Drop Your Books and Go To The Mass Meeting This Morning.

There will be the regular musical program at chapel this morning, but it will be music that every loyal supporter of athletics at Nebraska rejoices to hear above all others—the old Uni yell, which has made the building resound so often during the last two years after or before victories in football, baseball or debating, poor old basket-ball alone not having been so honored. University students have to be educated up to the fact that football is not the only game which can turn out heroes, and that an "N" won in basket-ball means something, means work just as hard if not as dangerous as football practice, and means conscientious work extending over a period twice as long as the football season. Basket-ball is really a great game, and is recognized by all college athletic authorities as calling for as great a store of energy and as much endurance as football or rowing. And the university public will have the chance of their lives to see the beauties of basketball in a game which promises to be faster than any ever played on the Armory floor. Wisconsin is coming for blood, and will get it if so many students don't come out tomorrow night to cheer our team on to victory that John Uhl will have to call on Chancellor Andrews and Linn Huntington to help him carry in more seats.

Manager Hewitt feels so certain that the Armory will be so full that there won't be room for the game and that all this crowd will want to cavort to "The Good Old Summer Time" for a couple of hours, that he has decided to have both the Armory and chapel floors ready for dancing. Dr. Clapp has relented from his stand on waxing the gymnasium floor to the extent of permitting it tomorrow night, so everybody may be assured there will be room for them to dance, as the two rooms will accommodate 175 couples. Everybody come out and make the game the most successful financially and the dance the largest that "ever was."

Wisconsin is having the same experience with athletic finances as Nebraska and every other big school, namely, that from the football receipts must be paid the deficits incurred in every other branch of college sport. This year Wisconsin had to pay more than $12,000 from her balance and from the football receipts in order to even up the accounts of baseball, crew, and every other sport. The crew was the most remarkable money loser, due to the fact that no admission charges were ever possible, student contributions constituting the sole receipts in that department of athletics. It is easy to see that without football to fall back upon, half the colleges in the country would have to drop track, baseball, basket-ball and tennis teams. Nebraska is even more unfortunate, for football also failed to pay for itself last season, although next year's schedule promises to leave a neat sum in the treasury.

Y. W. C. A. Cor cort.

The Y. W. C. A. has made plans for a most excellent concert to be given by Miss Martha Tyler of St. Louis in the Armory Saturday night, March 12.

In Miss Martha Tyler the public is afforded the opportunity of hearing a singer whose voice in its perfection stands pre-eminently alone.

The quality of her voice is a rich, mellow, sympathetic contralto, eminently fitted for song recital, for in this work the artist giving a complete program, must be versatile—each song an individual word picture.

By reason of her perfect method, this singer delights her audience with her distinct enunciation. What is more trying than to listen to a singer and not be able to understand what she is singing about?

Miss Tyler is a singer of great dramatic ability and intensity of expression, combined with a beautiful and pleasing stage presence. The opportunity of hearing her here should be regarded as a welcome one. Admission 25 cents. Tickets on sale at the book stores.

Miss Paxson's last meeting with the university girls was the noon prayer meeting, Monday. She left Monday afternoon for Chicago, and a chorus of regrets from the girls that she could not remain with them longer. Her time during her visit was completely filled. Besides the various open meetings, she met with each committee, with the cabinet and with many of the girls personally. All of her meetings from the noon services to the quiet hour at nine on Sunday morning were well attended. The number at both noon and afternoon services never fell below one hundred, and at one meeting reached one hundred and thirty. At the rally on Sunday afternoon in which the Wesleyan, Cotner and city associations joined, the chapel was pletely filled. A delightful informal reception was given her by the advisory board Thursday evening at the Conservatory of Music. The conservatory girls had decorated the hall and parlors with pennants and potted plants. Miss Steven gave a number of musical selections. Over three hundred girls were present during the course of the evening.

