

THE THEATRE

In all cities there is a class of people who do not feel able to pay large prices for an evening's entertainment, even if it is with the money, and to whom the 10-20-30 cent shows do not appeal. Therefore Manager Zehring of the Funke, has decided to produce twice each month, first class attractions at reduced rates, and thereby endeavor to reach this class of amusement loving people. The first of these will be given Saturday, November 17th, matinee and evening at which time, Nellie McHenry's great success, "A Night at the Circus," will be given. The prices will be only 25 50-75 cents, and at the matinee only 25 cents will be charged to old and young alike, for any seat in the house. There is no doubt that this invitation will meet the approval of the Lincoln public, and a large house will be the result.

Manager Zehring presents to his patrons on next Saturday, matinee and night, "A Night at the Circus" a farcical comedy which has been successfully produced in all the larger cities in the country. A capable company of clever farceurs and specialists interpret this laughable travesty on circus life in a realistic manner. The adventures of the gay old deceivers, Bango and Friske, who have temporarily laid aside the cares of business in order to pay a visit to the "Great Imperial Circus," and the direful results of their culpability when they are over-taken by their equally tempted wives who have also been unable to resist the temptation to visit the great affair incognito, form altogether one of the most highly amusing entertainments which Manager Zehring has provided for theatre goers this season. An unusually excellent band, and a concert orchestra are carried by the company and many novel musical and other specialties will be offered during the evening. From the time Nellie McHenry, one of America's foremost comedienne first appeared in this famous play it has been steadily gaining in popularity. The patrons of the Funke opera house are to be congratulated on their privilege of witnessing it.

Charles H. Yale's massive mechanical trick spectacular comedy "The Evil Eye or the Many Merry Mishaps of Nid and the Weird Wonderful Wanderings of Nod," will be seen here at the Oliver theatre on Wednesday evening, November 16th, for one night only. It contains more genuine enjoyment than any attraction now before the people. Not only has it been staged with gorgeous munificence at a cost of $25,000; but a sterling company of over sixty people has been brought together to tell the quaint story and add effects to the picturesque surroundings. Pantomimes, acrobats, ballet dancers, entertainers, choiristers provide a mine of delight, while the intricate mechanism, trick effects and huge revolving scenes cause surprise and wonderment. Prices $1.00, 75c, 50c and 25c. Seats on sale Monday morning at 10 sharp. Secure your seats early.

Manager Dowden takes great pleasure in announcing to the people of Lincoln that he has secured Robert Downing and his excellent company to appear at the Oliver theatre on Friday evening, November 18th. Mr. Downing will present his well known favorite "The Gladiator" at popular prices. Lower floor 75 cents, balcony 50 cents, and gallery 25 cents. Seats on sale Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Secure your seats early.
