Editorial Remarks

The game Saturday proved conclusively Nebraska's strength. The way each player seized his opportunity whenever one was presented, was remarkable. The fast clean work that would have been impossible had the players been a trifle slower or less self-possessed, was a delight to those who have the interests of the team at heart and are looking forward to the heavy games to come.

The spirit shown by the Colorado men could not have been excelled. They allowed no opportunity to pass to extend courtesy to Nebraska. They cheered the team, the coach and the colors, showing an unselfish spirit which was all the more commendable because they did so in the face of defeat.

Smoking in the grandstand during football games has become so prevalent, that a popular cry of protest has been raised. Those who indulge in the practice seem to lose sight of the fact that they are making a nuisance of themselves, affecting as they do an area measured by a radius of several feet around them.

The Freshmen held their meeting in comparative peace yesterday morning and are on the high road to complete organization. They have encountered vicissitudes of an unusual character during their brief university career, and no doubt they feel relieved to see obstacles removed from their paths that have seriously hampered their progress.

plete the election of officers at their next meeting. They have survived the assaults of their enemies with integrity unimpaired, and stand ready to enforce their rights against whatever opposition that may be brought to bear against them.

Miss Hayden is exhibiting in the art gallery, work done during the past month by her students. The pictures embrace work in charcoal, pen and ink, and water color.

Y. W. C. A. Meeting.

The Sunday meeting was the most interesting as well as the most helpful meeting yet held at the University Y. W. C. A. All the girls that were present should rejoice that they had the opportunity of listening to Miss Howells.

Unions Hold Important Meeting.

The Union Boys' Debating club held an interesting session Saturday and discussed some important measures. An amendment of the constitution which required that all new members should be voted in was made.

Messrs. Levy and Costello constituting the affirmative and De Young and Kerr the negative debated the question: "Resolved, That Nebraska should adopt the Minnesota primary law."

The secretary was empowered to correspond with all debating associations, that he sees fit, for debates, as it is the desire of the club to arrange three or four good contests.

Prof. A. P. Brigham, head of the department of geology at Colgate University, has just issued a book on geographic history. One of the attractive plates is the cut of the University of Nebraska library and campus.
