BRYN MAWR COLLEGE

Fellowship and Graduate Scholarships Annually Awarded.

Bryn Mawr College awards annually eleven resident fellowships, eight graduate scholarships and three foreign fellowships.

The resident fellowships are of the value of $525 each, and are awarded in Greek, Latin, English, German and Teutonic philology, Romance languages, history or economics and politics, philosophy, mathematics, physics, chemistry and biology. They are open for competition to graduates of Bryn Mawr College, or of any other college of good standing, and will be awarded only to candidates who have completed at least one year of graduate work after obtaining their first degree. The fellowships are intended as an honor, and are awarded in recognition of previous attainments; and, generally speaking, they will be awarded to candidates that have studied longest or whose work gives most promise of future success.

The holder of a fellowship is expected to take at least one full graduate course in the department in which the fellowship is awarded, and to show, by the presentation of a thesis, or in some other manner, that her studies have not been without result. All fellows may study for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, the fellowship being counted, for this purpose, as equivalent to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Fellows that continue their studies at the college after the expiration of the fellowship, may, by a vote of the trustees, receive the rank of Fellows by Courtesy.

Fellows are expected to wear academic dress, to assist in the conduct of examinations, and to give about an hour a week to the care of special libraries in the halls of residence and in the seminaries, but no such service may be required of them except by a written request from the president's office; they are not permitted, while holding the fellowship, to teach, or to undertake any other duties in addition to their college work. Fellows are required to reside in the college and are charged the usual fee for tuition, board, and room-rent.

Eight graduate scholarships, of the value of $200 each, may, on the recommendation of the head of the department in question, be awarded to candidates next in merit to the successful candidates for the fellowships; they are also open for competition to graduates of Bryn Mawr College, or of other colleges of good standing. Scholars are expected to wear academic dress and to assist in the conduct of examinations.

Application for resident fellowships or scholarships should be made as early as possible to the president of the college, and must be made not later than the fifteenth of April preceding the year for which the fellowship or scholarship is desired. Blank forms of application will be forwarded to the applicants. A definite answer will be given within two weeks from the latest date set for receiving applications. Any original papers, printed or in manuscript, which have been prepared by the applicant and sent in support of her application, will be returned, when stamps for that purpose are enclosed, or specific directions for return by express are given. Letters or testimonials from professors and instructors will be filed for reference.

Three foreign fellowships of the value of $500 each, applicable to the expense of one year's study and residence at some foreign university, English or Continental, are awarded annually. The Bryn Mawr European fellowship is awarded annually to a member of the graduating class of Bryn Mawr College on the ground of excellence of scholarship. The Mary E. Garrett European fellowship is open for competition to all students still in residence who have for two years pursued graduate studies at Bryn Mawr College. The President's fellowship is open for competition to students in their first year of graduate work at Bryn Mawr College.

A full statement of the graduate courses offered by Bryn Mawr College, together with a schedule of hours, will be found in the general program, in the graduate program, and in the graduate leaflet.

For further information, address the President's Office, Bryn Mawr College, Bryn Mawr, Penn. November, 1903.
