high hurdler, who was expected to lead the country in his event this coming track season, will be ineligi-ble for competition on the Hawkeye squad this year. Crawford failed to pass in two courses in the college of commerce last semester. Last year Crawford was one of the best hurdlers in the country. In the conference meet at Chicago he took second place to Knollin of Wis-consin and in the national intercol-legiates two weeks later defeated Knollin while running second to Thompson of Dartmouth, in a race in which Thompson equaled his world's record time of 14 2-5 sec-onds. Although a capable low hurd-ler, Crawford was not the star over the low barriers that he was in the short hurdle event.

the low barriers that he was in the short hurdle event. Although lost to the track team this year, Iowa followers have hopes of his getting his studies in shape for competition a year from this spring. If Crawford attends summer school session it is beliered he can get through all right. Coming just before the indoor dual meet with Illinois, Crawford's loss is a hard blow to Coach George T.
