

The warm weather has had the effect of driving people from the city and the hastening of various plans for summer outings. The number of people who will go away will be large, probably larger than last year, and the outlook for activity at home during July and August is not at all bright. The event of the week was the Burr reception.

Miss Ella Raymond gave a very delightful garden party on Wednesday evening. Chinese lanterns were hung on the trees and south veranda. Delicious refreshments were served on small tables scattered about under the trees. Miss Raymond's guests were Misses Sadie Burnham, Maude Risser, Ena Ricketts, Florence Winger, Josephine Winger, Maude Oakley, Ona Imhoff and Sallie Groh; Messrs. Julius Westerman, Louie Westerman, Will Westerman, Will Raymond, Halsey Yates, Wilson Winger, Charlie Jones and Charley Elliott.

Miss Hollowbush entertained a few friends on Wednesday evening. Among those present were Mesdames Cameron and Sutton, Misses Marie Jones, Emerald Jones, Messrs. Frank Zehring, L. B. Cornell, C. B. Lee and Frank Askin.

Driving parties seem to be quite the rage now. Saturday morning Misses Grace Oakley, Grace Burr, Marie Marshall and Jessie Leland; Messrs. John Lottridge, Harry Lansing, Roy Chapman and Ross Curtis drove to Waverly where they spent the day.

The Storrs-Cooper wedding which was solemnized at Denver last week was a very swell affair.

Miss Lena George left last Thursday for Boston where she will spend two or three months at the Boston Conservatory of Music taking lessons.

There will doubtless be a good deal of regret in Chicago when the announcement is made that Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer intend going abroad next month to be absent a year, says a well-known society journal. The Palmer castle on the Lake Shore drive will of course close its massive gates, the portullis will be let down, and the only sight of its splendors will be that to be obtained from the far side of the moat. It is easy to comprehend how the arduous duties of Mine Host Palmer, as the chief supporter and adviser of his charming wife throughout her round of exhausting tasks as the lady most conspicuous in the conduct of World's Fair matters, must have told upon his nervous system; but a season of rest in the lovely clime of Japan, whither the distinguished couple are going, will without doubt restore his drooping energies, and bring him back to Chicago at the end of a twelvemonth quite himself again. The reduced rates at the Palmer House, will, we believe, remain in vogue during the absence of the landlord.
