Evening Song.

Let the wind go softly sighing
Down the shadowy dale;
Let the crimson sunset, dying
Slowly change and pale.

Let the bird-calls fainter growing,
Sound from hill and tree;
Let the river, onward flowing,
Seek the restless sea.

Let the world go swinging, swinging,
Toward the gates of night—
In my ears thy voice is ringing,
Hasten, heart's delight.

Dr. Bessey leaves Lincoln today for Colorado Springs, Colo., where he will deliver a scientific address at the dedicatory services of the new science hall of the University of that place. Among some of the other speakers who will give addresses are prominent men from Harvard, Illinois and Wisconsin Universities.

A musical treat of even unusual excellence was rendered before an immense audience at convocation yesterday. "In a Persian Garden," a song service from the "Rubaiyat" was delivered by Messrs. Johnston and Gillespie, Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Holyoke. The recital lasted about forty minutes, and was intensely appreciated by all who heard it.

One of the interesting programs of the year was given last Friday evening by the young men of the Palladian society. The entertainment consisted of a burlesque on the P. G. D. C. Each gentleman was supposed to represent one of the girls and expose some of her particular peculiarities. The boys carried out the parts in an excellent manner and the entire buffonry was

Several of the University professors took part in the open forum at the Lincoln hotel last Friday evening. Among them were Professors Barbour, Stuart, Burnett, Smith and Condra. The subject under discussion was the "Arid Lands of Nebraska," which was opened with a stereopticon lecture by Dr. Condra. Many of the prominent men of Lincoln were present and a good supper and a fine time was reported.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting.

The men's mass meeting at the Oliver tomorrow at 4 o'clock will take the form of a patriotic song service. Those who enjoy singing national and other patriotic hymns will be led by a chorus of forty voices from St. Paul's M. E. church. Anyone liking a good lively song service will be especially interested in this meeting. All young men are invited to come out and bring their voices with them. Doors open at 3:45.

P. B. D. C. Have Good Debate.

P. B. D. C. Have Good Debate. The Palladian Boys' Debating club will debate the Russo-Jap war next Saturday evening and every one is invited to come. Last Saturday evening the law excluding anarchists from our country was ably discussed and a large crowd listened to the concise logic and well chosen rhetoric. Each evening adds to the spirit and number of the assembly. Come and be one of us.

Senior Laws Beat Freshmen.

The first of the law interclass basketball games was played Thursday night. The contest was between the freshmen and seniors, resulting in a victory for the latter with a score of 8 to 2. The teams were even more nearly matched than the score indicates and while the game was characterized by rough playing at times, yet the audience seemed satisfied that it was an exhibition of splendid ball playing. This was especially true of the second half, in which the freshmen held their opponents down to one basket. Lightner, Corlett (captain), Waltman, Towne and Mathew represented the seniors, and Becker, Mathers (captain), Gibson, Laird and Hutchinson constituted the freshmen team. Mont Brown acted as referee.
