

INFLUENZA,

Or La Grippe, though occasionally epidemic, is always more or less prevalent. The best remedy for this complaint is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"Last Spring, I was taken down with La Grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breast seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I begun taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete. It is truly a wonderful medicine."—W. H. WILLIAMS, Crook City, S. D

FERN SONG.

Dance to the beat of the rain, little Fern,
And spread out your palms again,
And say: "Though the Sun
Hath my vesture spun,
He had labored, alas, in vain:
But for the shade
That the Cloud hath made,
And the gift of the Dew and the Rain!"
Then laugh and upturn
All your fronds, little Fern,
And rejoice in the beat of the Rain!
—John B. Tabb.

Admonished.

There was a precocious youngster on a suburban railroad train yesterday who furnished the passengers with considerable amusement. His mother, desiring to ask the conductor a question concerning changing cars, told her only son to hail him when he passed by. The blue uniformed man with a punch soon appeared.

"Say, mister, my mother wants to see you," exclaimed the young scion in a voice loud enough to be heard all over the car.

The conductor, who was busy, replied, "I'll be back in a minute."

This did not satisfy mamma's pet, for as the conductor reached the end of the car he exclaimed in a loud voice, "You had better hurry up, or you'll get it where the chicken got the ax."

The passengers laughed loudly, while the mother of the enfant terrible remembered that she was in the wrong car.—Boston Traveller.

The First Word.

Miss Summit—I wouldn't be surprised if Mr. Yearner proposed to me soon. The other day he made me a present of a beautiful dog.

Miss Pallisade—What has that to do with it?

Miss Summit—He said he hoped to get it back some day.—Detroit Free Press.

Perfectly So.

Weary Winkle—I hear that Ragglets, who tramped with us last summer, is dead.

Lazy Loufer—Did he die a natural death?

Weary Winkle—Yep; he was run over by a train of cars.—Yale Record.

Safe! Thank Heaven.

Philanthropist—Is not your heart touched by all these sights of poverty?

Millionaire—Yes, indeed. But as long as my bank account isn't I can stand it, I guess.—New York World.

The Sequence of Events.

Harry—You look white. Is it the salad?
Jack—No, it's the punch. It was drunk, and now it's disorderly.—Life.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

Pains in Side and Breast

Despaired of Help, but Hood's Sarsaparilla Cured.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"I am glad to state my son's experience with Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it was the means of saving his life. Last fall he was taken ill with pains in his breast and side. He had the best medical attendance possible, and was treated by the doctors for some time, but did not realize any relief. He could not lay down day or night, and
