Rabbi Frederick Cohn will speak on "Zionism" at a meeting of Omaha Chautauqua club, Thursday afternoon, 2:15, at the Y. W. C. A. The talk will be preceded by 1 o'clock luncheon. The luncheon and meeting are open to the public.

Woman's Relief Corps.

George Crook Woman's Relief corps are making rag rugs for the soldiers' homes in Grand Island. The third Tuesday of each month this group also acts at the Child Saving Institute.

Raises Quota of Endowment

Mrs. L. M. Lord - (OMAHA)

The Second district, Nebraska Federation of Woman's clubs, is the first of the six districts in the state to go "over the top" in raising its quota of the $10,000 state endowment fund, due to the efforts of its president, Mrs. L. M. Lord.

When Mrs. Lord went into office, nearly two years ago, she was determined to raise the money during her administration. Not only has this been accomplished, but the entire sum, $970, has been paid in full. The money was raised through assessments to the clubs in the district and by means of a card party and rummage sale.

The annual meeting of the district will be held in Omaha, April 13-14, by invitation of the Omaha Woman's club.

A class in folk dancing was organized at the Christ Child Center on Wednesday for the younger children, under the direction of Miss Jeannette Doyle.

The Riverside club will give a party at the center on Thursday evening.

A colonial party will be given for all the little children at the center on Washington's birthday.

About 20 young men met on Thursday evening for the purpose of organizing a club. The club will decide upon a name and elect its officers at the next meeting.

On Tuesday afternoon the children were entertained at a Valentine party at the center.

Vesta Chapter Kensington. Vesta Chapter Kensington club will have a whist and high five party Thursday at 2 o'clock at the Masonic temple.

Washington Society

Bureau of the Bee, Washington, Feb. 18.

Ten days more for formal entertainment and then Ash Wednesday (March 1) will at least accomplish a halt, if not a cessation of gaieties. This is not an Episcopal administration, nor is there a predominance of any religious denomination which strictly observes the Lenten season, therefore, of course, no special festivities will continue to some extent throughout the 40 days of penance observed by many of the socially prominent men and women of the capital.

This is not a strictly religious administration, nor nearly as much as the preceding ones for many years. The Harrison (Presbyterians), Cleverland (Presbyterians), McKinley (Methodists), Roosevelt (Episcopalian and Dutch Reform), Taft (Episcopalian and Unitarian), and Wilsons (Episcopalian and Presbyterian), rarely if ever missed a Sunday morning service, and all attached themselves to certain churches in Washington. The Harding's go where the spirit moves them, with no partiality for any one of the Baptist churches which would like to claim them. They both are professed Baptists.

The last state reception at the White House for this season will be given next Thursday night for the army and navy, and the last state dinner will be given on Thursday night of this week, given in honor of the speaker of the house of representatives and Mrs. Gillett. This is a dinner party inaugurated by President Roosevelt to officially fix the status of the speaker, who in former days was something of an "also ran" in official precedence. He now is assigned a place ahead of senators, in the order of official precedence.

Washington in April will be a mecca towards which women from all over the country flock to attend the week of April 17 will be the meeting time of the D. A. R. in their continental congress, and the week of April 25 will be the League of American Pen Women's national convention. The D. A. R. are already busy over their candidates for national officers, who will not be elected until next year. They are now laying foundations for the invariable fight for the "administration" which has its preferred candidate, while there are other candidates in the field who are distinctly popular and have large followings. They will all be much in evidence during the week of April 17 and in fact they are now, around the lobbies of the downtown hotels, especially the one where Mrs. Guernsey, former president general and a part of the "administration," makes her headquarters. Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook of Coombs, Pa., is the most prominent candidate and probably the most popular one around here just now. She has been spoken of as president general for several weeks past so positively as now. No better presiding officer could be found, and no one has done more practical good for the organization than she. She has held all the high offices her state organization can give, as chaplain, regent and state regent, and her term as vice president general will expire next year. She is a woman of independent wealth, which is very necessary in a president general. Mrs. Cook has a wide circle of friends in Washington where she has resided for a long time, and she has certainly been brilliantly for some weeks past. She left recently for a trip to the far west.

