Physics Department News.

Mr. Cartwell, formerly a fellow at Nebraska, has been appointed instructor in physics at the University of Cincinnati, resigning his position in the national bureau of standards at Washington, D. C.

The department of physics has received from Berlin a granite spectrograph, for observing invisible parts of the spectrum. The instrument is of excellent quality and workmanship, and will be of considerable aid in the department.

Mr. S. R. Cook, formerly a fellow in the department of physics here, published an article in the London Philosophical Magazine a short time ago, on "The Results of Various Investigations and Experiments in the Department."

The registration in Freshman physics exceeds all previous records, amounting to over 200. Sophomore classes are also especially large, containing over eighty students. Physics 5 is smaller than usual. This course has been changed in some particulars this year, but remains essentially the same as before, consisting of experiments which were not performed in preceding courses, together with construction work.

Relics for Historical Society.

A new collection of pioneer relics was recently added to the Historical Society's collection by Otis E. Allis. An old flintlock gun, used by Rev. Samuel Allis, who came to Nebraska in 1833, as missionary to the Pawnees is of special interest. The Indian relics were found on an ancient Indian village site immediately across the river from the mouth of the Platte on the farm of the lender.

The red clay pipe in the collection was made by Henry Fontanella and given to the owner, and the cane, a little frail one, was cut from a grove near Papillon, Neb., where Samuel Allis had a claim in the early 40's.

Union Boys Debate.

The Union Boys will debate in Union hall tomorrow evening the question: "Resolved, That England should adopt Chamberlain's tariff policy." Messrs. Milek and Schneider will have the affirmative and Brubaker and Melick the negative.

Maxwells Debate.

The Maxwells will debate the following question tonight: "Resolved, that illiterate persons should not be allowed to vote." Theobald and Sawyer will speak on the affirmative, Barta and Mormon upholding the negative.

All University men are requested to attend the Y. M. C. A. prayer meeting Wednesday evening from 7 to 7:30. Since the University Y. M. C. A. has united with the city Y. M. C. A. in holding its Sunday meetings, special emphasis should be laid on these mid-week prayer meetings.

The gardner is potting cut plants. A species of small white flies have made their appearance in the green house. They have grown so numerous that the gardener has procured a poison with which he sprays the plants.

The class in botany 1 is working with tissues.

The first year class in anatomy is working with the bone of the face.

Mr Barnes had charge of the class in experimental psychology yesterday morning in the absence of Dr. Bolton.

The plant ecology class is performing some delicate experiments with plants. They are testing, for example, how much shade a plant can endure.

R. R. Langley, '04, is this year working for the Home Correspondence school, with headquarters at Omaha. He will be in school again next year.

The pipe organ is being repaired. A man is here from the factory to do the work and it is hoped that the organ will be in working order within a few days.

The students' exchange is up and may be found in University hall on the first floor, near the west stairs in the corner by the window. It will be lettered within a few days.

Photographs of the individual members of the football team are on display in the window of the new picture and engraving establishment at 11th and Q streets.

R. W. Andreason and Miss Bessie Reaves were married last Tuesday at Cleavenden, Ia. Both of these young people will be remembered as popular members of the athletic and social circles of the University a few years ago.

Miss Palin, who was injured some time ago, by being thrown from a buggy, suffering a rather serious injury, has sufficiently recovered as to be able to resume her duties in the Historical Society rooms.

W. J. Woods returned Tuesday night from his home in Pawnee City. A short time ago he was threatened with an attack of typhoid fever, which necessitated his temporary departure from school.

Zoology Notes.

Dr. H. B. Ward has nearly completed another article on parasites for Wood's Hand-book of Medical Science. Mr. F. A. Prince, the artist of the department, has been illustrating the article.

Dr. H. B. Ward of the zoological department, will leave for York, Thursday to assist in laying the corner stone for the Y. M. C. A. building at that place.

Six new directing microscopes and one very fine compound microscope have been added to the zoological laboratory.

Quite a number of marine specimens from the Naples laboratory have been gotten by the zoological department.

The first year zoological class has finished its work on the amoeba and are studying the hydra.
