

Health of Child Most Important, Asserts Doctor

Juvenile Maladies Make Body Susceptible to Other Diseases Later, Dr. Evans Tells Teachers.

"The health of the child is of greater importance than of all others in the community," declared Dr. W. A. Evans, health editor of the Omaha Bee, in an address before 1,000 teachers of the Southwestern Iowa Teachers' association at Lincoln High school in Council Bluffs yesterday morning.

"But this assertion," he added, "must be understood to relate to protection from contagious diseases of childhood, because it is these diseases that lay the foundation for most of the deaths that come around the age of 50."

"Measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough and some other children's maladies bring about the physical conditions in adults that result in Bright's disease, heart disease, and general breakdown soon after middle life."

Dr. Evans lauded the Boy Scout movement. He warned teachers to send home at once any child showing first symptoms of contagious illness, even to a cold, in order to protect the other charges in her care in the classroom.

Councilmen Resign Following Election

Kearney, Neb., April 7.—(Special Telegram.)—D. Wort, mayor of Kearney, is faced with the responsibility of appointing two new city commissioners who, in his opinion, will administer the city offices after a manner that will be approved by the majority of citizens.

Following the special election Wednesday, when Kearney voters, two to one, expressed themselves as favoring a return to a councilman form of government next April, Commissioners Howard Stephens and Frank L. Grammer tendered their resignations. They construed the election results as being a reflection of sentiment opposed to the present administration.

Firemen, at a special meeting, assured the mayor of their loyalty and support. Failure of the commission to purchase a new fire truck and differences over paving extension were among issues that brought about a break in the administration. Mayor Wort proposed to name successors to the two commissioners at once.

Chadron Man Named Head of Nebraska Knights Templar

Arthur C. Stern, Chadron, Neb., was elected grand commander of the Knights Templar of Nebraska at the 50th annual business meeting and election at the Masonic temple, Nineteenth and Douglas streets, yesterday morning.

French, president of Hastings college at Hastings, Neb., to talk over affairs of the college.

Holdrege Auto Show Is Success

Holdrege, Neb., April 7.—(Special.)—Holdrege is having the biggest and best auto show in its history. The curious displays of cars are priced ranging from $600 to $5,400. Enclosed cars seemed to be the preference.

DeWitt band of Omaha gives two half hour concerts, followed by the spring style show, staged and managed by the Business Girls' club of Holdrege.

The big radio telephone outfit came in for its share of the glory. A short concert given in Denver was plainly received, as well as two numbers from Chicago, and numerous messages were intercepted all through the day.

The merchants of the city are back of the auto show and every place of business is offering something unusual in the way of bargains as $1 day bargains for every day during the show. That these are real bargains may be known from the fact that it was necessary to call the police to line up the crowd in front of one clothing store. It is claimed that over 875 items on one number were sold at one store within an hour and a half.

Writes Mrs. Hardee Regarding Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Los Angeles, Calif.—"I must tell you that I am a true friend to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken it off and on for twenty years and it has helped me change from a delicate girl to a stout, healthy woman. When I was married I was sick all the time until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in bed much of my time with pains and had to have the doctor every month. One day I found a little book in my yard in Guthrie, Oklahoma, and read it through and got the medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and took eight bottles and used the Sanative Wash. I at once began to get stronger. I have got many women to take it just by telling them what it has done for me. I have a young sister whom it has helped in the same way it helped me. I want you to know that I am a 'friend indeed' for you were a 'friend indeed'."—Mrs. GEORGE HARDEE, 1043 Byron St., Los Angeles, California.

North Platte Rancher Will Restock Ranges

"Because most of the ranchers and cattle raisers have come to the conclusion that there will be no advance in the price of cattle is a strong reason, in my opinion, why cattle prices will gradually advance on the Omaha market," said M. T. Munsinger of North Platte, who visited the Omaha market looking for feeders.

Mr. Munsinger, who has been operating in the cattle feeding business around North Platte for three years, said there were thousands of acres of pastures with but very few cattle upon them and that hay can hardly be sold for any price.

"I think this is a most favorable time for anyone to get into the cattle business," said Mr. Munsinger, "and I expect to get into it pretty strong, after being out for some time. Stockmen are having a hard time to get money as the banks seem to be reluctant to make loans without mortgage security, so it does not look like there would be much restocking the ranges this season around North Platte."
