South Side Story Told Judge Frees John Stumpf

Stalks From Courtroom With Articles He Was Accused of Having Stolen.

John Stumpf, South Side, was up before Federal Judge Woodrough yesterday. And John was worried, for railroad agents were ready to testify that he had in his possession stolen interstate shipments. With trembling lips John told the court he purchased at a pawnshop the goods alleged to have been stolen.

"Have you any proof that the de-(endant did not buy the goods from another person?" the court asked the officers. They admitted they didn't eatch John in the act of looting a

"Discharged," concluded the judge. John stalked from the courtroom with several coats, a rifle and an automobile tire.

South Side Man Found Dead

on Sidewalk by Detective As City Detective Edward Brinkman was going home from duty about 6:30 yesterday morning he saw a man dead on the sidewalk at Thirty-Sixth and Grover streets. Cole, U. Penniman, was his name. He lived in South Omaha for many years and was an engineer for the Chicago & Northwestern railroad. He was on his way home from work when he was overcome, supposedly by apoplexy. He was 45.

Urge Reduction in Cost of New Technical School

The tax bureau of the Omaha Real Estate board is seeking a large curtailment of expense in the new Technical High school now under construction. The board believes that from $500,000 to $1,000,000 can be saved by eliminating a number of expensive features. Members of the bureau were of the opinion that it will be necessary to erect new primary schools in the near future for which funds will be needed.

Would Issue Bonds to Build

Additions to Court House County Commissioner Unitt said vesterday he will propose to the board of commissioners that a $1 -000,000 bond issue be asked to build additions to the courthouse. The street floor of the addition would be given over to stores to be rented to merchants. The rental would be sufficient, he said, to pay interest on the investment and pro-
