THE JUNIOR PROM

University's Most Brilliant Event Tomorrow Evening.

Tomorrow evening the Junior Prom. occurs at the Lincoln hotel. This is the most important of the many social functions of the college year, and the one most looked forward to. For the Prom, every fellow has had his best girl engaged for months. Others may do for other affairs, but for the Prom, she must be the girl.

To surpass the Junior Proms of previous years will be no small undertaking for the committee that is in charge. Of the Proms, in former years some have been all that one could wish, while others have been made to line individual pockets at the expense of the evening's enjoyment. This year, however, competent men have the affair in charge, and a thoroughly good time is insured.

Since its origin at Nebraska the Junior Prom. has been the greatest, most elaborate and expensive social function in the University society circles. Alumni from everywhere use the Prom. as an excuse to visit again their alma mater, schoolmates and frat brothers. With the Prom. there comes a reunion. Old acquaintances are renewed, new ones made and old ties strengthened. Dormant interest in their University is aroused in the grads., and then, besides being a social event, the Prom is of incalculable value to the institution. The alumni of college institutions are the roots and stems through which it lives and perpetuates itself. The great body of alumni is the great feeder of the University and so whatever keeps alive and increases the interest of the alumni aids, benefits and helps along the University.

Instead of a detractor of attention the faculty are now looking upon the Prom. as a very distinct feature in college life and one that should have their support.

The committee is hard at work perfecting details and should be repaid for their work by a large attendance.

University and class colors will be used in decorations. Refreshments will be served and Eddie Walt's orchestra will furnish music.

The party will be chaperoned by Dr. and Mrs. Everett and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hargreaves.

Dancing is to begin promptly at 9:30 and the following is the order of dances:

With two extras. The comparatively few number of dances is explained by the fact that at previous Proms. with a larger number the dances have been short, hurried and encores scarce. It is hoped the 16-number program will solve this problem.

The Prom. committee entire is: A. H. Lundin, Delta Upsilon, chairman.

W. D. Green, Beta Theta Pi, master of ceremonies.

- R. S. Campbell, Delta Tau Delta.
- J. Will Hoar, Alpha Theta Chi.

WANT $70 DAMAGES.

Artists Make Modest Demand of Art Association.

The Board of Directors of the Nebraska Art association held a meeting a few days ago, with the expectation of holding felicitations over the encouraging outcome of the recent art exhibit. But their spirits were somewhat dampened by the presentation of a bill of damages of $170 from the Packers Co., on behalf of the artists of New York City, whose work was exhibited here. The damages were alleged to have been sustained by the frames of the Alexander pictures which attracted so much attention here. These pieces of costly frailty are alleged to have suffered to a considerable extent, which is to be regretted if such is the case. But this bill if paid would wipe out all the surplus and more too. The demand is considered unjust, because the pictures left Chicago in an unsafe condition, as the frames were about to fall apart, as a memorandum from the Chicago shippers indicated.

Moreover the gilding had been rubbed off of several of the antique picture frames and an enterprising University employe with a laudable desire to make the frames presentable to critical Lincoln sight-seers, sought to remedy this defect by a device of his own. He smuggled in some bronze paint and unknown to anyone else, in the generosity of his heart retouched the frames in beautiful and artistic style. Now the artists claim that the touch of antiquity has been forever lost. The antiquity was of course the beauty of the frames. Consternation reigns among the board of directors, although Miss Hayden claims that she can doctor up those daubs of the zealous and worthy employe so that even the wise Solons could not detect the imposture. She expects to accomplish this result by means of a chemical solution.

Pres. F. M. Hall is too good a lawyer and possessed of too many pugnacious tendencies to allow the association to be imposed upon to such an extent as is attempted. He has telegraphed the New York packers that the board will resist the claim. There has never been a season yet in which claims for damages were not made, and the board's generosity in the past in dealing with these claims seems to encourage the New York artists to try their luck again. It is indeed a compliment to our association that the eastern world of artists think that it is so wealthy as to pay large sums for damages without a careful investigation of the justice of the demands.

Senior Candidates Scarce.

The candidates for the presidency of the Senior class are not overwhelming their constituents by importune clamors for support. Although the election is close at hand, only one candidate is known to be in the field. Mr. Edwin F. Myers has announced his willingness to enter the race and seems to be well endorsed. However, other candidates are expected to declare themselves, and the race for the place will develop some excitement yet.

THE TRACK TEAM

Candidates to Meet in Dr. Clapp's Office This Morning.

Attention is again called to the meeting in Dr. Clapp's office this morning. It is absolutely essential to a successful track team to get out and push. Meets are practically arranged with the University of Colorado at Boulder, with South Dakota at Sioux City, and with Ames and Minnesota in Lincoln. To win these meets will require an exceptionally strong team, and our record of last year—five records broken—must be equalled at least.

