

Juryman in Neal Trial Accused Of Misconduct

Man Said to Have Discussed Trial Outside of Court— Judge Halts Proceedings.

Auburn, Neb., Nov. 26.—(Special.)—Ten days of strenuous, tense work in district court in the trial of Mrs. Lucy Neal, charged with the murder of her husband, Ben Neal, went for nothing when District Judge Raper today entered a finding that, because of the misconduct of one of the jurors, Russ Rozean, a mistrial has resulted and the whole case must be tried over again.

Rozean is a citizen of Auburn, a man of means, and has stood well in the community. He is a thresherman. Yesterday reports came to the judge that Rozean, in spite of the daily admonitions of the court to the jurors, had discussed the case outside the court room.

Mistrial Announced.

This morning court was expected to convene at 8:30 for what, it was believed, would be the final day of the long trial. Instead of the trial, there was a conference of the judge and attorneys for the state and defense behind closed doors. Rozean was summoned before this body, as were other witnesses. The court room, which had been crowded since 7 this morning, was in a buzz of conversation as the hours passed.

Just before noon the conference ended. Judge Raper summoned the jurors to their box and stated that a mistrial had resulted because of the conduct of Rozean on two occasions.

The judge stated that on November 24, Rozean, in a conversation with Cyrus Milam, a thresherman, the case near should have been brought and that the county had been put to needless expense and Mrs. Neal would not be convicted. On November 21, the court stated, Rozean made statements regarding the case to Mrs. Milam.

Immediately after the conclusion of the judge's finding and dismissal of the jury, the defense entered a motion that the trial proceed with 11 jurors.

Judge Raper answered this with a wave of the hand toward the jury and this remark:

"Gentlemen, you're excused." Then he called upon Prosecuting Attorney Armstrong to institute contempt proceedings against Rozean, the offending juror.

The defense asked for an immediate retrial. It was indicated this might be some time during the December holidays.

Mrs. Neal Near Tears.

Rozean's face did not change expression as he sat in the jury box. Mrs. Neal and her daughter, Ava, who had been in the room since 8:30, seemed near tears. The long ordeal which they thought nearly ended, all had been in vain.

Mistrial Has Cost the County and the Defense Thousands of Dollars.

The community is in a furore over the amazing denouement of the case.

Jack Atkinson Plans Long Airplane Flight

Jack Atkinson, Omaha aviator, will hop off Ak-Sar-Ben field next Wednesday morning on the first leg of a 4,500-mile flight in his Lincoln Standard tourabout airplane, he announced yesterday. He will be accompanied by Lester Baker, mechanic.

He will fly to Kansas City, St. Louis, Louisville and finally to Jacksonville, Fla., and back to Omaha. He will make many side flights and will investigate flying conditions throughout the south with a view to establishing a regular plane line between here and Florida.

He will carry a letter from Mayor Dahlman to the mayor of Jacksonville. The Aero club of Omaha, Chamber of Commerce of Omaha and Nebraska Aircraft corporation, Lincoln, have endorsed the flight.

The ship in which he will go is the same one in which he crossed the continental divide and circled Pike's peak.

Husband Says Spouse Wrote, But Refused to Come Home

Her husband twitted her that he had married her just because he had set out to do so, and nagged her continually, Kathleen M. Hayes alleged in a divorce petition she filed in district court recently.

But yesterday the husband, Francis A. Hayes, was granted a decree of absolute divorce from her by District Judge Leslie, on his answer and cross petition for divorce.

The husband said that while he lived in Lancaster county, his wife came to Omaha and taught school. But when school closed in June she neglected to return home, being content to fulfill her marital duties by mail.

400 Bandits Battle Buenos Aires Marines

Buenos Aires, Nov. 26.—(By The Associated Press.)—Four hundred well armed bandits entrenched in the village of Paso Ibanez, in the state of Santa Cruz, repulsed an attack by the marines landed from the cruiser Almirante Brown, according to belated dispatches received here. A number of the bandits and marines were killed or wounded during the engagement, in which the attackers used machine guns.

The bandits hold prisoners in the village a number of the residents of the region, including English ranchers and S. J. MacBey, manager of the Armour packing plant near the town of Santa Cruz.

Government reinforcements arrived on a transport at Rio Gallegos yesterday, but that point is so far from Paso Ibanez that it is feared a successful attempt to rescue the prisoners will be impossible for several days.

Cosgrove Victim Of Times, Pastor Says at Funeral

"Jimmy" Inherently Honest And Generous, Asserts Early Acquaintance—Many Eyes Moist at Services.

"James Cosgrove was a victim of the times; of circumstances. Condemn him if you will, but remember God is a just God."

