

Council to Strike Shingle Ban From New Building Code

Original Provision Eliminated Use of Wood Variety in Future and Replacements on Old Buildings.

Proposed legislation against wooden shingles will be eliminated from the revised building code before it is presented to the city council to be passed as an ordinance. Members of the city council yesterday afternoon agreed that this section of the proposed code should be stricken, the decision having been reached after representatives of the wooden shingle interests presented their case.

Gave 15 Years Grace.

The code, as prepared, contemplated prohibiting the use of ordinary shingles in new construction and allowing 15 years of grace in cases where wooden shingles had been placed before the new code should go into effect.

The principal speaker yesterday afternoon was R. S. Whitely of Seattle, secretary of the shingle branch of the West Coast Lumbermen's association. He asserted that only 2 to 3 per cent of the total fire loss of the country, from 1915 to 1919, was due to roof fires.

Recommended by Chief.

H. B. Zimman, chairman of the city building review board, announced that no material men or other outside influence had been responsible for the proposed wooden shingle prohibition. He said the

Matters' Motion to Quash Charge Denied by Court

Counsel Fails in Effort to Have Indictment Dismissed on Ground That Statute Repealed Fails.

Robert Webb, trustee of the defunct Guaranty Securities company, and H. R. Cozier, former cashier of the company, were called yesterday by the state as witnesses to identify records of the company showing the Colonial Timber & Coal company transaction, which resulted in indictments being returned against Willard V. Mathews, president, and Thomas H. Matters, president. Judge Goss overruled a motion to dismiss the indictment charging Matters with aiding and abetting embezzlement in the district court yesterday.

Says Statute Repealed.

Halleck Rose, Matters' attorney, argued that the case should be dismissed on the ground that the statute in force when Matters is alleged to have committed the offense, was repealed by an act passed in February, 1921.

If the motion had been sustained, by Judge Goss, prosecution of special indictments returned by the special grand jury would have been hampered, according to counsel for the state.

Judge Verifies References.

There was a period of suspense in the court room while the judge retired to the library for 20 minutes to verify references.

Prosecutor and Police Judge in Argument

Police Judge Wappich and City Prosecutor Frank Dineen argued in central police court yesterday over alleged "discrimination between corporations and individuals." The occasion was arraignment of S. H. Helinas, operating manager of the Omaha Yellow Cab company, for alleged nonpayment of occupation taxes to the city. Dineen cited 53 counts against the company.

Offers to Plead Guilty to Save Pals From Prison

In order to save his pals from going to prison for lie, Richard Emerson, a burglar suspect, is willing to spend 10 years in the state penitentiary and agree not to ask for parole. His pals are Harry Carter and George White, captured December 26 while attempting to rob the Noyes pharmacy. If Emerson, who was arrested the next day, promises together with the others to plead guilty to breaking and entering, the charge of burglary will not be brought against Carter and White, Emerson took no part in the Noyes robbery, according to his oath.

Certificate Filed Here by Progressive Party

Acceptance of this certificate by the election commissioner gives the new party a legal status in this county, according to the state laws governing the organization of political parties.

The committee which presented the certificate stated that the progressive party expects to have a complete county ticket this year. Among the signers are: T. S. Fenlon, 309 North Forty-first avenue; Roy M. Harron, 2570 Douglas street; John F. Murphy, 4310 Mayberry avenue; J. A. and Maude I. Lochray, 2858 Brown street; H. C. Rominger, 2543 Capitol avenue; Robert Hunter, 2223 N. street; Anson H. Bigelow, 108 North Thirty-fifth avenue; Myrtle L. Fries, 3329 Ames avenue.

Two Former Employes Held on Furniture Theft Charge

Two former trusted employes of the H. R. Bowen Furniture company, Sixteenth and Howard streets, waived preliminary examination in central police court yesterday on charges of robbery and furniture theft. They are: Oscar E. Christian, 4923 North Thirtieth street, and Joseph Kuecht, 1631 Avenue G, Council Bluffs. Police Judge Wappich bound them over to district court on $1,000 bonds each. James Wyatt, former employe, was fined $10 when he pleaded guilty to theft.

Two Italians are being held under bond as state's witnesses against Christian and Kuecht. Detectives Augie and Franks, who made the arrests, obtained written confessions from Christian and Kuecht in which they stated they traded stolen furniture to the Italians for whiskey.

Oldest B. P. O. D. Dies.

Mrs. L. W. Baber, 6415 Manie street, oldest member of the B. P. O. D., died Monday night at the age of 73. She is survived by her husband and two daughters.

Radium Increases Red Corpuscles

Lack of Radium in Blood May Be Secret of Thinness and Anemic Sickness

A noted authority recently said of radium rays emanate in sparks of milk and taken internally—red blood corpuscles have increased by 200,000 within forty-eight hours. Radium in this form is perfectly harmless and is a wonderful tonic for people and the remedy for anemic and nervous. A fair land of science stands revealed. The radium rays referred to are those contained in Radium tablets and are the genuine. A number of leading druggists recognizing the enormous value these tablets must have are now ready to supply the public either through physicians or over the counter. They are put up in vials of 214 tablets, each vial, each holding radium and uranium oxide and are $1.00 a vial.

All anemic people should see what this marvel of science may do in restoring tone to strength, weight and the full round, pink cheeks of robust health. Be sure to ask for Radium as they are the genuine.

They are sold by Sherman & McConnell, Boston Drug Co., Green's Pharmacy and Haines Drug Co.
