20,000.

President Harding, with $75,000, tops Ruth's demand by a close margin, while the vice president of the United States gets a salary $12,000.

The Yankees made more money last year than any club since organized base ball was launched and Ruth is said to have been largely responsible. He also brought in many an extra dollar for the Yankees' seven opponents.

It is thought possible that if Ruth sticks to his demand the New York club may ask other American league clubs to chip in a few thousand shares.

Dartmouth Trims Georgia Eleven

Forward Pass, Calder to Robertson, for 50 Yards Nets Touchdown.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 26.—Dartmouth triumphed over Georgia university's gridiron warriors, 7 to 0, today in a post-season game.

The Green team outplayed the Georgians in straight foot ball, but were never able to sustain their attack long enough to reach the goal by rushing.

Dartmouth's score came when on their own 37-yard line and with the second period almost over, they resorted to aerial attack. With one minute to go and on the fourth down, Calder shot the ball back to Robertson, who hurled it down the field almost 50 yards.

Lynch snatched the pigskin and raced across, Neidinger kicked goal.

The game was played under a leaden sky, with a cold, misty rain.

Lombard Offers to Play Whittier Team

Galesburg, Ill., Nov. 26.—Lombard college, after a successful football season, last night, through Coach Paul Schister, telegraphed Whittier college at San Diego, Cal., offering to meet the Whittier eleven there on December 15.

The Lombard team has scored 442 points in 491 minutes of play this season.

Los Angeles, Nov. 26.—Esek Perry, coach of the Whittier college football team, holders of the southern California title, when informed of the offer of the Lombard college eleven to meet the Whittier team December 15, said that while no message had as yet been received from the eastern institution, he believed Whittier would be glad to accept the invitation of the Lombard team.

Oregon Defeated by California Eleven

Pasadena, Cal., Nov. 26.—The University of Southern California football team defeated Oregon Agricultural college here today, 7 to 0.

The only score was made in the third period when the southern California team smashed their way over, Green carrying the ball on a double pass. Evans kicked the goal.

Walnut Hill Team Loses to Gretna Cagers by 27 to 8

Gretna town team defeated the Walnut Hill cagers of Omaha at Gretna Friday by a score of 27 to 8.

The locals outplayed their opponents in the first half and were on the long end of a 6 to 5 score when it ended.

The Walnut Hill team is seeking games with out-of-town teams. C. W. Montague, 706 South Thirtieth street, is manager of the team.

Pal Moore Has New Boss.

New York, Nov. 26.—Pal Moore, the Memphis bantam, has changed managers and his new guide has sent out a flood of literature roasting the other bantams for not wanting to meet Moore in the ring.

Moore would be a great fighter if it were not for one fact—he slips instead of punches.

France Honors Jockey O'Neill

Frank O'Neill, the American jockey under engagement to A. K. Macomber, has been made a chevalier of the Agricultural Order of Merit of the French government.

Wesleyan and Wayne To Settle Question of Conference Title

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 26.—Arrangements were completed today whereby Wesleyan university and Wayne Normal school, undefeated football elevens in the Nebraska intercollegiate association, will settle the question of the championship with a game on Nebraska university field next Saturday.

Bo' McMillin Races 86 Yards

Columbus, O., Nov. 26.—"Bo' McMillin, Centre college all-American quarterback, an "Eddie" Casey, Harvard, all-American halfback, upheld their gridiron traditions today by piloting to a 16 to 0 victory a "Rainbow" team composed of former star gridiron players from a score of universities and colleges.

Over a "starback" team composed of Ohio State university stars at Ohio field. Players donated their services and proceeds went to local charities.

The little Centre quarterback, circled the end, wriggled his way through opposing tackles across the field and in an 86-yard dash, planted the oval behind the goal. This play had preceded in the first quarter by another touchdown by Casey, who ran 37 yards.

Bo' McMillin May Coach at Dallas

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 26.—"Bo' McMillin, quarterback and captain of the Centre college eleven, will coach the Dallas university football team next year, if what is said to be the most attractive offer ever made to a youthful gridiron star is accepted.

McMillin has been offered $7,000, according to officials of the university. University authorities are expecting a favorable reply.

Des Moines Tigers Beat Haskell, 24 to 7

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 26.—In a slow game Des Moines university defeated the Haskell Indians here today, 24 to 7.

The Iowans had a style of line plunging that seemed to demoralize the Indians. Most of their gains were made in this way.

Cornell Wins Soccer Game

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—Cornell defeated the University of Pennsylvania in a soccer game here today, 4 to 1.
