Campus Gleanings.

Prof. W. F. Dann will give a stereotyped lecture at chapel today.

Carl Vieregg of Central City spent Sunday with University friends.

Dr. Lees has been confined with sickness the last week and has been unable to meet his classes.

The Y. W. C. A. is planning an excellent concert for Saturday, March 12. Save that date.

The bacteriologists are rejoicing over a new incubator, the invention of Professor Heald, which was made in Lincoln from plans furnished by the professor.

The department of botany has added a large herbarium case for the storage of specimens. For want of room it is placed in the corridor of the main floor of Nebraska hall.

C. A. Scott, U. S. forester, in charge of the forest reserves in central and northern Nebraska, visited the University a day or two ago and met a lot of the forestry boys. He gave an address to Professor Miller's class in forestry on Monday. He says that the opportunity for work in forestry are very good, and encouraged the boys to fit themselves for government service.

Academy Notes.

Miss Nellie A. Dean gave her basket ball girls a bachelor spread at her rooms lately, to the great enjoyment of the girls. This was to celebrate the victory over the Y. W. C. A. team. The girls expect to play the Midgets of the University, next week, and as a consequence in every room, at every door and on every block a charmer stands anxious to sell tickets. The young men are responding well, remembering how glad they were to receive help from the women last fall. The Academy will make an effort to bring out a good crowd. Incense will be burned and sacrifices offered to the end that the gods may be propitious to the Academy women.

Messrs. Myers, Morgan, Miller, De Wolfe, De Young and Shaw are supposedly busily preparing for the coming debate with the city Y. M. C. A. team. The only fear is that these men may be of the old Calvinistic type in which case they will not give up even if convinced. Saturday evening the selection will be made from the above five men of the three who are to slay the Saints.

Assignment of work for the next issue of the Academy News has been made by Miss Latrop and Miss Dean. It is hoped that the interesting Jap, Kim Akagi, will write his first essay on the present war. If he does we promise the readers a quaint sketch from this bright young man.

Mr. C. V. Smith is suffering from weakness of the eyes and is compelled to take daily treatment for them. Mr. Smith is such an excellent student that the necessity of neglecting his work for a few weeks will be hard for him to bear.

Bryan Prize Announced.

The notice of the annual offering of the Bryan prize has been posted. The question to be discussed is: "To what extent should political parties be subject to legal control?" In past years competition for this prize has not been very brisk. Generally two or three contestants are permitted to fight it out, and in this way it is hardly possible for the best talent in the University to be represented.

Tickets for the game with Wisconsin next Saturday can be secured at the Co-Op, Uni Book Store, Hall's and Sidles.
