Harding Boosts Waterway Route at Farm Meet

Declares Before National Farm Congress Feasibility of Lakes-to-Sea Project Unquestioned.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Feasibility of the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterway project "is unquestioned," President Harding declared today before the national farm conference.

"Feasibility Unquestioned."

Development of a thorough code of law and business procedure...

Turning to the subject of transportation the president said that "if broad visioned statesmanship shall establish a sound policy toward transportation, the present crisis will be regarded as a piece of good fortune to the nation."

Bryan Ready to Give Democrats His Leadership

Political Pot Starts Boiling as Former Nebraskan Reaches Capital With Drafts of Issues.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Unmistakable harbingers of campaigning about to begin appeared on the political horizon today.

Democratic chiefs, including James M. Cox, last year's standard bearer, and Joseph P. Tumulty, it became known, will hold a big pow-wow at Trail's End, Cox's home near Dayton, Wednesday night.

Evidence began to accumulate, indicating that the democrats are planning a concentrated drive to wrest control of Ohio, President Harding's home state, from republicans.

Mr. Bryan, no resident and voter of Miami, Fla., spent the day at the senate conferring with democratic leaders.

Defends Agrarian Bloc.

"I see down east a good deal of criticism of what is called the 'agrarian bloc.' For 30 years, to my knowledge, there has been a 'Wall Street bloc,' worked secretly, while the agricultural bloc operated openly.

Light Plant Burns at Wood Lake; Loss $5,000

Wood Lake, Neb., Jan. 23.—(Special)—The power plant of the Wood Lake Electric company was destroyed by fire early this morning.

The fire started in the boiler room, and spread to the main building, which contained the plant.

The fire was extinguished by the local fire department, but the damage was estimated at $5,000 and was not covered by insurance.

Opinion Taken on Phone Plant to End Strike

Bloomfield, Neb., Jan. 23.—(Special)—A settlement of the Bloomfield telephone strike is now probable.

J. H. Gesler, a heavy stockholder in the Union Telephone company, and A. C. Grace, manager of the local exchange for the past two years, are on a deal for the plant and, if it is secured, they will ask the state railway commission for permission to put the old rates into effect.

A mass meeting will be called in the near future and patrons given a chance to express themselves.

It is thought that the big majority of former patrons will again install the telephone exchange.

Should the deal go through it will be a victory for the strikers and bring to an end an event unequalled in the history of the country.

Farmer Seriously Hurt When Gored by Angry Cow

Pawnee City, Neb., Jan. 23.—(Special)—O. P. Richardson of Lewiston is recovering from serious injuries inflicted by an angry cow.

Richardson had entered the lot on his farm when the cow attacked him, kicking him in the chest and then goring him while he was down.

His cheek bone was broken and his face lacerated.

Norfolk Merchant Fined for Liquor Law Violation

Norfolk, Neb., Jan. 23.—(Special Telegram)—State law enforcement agents arrested W. A. Emery, local merchant, and Clem Dominice, Amos Walker and Emmet Carrigan, all of this city, on liquor charges.

Emery and Dominice paid $300 for selling, transporting and possession.

Expert Tells of Finger-Prints on Arbuckle's Door

News Writer Tells of Interview With Accused Actor and Testimony at First Trial Is Read.

San Francisco, Jan. 23.—Finger prints, alleged to have been made on the door of Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle's room in the Hotel St. Francis, "could have been forged under some circumstances," E. O. Heinrich, fingerprint expert, testified today in the second trial of a manslaughter charge against Arbuckle in connection with Miss Virginia Rappe's death.

"I determined as best I could by experiments that these particular prints were not forged, however," Heinrich said.

The prosecution charges that the finger prints indicate that Miss Rappe attempted to escape the room on the occasion that she was supposed to have been fatally injured by Arbuckle and that he forcibly detained her.

Ask Night Session.

Before he had concluded his testimony, the court produced a communication from the jury asking for night sessions.

The court said that on account of the fact that the regular sessions are longer than usual there would be no night sessions unless counsel desired them.

Neither side made a statement on the matter.

Warden Wooldard, a reporter on the Los Angeles Times, gave testimony that caused the prosecution to read to the jury all of the testimony offered by Arbuckle as a witness in his own behalf in the first trial.

The reading was based on the contention that Arbuckle, according to Wooldard, made statements to Los Angeles contrary to his testimony.

Wooldard testified that he interviewed Arbuckle in Los Angeles on September 9, regarding dispatches from the Associated Press and the San Francisco Chronicle telling of Miss Rappe's death in San Francisco on the same day.

Denies Injuring Her.

"Arbuckle said that Miss Rappe was taken ill at a party he had given in the Hotel St. Francis, but he did not know of any injuries that could have caused her death," Wooldard testified.

Arbuckle denied having hurt Miss Rappe in any way, but admitted that he "pushed her down on the bed to keep her quiet," Wooldard said.

Arbuckle's attorney, M. D. Mandel, moved out of his room on the occasion he is supposed to have injured Miss Rappe, because she was too hysterical.

"What has been characterized by court officials as a 'foot ball formation' has been put into effect by the defense. With each new witness it is shifting its seating order at the counsel table so that the particular attorney who has been selected to cross examine is closest to the witness.