The League of American Pen Women, now become an important national organization, is making elaborate preparations for its forthcoming convention.

The visit here this week of Mrs. Herbert Asquith, known in literature as Margot Asquith, was an agreeable surprise. She made a much better impression in Washington than she did in New York. She is a woman of strong impressions and comes very near hitting the nail on the head every time. She can turn from a merry game of hide-and-seek with her husband to a serious and logical one and she is equally at home in both. She is an improvement on her remarkable published diary. She left on Wednesday for the middle west.

Mrs. Andrews, wife of Representative William R. Andrews has been seriously ill for a number of days this week and on the road to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Mulsane of Topeka, Kan., the latter formerly Miss Helen McKenna of Omaha, spent the past week at the Willard.

Mrs. De Witt and Miss Stuart entertained a party of her Washington friends tonight at dinner at the Willard and took them to the theater afterwards to see Faversham in "The Squaw Man." Yesterday Mrs. De Witt and Miss Stuart will go to Asheville on Monday for a stay, thence to Tennessee to visit the settlement school of the Pi Beta Phi fraternity, the settlement school committee of which Miss Stuart is treasurer.

Things You'll Love To Make

Flower Trimming

Checked flower trimming is very effective on a little girl's frock. Especially if the overblouse is made of a plain colored material, as red flannel, and the skirt of black and white check. Cut three inch circles of the checked material. Stitch one circle above each scallop of the overblouse. Use red silk or wool, and a button-hole or overcasting stitch. For the stems use stem-stitching in either the wool or silk. The leaves are embroidered with the same thread as the stems. Of course other combinations of colors, as a blue overblouse with red and white checked skirt, or brighter green overblouse with black and white checked skirt, look very attractive with this flower trimming.

In the early 70s there was a newspaper published in St. Louis that was set entirely by women.

Do your feet give out in the afternoon?

PROBABLY there is nothing the matter with your feet, but soon after you put on your shoes, they begin to tire. Why? Nature planned the foot to have three points of contact with the ground—heel, ball and outside arch. But in raising the heel from the ground, the arch is left without a firm support. Your weight bearing down on the unsupported arch strains it.

The Arch Preserver Shoe reaches the heel and arch from the ground, thus giving the foot the stylish appearance you desire; but unlike shoes with bending arches, it has a concealed built-in arch-bridge that supports the arch. Thought shod in the latest fashion, your feet are freed from strain all through the longest, hardest, day through you wear Arch Preserver Shoes.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisulfated coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Multisulfated in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisulfated coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Multisulfated.

The Peacock Fan.

Oh, proudly strutting peacock, In some garden of Japan, Do you know your gorgeous feathers? Have become a maiden's fan?

You held them up behind you And exulted in your bliss; But Ann holds them before her And so avoids my kiss.

Oh, proudly strutting peacock, In some garden of Japan, Those feathers made you stately, But they make a flirt of Ann!

Common Sense in the Sick Room.

In lifting a helpless patient out of bed when he desires to sit on a chair turn him on his side, lift his feet and legs out first and then raise his body, the patient having his arms around the nurse's neck. It will then be easy to place him on a chair.

Never try to lift a helpless person on the pillow without first flexing his knees.

In nearly all cases it is better not to awaken the patient in order to give him medicine or foods. Let him sleep when he can.

When a patient is on his back, always lift his head slightly when giving him a drink and he will not be so apt to choke. A helpless person can drink through a glass tube or cup better when he is on his side.

Virginia Batter Bread

MRS. W. A. FRASER. One cup cornmeal. One-half cup boiling water. One-half cup salt.

Mix corn meal and lard with the boiling water, add salt, and butter-milk into which the soda has been stirred and lastly the eggs, well beaten. This should make a thin batter—it may be necessary to add a little more butter-milk. Put into hot greased pan and bake in top of oven 20 to 30 minutes. Serve hot with butter.
