

Mother Wraps Babies' Feet in Pieces of Cloth

If They Get Shoes Through The Bee Fund They Can Go to Church Xmas Party.

"My three little children, 5, 3 and 1 1/2, years old have no shoes. I wrap their little feet up in old pieces of cloth to keep them warm when they walk around the room where we live," writes Mrs. J.

"If I can only get shoes for them I will take them to a Christmas tree entertainment at a church and they will get a few little presents to make their little hearts glad. It takes so little to make them happy."

This is but a typical appeal that comes to The Bee's Free Shoe Fund. There are so many little children, wretchedly poor, in this city.

Perhaps reading this is your call to do something for them. Will you heed the call?

Address contributions and make checks payable to "The Bee's Shoe Fund." Every penny given goes to buy shoes for such very needy little waifs.

Kirschbraun & Sons company employees gave $18.50 to the fund. This was incorrectly printed in Tuesday evening's list as $13.50.

Cheer in Store For Needy Here

Christmas Plans Most Elaborate on Record—Many Dinners to Be Served.

The sudden cold weather in Omaha has made many homes cold and dreary, even in the spirit of Christmas. This season has found many more men without employment than at any time in the history of the city, charitable organizations say.

But the cold snap has warmed the hearts of the more fortunate, who are contributing generously to the needy, it is reported.

Requests for coal have nearly swamped those organizations which have been able to provide fuel.

Holiday plans for the poor have not been confined to the usual Christmas tree for the kiddies. This year a concert will be held at the Auditorium, and candy, fruit and nuts will be distributed among the children Saturday night.

At the Volunteers of America hall, 114 North Fifteenth street, Governor S. R. McKelvie will distribute 500 baskets of provisions to the needy.

At the Salvation Army Industrial home, 1110 Dodge street, and at the Army Rescue home, 2008 Sherman avenue, extensive preparations have been made to make the season a memorable one for unfortunates.

Race With Death Delayed By Airplane Crash Here

George W. Bonnett, United States Marine, stationed on the island of Guam, reached Omaha yesterday on the last leg of his long journey to Des Moines, where his mother is seriously ill.

An airplane from the capitol city flew from Des Moines to Omaha to rush him on the final lap to his mother's bedside but in taking off at Ak-Sar-Ben field a heavy crust of ice on the machine caused it to crash. Bonnett left last night for Des Moines by train.

2 Women and Another Man Are Sought in Fog Murder