Another matter demanding attention from all gymnasium men is registration for lockers. All men holding lockers last semester must re-register for them before Saturday night or the locks will be cut off.

All men taking gym or athletic work who have not taken a physical examination this year must do so at once. This week is being devoted to these examinations, and there will be no floor work until next Monday, except in course 32, the ladies' section, which will meet Saturday at 4:30 p. m.

All is quiet in football circles, further arrangements being prevented by Iowa's failure to reply to our last telegram. A game is assured with Colorado for next year, and Grinnel is to take Colorado's place on the schedule. As soon as the Iowa date is settled, Knox and Haskell can be attended to. Already November 12 has been practically agreed upon for Haskell.

The first team is to play Wesleyan tonight at University Place. Hagensick and Beers are both in the game again, although the latter has a rather stiff knee and will probably be relieved by Benedict.

Friday night the Seniors will play the first High School team in the armory. The High School boys put up a better game against the first team than Wesleyan did, and as this team defeated the Seniors, the outcome is doubtful.

The game that has been scheduled to come off in the armory next Saturday afternoon between the city Y. M. C. A. teams of Lincoln and Omaha, has been called off. Secretary Mayne said to a Nebraskan reporter last evening that the game would not prove a paying attraction and that arrangements had consequently been discontinued.

Entries for the Charter Day indoor contest must be in Dr. Clapp's hands by Wednesday, February 10, at 6 p. m. All those men who intend to do track work and also all the gymnasts in the University should enter this contest. The following will be the events:

- 25-yard dash.
- Pole vault.
- Running high jump.
- Shot put.
- Fence vault for height.
- Running high kick.
- 18-foot rope climb.
- Inter-fraternity relay race of four men.

Medals will be given for first and second places in each event, instead of pennants, as was done last year. It is to be hoped that more fraternities will enter the relay race than did last year.

TO GO THROUGH MILL.

All Men Out for Places on Debate Must Earn Them.

A report gained circulation yesterday to the effect that members of last year's interstate teams would be admitted to the squad this year without running the gauntlet of the preliminaries.

This report Secretary Ryner, in behalf of the Debating Board, says is altogether unfounded in fact.

The number of candidates for places on the interstate debating squad is growing rapidly and promises to exceed last year's in registration. In addition to the list of twenty-five published Monday several new registrations have been recorded. Those entering the lists Tuesday and Wednesday are: Burt Griggs, Senior law, and F. A. Bald, Senior law, both old high school debaters; C. A. Sunderlin, '06, who took part in high school debates in Iowa; Luther Kimmell, and Dean Driscoll, '05.

In the preliminary debate, which will be held in about two weeks, each candidate will be at liberty to support either side he prefers. The preferences will be called for about a week before the debate.

Although the board has not definitely settled the matter, it may be said that the time allowed each speaker will not be more than ten minutes and may be slightly less.

The order of speakers will be determined by lot in a few days.

Cross Country Running.

The cross country runs will be resumed next week, after a delay occasioned by the setting in of the present cold spell. It is quite probable that in the future these runs will take place at 5 o'clock on Tuesday and Thursday each week and on Saturday afternoons. Before the cold spell the squad went regularly two or three times a week, and upon each occasion there were at least nine or ten men out. While many of the men are showing up well, the squad is short on weights and sprints. It is planned to continue these runs as in the past to the packing house northwest of the city and to the fair grounds, where the track has been utilized for practice.

Today all of the candidates for the track team are requested to meet in Dr. Clapp's office at 10 o'clock. It is hoped that a large number of men will be present. The inducement offered by this opportunity for healthy outdoor exercise ought to appeal to many University men who have no other chance. A number of strong men have already shown up, but more are wanted.

FRESHMEN PREPARE.

Candidates Out For the Office of President.

Many vague pophieses are afloat these days about the different candidates for president of the Freshman class. None, however, have announced their intention of making the race, but many it is believed have an inward longing for the honored position, and may have made a secret canvass among their friends. Judging from the broad smiles and the warm political handshake of the more prominent members, it is plainly visible that a mighty struggle will occur at the election of officers next Monday morning.

The method of campaigning this semester has varied greatly from that of last fall and the would-be candidates are not announcing themselves so publicly for fear of added opposition, but anticipate to storm the meeting.

It is understood that President Scott has refused to be a candidate for a second term, wishing to give way to some others who have been instrumental in shaping the best interests of the class and in this manner passing the office around to different members, which, of course, is very commendable considering his successful administration. Who the favored son will be is the subject of much gossip, but nothing is definite as yet, so the field lies with plenty of good material and only one place to fill. However, we will await the results of what will certainly be an interesting affair.
