

New Move Made By Congressman To Oust Landis

Representative Offers Amendment to Judicial Bill, Designed to Force Judge To Quit Base Ball Job.

Washington, Dec. 10.—A new move to force Federal Judge K. M. Landis of Chicago to quit the bench or give up his base ball job precipitated a lively exchange in the house yesterday between Representative Mann of Illinois and Representative Moore of Virginia.

Defends Taft and White.

Mr. Moore replied that Chief Justice Taft was concluding his work as an arbitrator at the time he was appointed to the supreme court and declared that Chief Justice White "was engaged in the discharge of a great public duty" when he acted as arbitrator in the Nicaraguan and Costa Rican disputes.

Should Preserve Dignity.

"I will go very far to prevent judges turning away from their judicial work to engage in any other work," replied Mr. Moore. "I will take the chance of nobly preventing the judge from doing something in some particular case that might be beneficial. I think the important thing is to preserve the dignity, as well as the integrity, of the judiciary and put it as far as possible beyond suspicion, so far as profit is concerned."

"If there is any man in this world who, as a judge, is beyond suspicion of favoritism it is Judge Landis," said Mr. Mann.

"I have not mentioned Judge Landis," interrupted Mr. Moore. "Oh, no," replied Mr. Mann. "In what I say I am not afraid to get down to brass tacks."

French Chamber Votes For Increase in Navy

Paris, Dec. 9.—(By A. P.)—The chamber of deputies adopted unanimously the measure providing for the building of three light cruisers, six destroyers, 12 torpedo boats and 12 submarines during the period from 1922 to 1925. Credits voted during the war for the construction of four battle cruisers of the Normandie type, which project was abandoned, will be used for the construction. The program calls for the expenditure of 160,000,000 francs in 1922, 334,000,000 in 1923, 190,000,000 in 1924 and 71,000,000 in 1925.

Voting on the budget of the ministry of war was completed by the chamber. This budget, Minister of Finance Doumer said, after the last item was adopted, amounts to "a few millions over 4,000,000,000 francs." It was pointed out by Minister of War Barthou that the 1922 war budget shows a decrease of $50,000,000 francs as compared with that of 1921.

Defense Plan Would Link Great Industries of Nation

New York, Dec. 10.—A plan of national defense linking the nation's great industrial establishments and universities with the War department through creation of a vast civilian organization, was described to the American Society of Mechanical Engineers yesterday by Guy E. Tripp, chairman of the board of the Westinghouse company. Mr. Tripp, who was a brigadier general in the war, attached to the ordnance division, advocated disarmament which, he said, would promote real preparedness for defense as distinguished from preparedness for offensive action.

A large, closely knitted organization for defense only, he said, would make the country impregnable against attack without wasting wealth in a large naval and military establishment.

Omaha Burglar Writes Poetry While in Jail

"Always Blamed on Me" is the title of one poem written by Frank "Monk" Trummer during idle moments in the county jail. Deputy sheriffs say Trummer dashes out poems by the ream.

"Always Blamed on Me" mentions District Judge Troup, who sentenced Trummer to 1 to 5 years in the penitentiary for breaking into the Merriam-Smith-Bradley mail order house.

Man Who Attempted To Capture Bergdoll Asks Legion for Aid

New York, Dec. 10.—Charles O. Naes, former A. E. F. sergeant, who, with Sergt. Frank Semauer, tried to capture Grover C. Bergdoll, draft evader, in Eberbach, Baden, and was imprisoned by the German authorities for two and a half months, applied for aid at American Legion headquarters yesterday. He said he his return and unless he obtained had been unable to find work since work he feared his wife and himself would be put out of their home. Even his efforts to sell a police dog he brought from Germany, he declared, had been futile.

Naes said he served in the army from 1914 to 1920 and later went into civilian service in the occupied area of Germany. He was sentenced to two and a half years in prison as a result of the Bergdoll incident, but after serving less than three months, his release was obtained through the United States government.

U. S. Glove Makers Ask for Protection

New York Manufacturer Declares German Competition Has Ruined Trade Here.

Washington, Dec. 10.—German competition has caused a complete shutting down of every American plant which, during the war, began the manufacture of suede cotton gloves, Lucius Littauer of New York city, glove manufacturer, informed the senate finance committee yesterday. Twenty thousand employees of the industry, in which has been invested about $7,000,000, are out of work and are awaiting action by congress on the pending tariff bill, Mr. Littauer said.

Mr. Littauer declared that merchants throughout the United States not only have entirely stopped purchasing American-made suede gloves but are making excessive profits on the German product. He exhibited recent advertisements of department stores in various cities showing that prices ranging from 70 cents to $1.15 per pair are being asked for gloves which, he said, should sell for about 50 cents per pair.

In order to exist at all, Mr. Littauer said, the industry in this country should be protected by a duty of at least 50 per cent. ad valorem. American valuation, instead of 40 per cent as in the Fordney bill. The present duty under the Underwood act is 35 per cent, foreign valuation.

When Dr. F. A. Nelson, a druggist at Fortieth and Cuming streets, chased Walter Ross, 15, 366 North Fortieth street, out from behind the soda fountain in the store September 24, Ross struck him in the eye, breaking his glasses and cutting a gash beside his eye, he testified in juvenile court yesterday.

Walter was found recently on a farm near Calhoun. He informed the judge that, after the drug store clash, he went to California for a while. He was sent to Riverview home for an indefinite time.
