Market and Financial News of the Day

Financial

The New Hork Times. By ALEXANDER DANA NOYES Omaha Bee Leased Wire.

New York, Feb. 2 .- The continue rise in sterling, which reached $4.3 in the early hours, was again the no table incident of the financial mar kets today; it was accompanied thi time by a substantial advance on the stock exchange. Insofar as the ster ling market was influenced by othe considerations than the immediat balance of exchange, the advance presumably reflected both the pas sage of the foreign debt refunding bill and the successful rounding ou of the arms conference program a

The strength of London exchange which was pretty well maintained up to the last, was the more striking is that it was not followed, as a rule by the continental exchanges, mos of which were under pressure from Europe. Nevertheless the course of Sterling represents the market's appraisal of the European situation generally.

German interests as well as other continental buyers, are absorbing liberal quantities of Argentine wheat, and this has caused a hardening of the English markets also. The Argentine wheat movement is enlarging and shipments for the week were estimated at 3,700,000 bushels, against 1,044,000 bushels for the same week last year. Corn shipments were larger than recently also, being estimated at 2,400,000 bushels.

The Indiana semimonthly report said that alternate freezing and thawing had done considerable damage to wheat in the southern counties, where there was but little snow covering.
