HOW to make a dollar do the work of two. That is a problem which Christmas shoppers are trying to work out. It is really a very simple thing to do if you know how to spend your money.

Miss Jessie Millard has solved the problem. She is giving Nebraska Humane society pencils to her friends, thereby remembering them in the "write" way, at the same time contributing to the fund which will build a headquarters for the humane society in Omaha.

The junior members of the humane society are engaged in a pencil selling contest which will close next April. The pencils sell for ten cents apiece or one dollar a dozen. The organization hopes to sell a million pencils in Nebraska.

Miss Millard's pencil gift is quite elaborate, being an entire dozen in each case. Dainty white tissue paper and holiday ribbons hold these bright yellow utilities on which are inscribed the name of the society. No more "borrowing" pencils among her friends, until the dozen are gone at least.

Clark-Fitzgerald

Miss Lenor S. Fitzgerald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald, and Clarence L. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Clark of Lincoln, were married Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, the Rev. A. S. Buell of Trinity Methodist church officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Clark will make their home in Lincoln.

Children's Theater

Owing to the Christmas holidays, no play will be given at the Children's theater until the week following Christmas, when on December 28, at 4 p. m., "King Midas, or the Golden Touch," will be presented. Followed by a play in the holiday spirit on Saturday, December 31.

Miss Mary Wallace who will return to Omaha January 1, from the east, where she has been studying the theater, has sent Miss Marguerite Beckman, director of the Children's theater here, a program of the "Young People's Theater" in New York. Miss Albert, the director there, is a personal friend of Miss Beckman.

University Art Exhibit

The exhibits of work by fine arts students at the University of Omaha held Thursday afternoon at the school was such a success that it was repeated Friday afternoon. Great interest was shown in the Japanese prints, water colors and handicraft done by the 56 students of the department. Five paintings by Mrs. Alfred O. Peterson were shown. Miss Myrtle Sorenson, a student, had a collection of leather pocketbooks and hand-made jewelry on exhibit. Mrs. Augusta B. Knight is director.

For Christmas Week

More parties have been added to the Christmas calendar. Mrs. F. A. Nash will give a tea dance during the holidays for her son, Frederick, and her daughter, Miss Emma Nash. Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Bradford are entertaining on New Year's day at a tea for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allison. Mrs. Allison was formerly Miss Dorothy Kiplinger.

Mrs. Charles Allison and Mrs. Harkness Kountze will be honor guests at a tea given by Miss Dorothy Judson at her home.

Home From Welleney

Four Welleney girls arrived Friday morning for their vacation, the Messes Dorothy Ester, Eliza Marsh, Frances Patton and Virginia Leusser. Miss Katherine Denny arrives Friday morning.

Edin School Paper

Miss Charlotte Denny has recently been elected editor-in-chief of "The Triangle," the Brownell Hall paper, which is issued each semester by a student board.

McFarlane Lecture

Ida Kruse McFarlane will speak at 3 o'clock at the Orchard-Wilhelm store Saturday on Wills, Cather's books, "O Pioneers" and "My Antonia," and Dorothy Canfield's "The Brimming Cup."

White Christmas Program

On Friday evening, December 23, the membership of the Young Women's Christian association and friends are requested to be present at the central building to celebrate a "white Christmas." Heretofore the club girls only have had the privilege of preparing boxes and baskets for the less fortunate people of Omaha. This year this joyful privilege is extended to the entire membership of the association. Gifts of clothing, toys, canned goods, fruit, etc., may be left at the association building any day during the week. Each package should be wrapped in white paper with the description of the contents on the outside of the package. At 8 o'clock, Friday evening a

Camp Fire Girls

All dresses for the Associated Charities must be at Campfire headquarters by Wednesday of this week so they may be distributed before Christmas.

A new Campfire was organized Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. V. Mathews, who is the guardian. They chose the name "Batoca," which means "banded together for a cause." The members are Florence Tamminson, Dorothea Goodwin, Ellen Lynch, Marie Conoyer, Margaret Shepard, Eleanor Tamminson and Edith Christensen.

The Tatapochon group turned in several attractive dresses for the Associated Charities.

The Lexie group, with Mrs. Colin McKenzie, guardian, are making popcorn balls for the Riverview home, besides providing a Christmas dinner for a family.

A number of Campfire groups are providing Christmas dinners for families—the Oecoca, Yallani, Minnehaha, Aninina groups and others.

The Minnehaha group held a fancy work sale at Buffet's store in Dundee Saturday, the proceeds of which will care for a poor family.

Miss Lucile Randell's group held an outdoor ceremonial Saturday, at which time Lucile Gleason took her desire.

Pretty Girls Take Part in Vassar Style Show

Invitations have been sent out this week for the Vassar club dance, to be given December 27 at the Burgess-Nash tea room for the Vassar Endowment fund. The charge of $3 a couple covers the entire evening's entertainment. Mrs. Warren Blackwell is in charge of the invitations and anyone desiring extra tickets, or tickets for themselves, can obtain them through Mrs. Blackwell.

Twenty-five of Omaha's attractive young matrons and girls are to take part in the style show, to be given at the dance. The models will wear costumes furnished by Burgess-Nash company and they will include every kind of style, evening gowns and wraps, street clothes, riding habits, bathing suits, sport clothes, all in the latest modes. The committee in charge of the style show is Mrs. Barton Millard, Mrs. Herbert French, Mrs. Kenneth Norton and Miss Erna Reed, and those who will take part in it are the Mesdames Lawrence Brinker, Charles Allison, Charles Burgess, Isaac Carpenter, Jr., Fred Daugherty, Bob Garrett, Ware Hall, Harkness Kountze, Louis Meyers, Harold Pritchett, Jack Summers, Allan Tukey, Jack Webster; the
