Campus Gleanings.

Prof. A. E. Burnett and J. S. Daies returned yesterday from a visit to the new experimental sub-station at North Platte.

E. E. Waltman was suddenly called to his home in Creston, Ia., yesterday by the death of his mother.

Dr. W. A. Clark, president of the state normal school, was a visitor on the campus Thursday.

The best recommendation of an affair of this kind is the words of praise so generally spoken by those who attended last year.

Professor Ayisworth has been handicapped somewhat in his work the past few days on account of sickness at his home.

The law school has taken action to organize a Law baseball team. There is considerable material available, and the prospects are that a team will be put out superior to any previous one.

W. P. Snyder, assistant superintendent of Farmers' Institutes, has been appointed to take charge of and direct the sub-station at North Platte.

A representative of the Chicago View company is working among the University students to obtain a number of canvassers to work during the summer months.

Manager Baird of Michigan, after vainly trying to schedule a game with one of the big eastern teams, has decided that it is dangerous to play football so late in the season as Thanksgiving, and so Michigan will play no game on that date. Mr. Baird has certainly the right idea about making the best of a bad bargain.

The English club will meet Saturday evening with Miss Adele Lathrop, at 321 North Sixteenth street. Miss Flora Bullock, one of the early members of the club, and Miss Jane Fox, a member from a few years ago, will give the principal numbers. For this meeting the usual assignment of critics has been dispensed with. Miss Bullock is author of "The Town on the River," read in its second edition.

Medical Society Meets.

The Medical society meets in room 201, Mechanic Arts hall tonight. Dr. Ward, dean of the college of Medicine, will deliver an address on Patent Medicine. This is a subject of general interest one on which the public generally is not well informed, and is therefore much imposed upon. Dr. Ward's power as a speaker is well known and his power to discover and expose a fraud is second to none. He will surely have something of interest for us tonight. Every one is invited and all four and six year degree students are especially requested to come out.

Chancellor Andrews, Dr. Bridges, of Omaha, and other prominent men will address the society in the near future.