The gathering of 250 persons at St. Cecilia's cathedral yesterday, as Rev. James A. Aughney pronounced these words in his funeral sermon for "Jimmy" Cosgrove.

Inherently Honest.

Rev. Mr. Aughney, who was an early acquaintance of "Jimmy's," delivered a strong sermon. He pointed out that "Jimmy" had received good religious training, that he was forced down by influences of the time and that he was inherently honest and generous.

Short services were held at the home of the mother, Mrs. Margaret Cosgrove, 4330 I-ard street. So large was the crowd that fully half were unable to gain entrance into the home.

Relatives Follow Casket.

"Jimmy's" widow, his mother and little sister, Helen Clare, and his two brothers and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Max Cosgrove and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Cosgrove, and a number of other relatives, followed the casket from the cathedral at the close of the services.

Palbearers were: Frank Kane, Robert Glasgow, Ray Wilson, William Fox, Wylie Compton and Joseph Burial was in the Holy Sepulcher cemetery.

President Expected To Retain Gov. Reily

Washington, Nov. 26.—Governor E. Mont Reily of Porto Rico, who arrived in Washington several days ago to make a report to President Harding on the present involved political situation in Porto Rico, took luncheon with the president at the White House yesterday and made an informal report.

After the conference it was learned that the president feels a great confidence in Governor Reily as when he appointed him to his present post, and no doubt was expressed that he would return to Porto Rico, in spite of the opposition of certain political factions to him.

Students to Sell Pencils to Build Animal Shelter

Junior Humane League of Nebraska Humane Society Sponsors Campaign Among School Children.

"A million pencils" is the campaign slogan of the boys and girls who will participate in a salesmanship contest, beginning December 1, under the auspices of the Junior Humane League of the Nebraska Humane Society.

The purpose of the campaign is to raise funds for erecting and equipping an animal shelter and hospital on the property recently purchased at Twenty-first and I-ard streets. The shelter will be a memorial to the boys and girls of the state.

Must Join League.

All pupils in the sixth, seventh, eighth and high school grades of Omaha and Nebraska are eligible to enter the contest and compete for prizes. The only condition is that contestants sign application cards for membership in the Junior Humane League.

Membership is free and cards may be obtained by applying at the office of the Nebraska Humane Society or by telephoning Douglas 5341.

Many Prizes Offered.

Awards and prizes will be given to contestants in the following manner: To the salesman who brings in the first order. To each contestant who sells six boxes or 72 pencils. To the one who sells the greatest number of pencils during the month of December. To the one who sells the first 500. To the one who sells the first 1,000. Each month also at the close of the campaign in April, additional prizes and awards will be given.

Among the prizes being considered are: A registered airplane for Boston building, a bicycle, a Boy Scout suit, a Camp Fire Girls' suit, sweater, wrist watch, moving picture machine, athletic equipment and cash prizes.

But One Month Left to Reinstate Insurance

Just one month is left in which ex-service men may reinstate their government insurance if it has lapsed. They cannot reinstate it after December 31, 1921.

A campaign is being started to urge them to grasp this final opportunity. Employers are being asked to urge their ex-service employees to reinstate their insurance before it will start December 5.

Ninetyfour per cent of the cash value of most of the government insurance policies may be borrowed after the first year.

Men wishing to reinstate their insurance may meet an insurance representative of the United States Veterans' bureau at the Army building, Fifteenth and Dodge streets, during "insurance week." Inquiries addressed to the United States Veterans' bureau, 701 Woodmen of the World building, will receive attention.

Canada's Export Values Greater Than Imports

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—The value of Canada's exports during the year ending October 31, was greater than her imports, and both branches showed a decline compared with the preceding 12 months, as shown in a summary of trade given out by the dominion bureau of statistics.

Total exports for the period amounted to $941,566,435, while imports were $859,626,267. The value of the dominion's imports from the United States exceeded, however, her exports across the border, imports being $606,957,273, and exports, $392,056,012.

Rancher Kills Child For Refusal to Eat

Colorado Springs, Colo., Nov. 26.—Refusal of Loraine Howard Sager II to eat his dinner last Sunday cost him his life, according to evidence introduced at a coroner's inquest here yesterday. Death was directly due to violence at the hands of John Book, a rancher living near Rush, Colo., the jury found.

The baby left in the care of Mrs. Mrs. Book by its mother, a Nevada school teacher, was beaten with a razor strop and caught by the throat and shaken, in an attempt to force him to eat. Book admitted on the witness stand. Physicians who examined the body said that the choking possibly caused rupture of a blood vessel in the brain.

When the baby's father, an overseas veteran, broken down in health, entered a federal vocational training institution in Milwaukee a year ago, he took her child with the Books, paying them $30 a month from her salary as a school teacher for his care.