On Saturday evening the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority entertained Miss Paxson and the cabinet of the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Paxson won the heart of every girl with whom she came in contact by her charming personality. She understands perfectly the problems which meet college women. Her talks to the girls were very clear and practical, but most inspiring. Every association girl has gained a new enthusiasm for Christian association work. Miss Paxson expressed her pleasure at the growth made by the association during this year, but pointed to the yet unpossessed field and urged the association to make greater effort than ever.

Come to the Y. W. C. A. meeting Sunday at 3 p. m., U. 106, and don't forget to bring your Bible. Miss Withers will lead.

Art Association Pays New York Artists $ 75.00 Damages.

The Art association, through its attorney, F. M. Hall, has settled with the New York artists who had claims growing out of the recent art exhibit. Seventy-five dollars was the amount required for compromise with the artists whose original claims exceeded that amount by a hundred dollars. The damages under discussion were due to racking sustained by the frames and the touching up of these through a mistake. The artists laid special stress upon the fact that the antique finish of the frames has suffered from the genius of one of our University officials who had touched up some of the unsightly places with gilt, thus mixing the modern and antique, a combination which the gifted artists did not regard. The original demand caused considerable trepidation among the members of the Art association, as it threatened to do more than wipe out the surplus that they had to its credit. The agreeable settlement, however, is received with satisfaction, as now the usual difficulties growing out of the art exhibit have been attended to.

Election of Officers In P. B. D. C.

The Palladian Debating club will debate the subject of municipal ownership of utilities next Saturday evening and a good crowd is expected. The society is in a healthy state and President Smith expresses himself as highly pleased with the result under his administration. He has made an excellent executive, bringing to his position many years of good solid debating experience and the club will surely look far for a man to fill the vacancy at election next Friday evening. Little is said about the prospective president, but from all indications J. C. Mitchell, a man who is an excellent debater and an eloquent, magnetic speaker, will hold the gavel next term.

TO HOLD AN EXAM

Civil Service Commission Will Examine Engineers.

Engineering students will be interested in the notice concerning an examination for engineer draftsman to be given in April by the civil service commission. These examinations in Nebraska will be given at Omaha, Lincoln and Grand Island. Exact dates can be obtained at the engineering department.

The circular sent out in regard to the matter is printed below:

"The United States civil service commission announces an examination at the places mentioned in the accompanying list, to secure eligibles from which to make certification to fill two vacancies in the position of engineer draftsman, one at $1,400 the other at $1,600 per annum, in the office of the supervising architect, and other similar vacancies as they may occur.

"The examination will consist of the subjects mentioned below, which will be weighed as follows:

Subjects	Points
1. Mathematics (pure mathematics up to and including calculus, theoretical and applied mechanics, with special application to the class or work to be done).....	25
2. Materials and design (comprising knowledge of steel, iron, fire-proofing, etc., and design of columns, trusses, etc.).....	40
3. Drawing (involving ability to draw designs neatly to scale, tracing, etc.).....	15
4. Educational training and experience.....	20
Total.....	100

"Three days will be allowed for this examination.

"Age limit, 20 years or over.
"This examination is open to all citizens of the United States who comply with the requirements. Competitors will be rated without regard to any consideration other than the qualifications shown in their examination papers, and eligibles will be certified in accordance with the civil service law and rules.

"Persons who desire to compete should at once apply to the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., or to the secretary of the local board of examiners at the places mentioned in the accompanying list, for application Form 1312, which should be properly executed and forwarded to the Commission at Washington. In applying for this examination the exact title as given at the head of this announcement should be used in the application.

"Persons who are unable to file their formal applications and who notify the Commission of this fact, either by letter or telegram, with the request that they be permitted to take the examination, will be examined, subject to the subsequent filing of their applications, provided their requests are received at the Commission in sufficient time to ship examination papers."

This will be an opportunity for some of our engineer students to try their chances at least. Any man making a success of the examination stands a good show for securing a government position as draftsman. Any man eligible for such a position should not be backward in taking this examination, for if he is on the eligible list he might find it to his advantage.
