

Miss Sadie Burnham celebrated her return from a mooted Massachusetts seminary by inviting Misses Renolds, Camp and Swell to assist her in renewing old acquaintances of '91. Miss Willoughby's music and delicate refreshments added to the charms of the fair hostess, made the time allotted to each visitor all too short.

Misses Heaton, Risser, Harley, Fawell, Shaw Williamson and Law, members of the L'Amusement club received at Miss Heaton's, 1106 E street, in a most royal manner. Colored pages attended the wants of the callers and never failed to remind each and all, that their combined efforts could not keep the punch bowl empty.

The Burr mansion, 1503 H street was brilliantly lighted all evening and callers came to visit, for formality was thrown aside and a home-like sociable time enjoyed, Miss Mae Burr, with the help of Misses Mills, of Cincinnati; Smith, of Omaha; Maude Burr, Carson, Latta, Griffith, Moore, Hooper, Evans, Brock, Mrs. W. F. Kelley, and Mrs. Chas. L. Burr furnished the social features of the evening. Miss Burr's singing put most of the company to a musical turn of mind and the remainder of the evening was a series of musical treats.

The Hayden Art club inaugurated a novel New Years entertainment by combining socialibility, art and music, hundreds of callers accepted the hospitality of the members of the club. The musical features of the evening were rendered by Mrs. Lippincott, Miss Schofield, Mr. Hagenow and Professor Planquit, while delicacies were served by Miss Harris, Mrs. Dr. Ward and Mrs. C. H. Gere. Those present were Mrs. I. M. Raymond and daughter, Mrs. Prof. Bessey, Miss Marjon Chase, Mrs. H. H. Wilson, Miss Kate Wilder, Miss Anna Wilder, Mrs. Prof. Hodgman, Mrs. Dr. Ward, Mrs. Prof. Taylor, Mrs. Prof. Caldwell, Mrs. N. S. Harwood, Miss Sarah Harris, Mrs. M. D. Welch, Mrs. Dr. Ladd, Miss Olive Latta, Mrs. John Wright, Mrs. J. L. McConnell, Mrs. C. H. Gere and daughters, Mrs. J. S. Dales, Mrs. W. E. Stewart, Mrs. M. H. Tilton, Mrs. L. C. Richards, Mrs. W. E. Richardson, Miss Clara Richardson, Mrs. J. R. Clark, Miss Clark, Mrs. J. W. Winger, Miss Florence Winger, Miss Cora Parker, Mrs. J. H. Canfield, Miss Kate Stoddard, Mrs. C. H. Morrill, Mrs. D. L. Brace, Miss Mary Jones, Miss Clara Conklin,

AMUSEMENTS

The wonderful Sandow and his company of Trocadero Vaudevilles drew two large houses at the Lansing Theatre New Year's day and evening. Sandow is just as wonderful as he has been painted. It would be difficult to exaggerate his merits as a public attraction. There is no deception about his feats of strength, and to see his marvelous, wonderful development is in itself a distinct event.

The bi-annual appearance of the genial comedian, Sol Smith Russel, in the old English classical comedy "The Heir at Law" by George Colman, the younger, at the Lansing theatre Thursday evening was approvingly met by the largest house of the season. The play, although its first presentation in Lincoln, has been handed down and interpereted by the representative comedians for over one hundred years. It gave splendid satisfaction, however, probably because it was presented by Sol Smith Russel.

Miss Marion Kingsley, Mrs. William Bryan, the Misses Underwood Mrs. S. H. Burnham, Miss Sarah Burnham, Mrs. Willard Kimball and Miss Schofield.

All afternoon and evening the Commercial club was thrown open to friends and members. The reception committee composed of Colonel Harry Hitchkiss, R. M. Joyce, W. E. Clarke, A. H. Buckstaff, J. G. Sherman, Jr., F. W. Brown, George J. Woods, H. R. Krug and Mattson Baldwin took it upon themselves to see that no one was neglected.

Rheumatic Twinges

Are escaped by the use of HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC NO. 15. The infallible cure for rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago. For sale by all druggists. 25c.

"How did you come out in that mixing deal?"

"Minus."