Word comes from Washington to the effect that a few days ago there was born a son to A. F. Woods, '90. Mr. Woods was for some years the first assistant in the department of botany in the University, which he resigned in order to accept a fine position on the staff of the United States department of agriculture.

Superintendent of Construction Chowins has received a prospectus of a new telephone system which may be installed in some of the offices of the University. The instruments combine several advantages not usually found in such machines, and which offer extraordinary inducements to Mr. Chowins.

Leland Powers at Rehearsal.

Leland Powers, the famous lecturer, attended the rehearsal of the Senior class play, "She Stoops to Conquer," at Miss Howell's home last evening. Mr. Powers has read from this play for several years, and appeared on the city Y. M. C. A. lecture course with it this fall. He expressed much pleasure at the rendition given by the Seniors and offered several helpful suggestions.

The first year elocution classes rendered an interesting recital in U. 106 yesterday morning. The recital was to have been under the direction of Miss Ethel Erford, but at her request Miss Howell conducted it.

The following were the numbers on the program:
"John Sherman Haight."
"Just Like Other Folks."
"Jimmy Brown's Prompt Obedience."
