

Harvey and Colby Join in Love Feast at Club Dinner

Ambassador to Britain and Former Secretary of State Lay Aside Differences at London Function.

By The Associated Press.
London, Dec. 22.—Ambassador George Harvey and Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state under President Wilson, put aside their political differences and faced each other over the loving cup and twitted one another good-humoredly at the dinner last night of the Knights of the Round Table club. Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis also participated in the exchange of witty shafts with the ambassador.

Colonel George Harvey

Bainbridge Colby

With some show of feeling, Mr. Colby replied to the ambassador's Pilgrim dinner allusion to the "too proud to fight" slogan, saying that the army sent to France constituted the best testimony of the accuracy of that slogan.

There is no better American than Harvey in his progress in his career and sustained his steps need no retracing.

Mr. Harvey assured his auditors that he had not come to the banquet to dictate. The English, he said, frequently expressed appreciation for what America did for them in the war.

Mr. Colby concluded with a compliment to the ambassador, declaring: "There is no better American than Harvey in his progress in his career and sustained his steps need no retracing."

Sir Ernest Wild said: "If America would only be content not to be dictatorial, she can dictate the future of the world."

Mr. Harvey assured his auditors that he had not come to the banquet to dictate. The English, he said, frequently expressed appreciation for what America did for them in the war.

Then began the toasts at the dinner, the ambassador surmising that had Mr. Colby continued in his high office, "I doubt if I would have been here tonight."

Says Lewis Lucky.
With a smile at Mr. Lewis he added: "And had my name been approved for some post, although I haven't a doubt that the whip of the senate would have prevented confirmation of my appointment." He observed that of the two men Mr. Lewis was the luckier, as he was retained in a gubernatorial campaign "by only half a million votes. Of course he had only one state to count on while Colby, with the whole country to pick from, was retired by 7,000,000."

The Americans present were elected unanimously to membership in the ancient club. J. P. O'Connor, presented as "Haglo-Saxen people" announced his intention of going to the United States to ask the Irish not to sow discord between the English-speaking peoples.

Church Choirs of Norfolk Sing Carols Under Big Tree

Norfolk, Neb., Dec. 22.—(Special Telegram.)—A 40-foot Christmas tree, decorated and illuminated, adorns Norfolk's busiest business section. Commencing tonight, choirs from all churches, both Catholic and Protestant, are joining together under the tree and singing hymns and Christmas carols in a city-wide effort to bring back some of the old-time Christmas spirit to this community. The public celebration will continue until next week and is fostered by the Rotary club.

Arrested at Prison Gates

Lincoln, Dec. 22.—(Special.)—R. T. Ritchie, negro, was arrested at the gates of the Nebraska penitentiary by Deputy United States Marshal J. C. McClung on a charge of using a forged government obligation. Ritchie had been serving a sentence for robbery in the Nebraska prison.

Jewel, Flower, Color Symbols for Today

By MILDRED MARSHALL.
Jet, emblematic of sorrow, is today's talismanic gem. The ancients believed that it protected its wearer from the causes of sorrow, it worn against the flesh. Like the pearl, jet loses its lustre if not worn frequently.

For those born on some anniversary of this day the opal is the natal stone. It brings to them the promise of great world possessions and a life of ease and luxury.

Today's fortunate color is yellow, and to the women who wear it, it signifies unexpected happiness.

The flower for today is the purple hyacinth—the ancients believed that its presence in a house drove away sorrow.

2 Bandits Slain In Attempt to Hold Up Store

Clerk Wounded by Stray Bullet in Gun Battle Between Robbers and Deputies.

Casper, Wyo., Dec. 22.—Two unidentified robbers, one believed to be J. S. Brown, were killed here last night when they attempted to hold up a store a few blocks from the business section.

The sheriff's office had been informed of the possibility of the attempted holdup a few minutes before it occurred and three deputies were rushed to the store in cars.

Don Their Marks.
A few minutes later two men, after putting on masks just outside the store, stepped in and forced M. L. Small, the owner, and his assistant to hold up their hands.

The robbers then followed the assistant into the rear of the store. Here they encountered two deputies and, instead of surrendering, one robber opened fire, the deputies replying.

Clerk Is Wounded.
The other robber ran, encountering a third deputy just outside the store, who shot and killed him as he attempted to escape.

The other robber, who was wounded, died after being placed in a hospital.

Liquor Charge Dropped.
Beatrice, Neb., Dec. 22.—(Special.)—The case of the state against Frank Kolekosi, local grocer, charged with selling vanilla extract for beverage purposes, was dismissed in Judge Ellis' court for lack of evidence.

Brakeman Is Held Up While Switching Train In Table Rock Yards

Defense Will Finish Testimony After Christmas; Barricade To Be Exhibited.

Pawnee City, Neb., Dec. 22.—(Special Telegram.)—Brakeman Craigh of Burlington passenger train No. 23 was held up in the Table Rock yards last night by a masked hand and robbed of his watch. When Craigh resisted, the robber fired at him and the bullet passed through Craigh's coat, just under the arm, missing the flesh. The watch was found later where the robber had dropped it in his flight.

It is necessary for No. 20 to do considerable switching in order to get away towards Pawnee City. Craigh had gone ahead of the train to throw a switch when he was confronted by a man with a gun. He was ordered to throw open his coat, which he did. As the burglar reached for his watch Craigh swung his fist and hit the hand holding the gun. The gun exploded, the bullet piercing Craigh's coat.

The robber ran, taking Craigh's watch with him. The engineer ran back to the depot and gathered a crowd and a search was made, but no one was found.

The watch was found near the spot where the holdup took place. The curve in the track made it possible for the bandit to act outside of the headlights.

Bomb Suspect Held in Warsaw May Be Returned to U.S. Soon

Warsaw, Dec. 22.—(By A. P.)—It was considered quite possible yesterday that the necessary procedure to take Wolfe Lindenfeld, alias William Linde, back to America soon would be begun. State Concludes In Farm Murder

Defense Will Finish Testimony After Christmas; Barricade To Be Exhibited.

The state rested yesterday in the Moore murder trial.

The defense will begin testimony this morning, and J. J. Hess, attorney for Moore, says not more than two days will be consumed. Court will probably adjourn Friday night until after Christmas, when attorneys will make their arguments to the jury, consuming not more than a day.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Murry, parents of the murdered railway man, were in the court room today for the first time since the trial began.

Attorney Hess said he might introduce some new witnesses by that all who had testified in the Eva King case would be recalled, including the two high school boys who told of making the famous "barricade" a year or more ago. The alleged "barricade" will go to the jury room as one of the state's exhibits, with a truckload of other stuff used in the former trial.

Priest's Residence Looted of Papers

Fur Overcoat Owned by Rev. Father Flanagan, Holy Angels Parish, Stolen.

Valuable papers were stolen by burglars from Rev. P. A. Flanagan of Holy Angels parish, Twenty-eighth and Fowler streets, Wednesday night. The prowlers entered through an unlocked window to Father Flanagan's home office, 2716 Fowler avenue, and ransacked every room.

The stolen papers consisted mainly of promissory notes, according to a detective's report. The burglars also stole a fur-lined overcoat valued at $250, belonging to Father Flanagan, and $5 from Father John D. Goergen, assistant pastor of Holy Angels parish.

The priests found their clothes in a heap downstairs yesterday morning. Peanuts have been raised successfully in Mesopotamia by English experimenters.
