Editorial Remarks

In another column of today's paper we set forth an account of the elaborate arrangements that are being made for the next summer session. The plans for the summer school have occupied the attention of members of our faculty for weeks, and the work that has been done in adding and substituting courses ought to put our summer school on a firmer basis, giving it strength and making it more attractive to the student and the teacher. The excursion that has been planned to the world's fair ought to prove a drawing card and shows the effectiveness of the efforts of a hustling management.

The coming session is of special importance. The degree of success attending it will demonstrate the advisability of continuing such sessions in the future. If good results are not obtained after all the work that is being done then it is hard to see the use of continuing the summer school. But we may rest assured that the effort will be made, and we hope that the desired measure of success may be attained.

The rules passed by the Brown Athletic Board in regard to summer baseball seem to be meeting with general disfavor. There is certainly no tendency evident toward their adoption by other colleges. As is well known, the Brown corporation has refused to sanction such rules. While these rules do not seem to carry with them many advantages and viewed in a certain way to be justified, yet it is felt that they would give professionalism a stronger hold on college athletics than it ever has had by creating more possibilities for evils to creep in without eliminating any of those already present. It would be like taking down a barrier to admit one principle and allowing other undesirable principles to slip in and swell the number already there. The feeling is general against such rules, although there is strong argument in favor of them. Anything that would tend to increase the hold of professionalism upon college athletics must be contended against. For college athletics would be greatly benefited if professionalism were to be weeded out of every institution in the country where it is to be found.

Appropos of the coming Glee club concert it has been suggested that the previous lack of support be remedied by the management giving a dance afterward. If this method had to be resorted to, but we know it will be unnecessary, no very high compliment would be paid to the University public. We are divided here in two classes, those who dance and those who do not. Now, if it is necessary to allure the dancing element to a Glee club concert by offering them a dance in connection with the musical appreciation of these people needs no comment. On the other hand, if the class that doesn't dance can't be drawn by dancing nor by a first class concert given by the University Glee club, no very high compliment is paid to them, either. But we have faith in the loyalty of the students and feel that the Glee club concert will be patronized as the club deserves.

The American Law School Review has opened a competition to law students with prizes to the amount of $200. The last issue of the magazine contains a list of ten cases. Contestants are expected to send to the editor a correct list of citations showing where identical cases are to be found in reports or reporters from which the ten cases have been selected. The successful candidates in this preliminary contest may enter a second contest, to be conducted through the mail. It is to those successful in this deciding trial that the prizes are awarded. First and second prizes of $75 and $25, respectively, are offered, and ten prizes of $10 will be given to the other answers in the order of their merit.

The Shepherdson Meetings-

Beginning next Sunday, the people of the city and the students in the university will have the opportunity of hearing one of the most eloquent preachers and best Bible students in the country. Dr. Shepardson is very different from the old style evangelist in that he is a scholarly and careful student. He took his Ph.D. degree at Yale when only twenty-two years of age, and President Harper said that he was the best Hebraist of his age in America. Dr. Shepardson is a helpful preacher, and will do people good. He has no tricks in the conduct of his meetings, and he has no fads.

There will be a meeting for Bible study in the afternoon at 3:30, studies in "The Epistle to the Hebrews." These are fresh and scholarly studies and will make this epistle a new book to many persons. In the evening at 7:30 there will be a song service in charge of Mrs. Shepardson and at 8 o'clock Dr. Shepardson will preach. The meetings will be held in the First Baptist church, corner Fourteenth and K streets, and all students are cordially invited.

Noon Prayer Service.

Thursday the noon meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was in charge of Mr. Paul Harrison, who took for the basis of his interesting talk, Romans 10:10-15. The opening for missionary work among the people of the Philippines was pointed out as the greatest opportunity ever given to the people of the United States. It was stated that the responsibility accruing from the possession of the islands makes it especially urgent that the best civilization be sought for the people there. Christianity is one of the forces necessary to such civilization, and the call must not be slighted. There are at present only 100 Protestant missionaries working there in a population of 8,000,000.

Mr. Harrison has charge of a class studying the situation in the Philippines. This meets every Tuesday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. room. The text used is entitled, "The New Era in the Philippines." The leader presents the work in a very interesting way, bringing out much more than a simple reading of the book can give.

The work admits of new members joining the class at any time, and visitors are always welcome.

Mdm. Schumann-Heink Musical

Considerable interest is being manifested in University circles over the Matinee Musicales at the Oliver next Monday afternoon. The appearance of Madame Schumann-Heink in Lincoln this year has aroused much comment throughout the state, and is considered the biggest musical event of the year. The musicale is given under the aus-

The Easter Ribbons
Look Like Gardens of Flowers

Wild roses, morning glories, poppies with wheat, little Dresden flowers trailing over white or tinted grounds of satin and silk.

The taffetas are printed in the warp, which gives them a soft, dim look alike on both sides. The wild rose pattern in these is a beauty. Flowered ribbons are to be used for neckwear, sashes, millinery and fancy-work.

DRESDEN TAFFETAS printed warp floral patterns, all colors; 1 3/4-inch, 15c; 3-inch, 25c; 4-inch, 35c; 4 1/2-inch, 50c and 55c; 5 1/4-inch, 75c; 6 1/4-inch, 85c a yard.

PLAIDS in bright colors, 3 1/2-inch, 25c a yard.

OMBRE TAFFETAS, handsome ribbons shaded from the edges toward the center or vice versa; 4-inch, 25c a yard.

BATISTES with borders of dots between stripes. These can cut through the center and make into collar and cuff sets. Ask them to show you how at the counter; 4-inch, 35c a yard.

BATISTES WITH POLKA DOTS embroidered in contrasting colors with silk edges to match. The salespeople will show you how to tie this ribbon so that it forms a big four-in-hand bow with a stock to go around the neck; 4 1/2-inch, 35c a yard.

A STUNNING RIBBON is black satin embroidered in large white polka dots half an inch across; 4-inch, 50c a yard.

pieces of the Woman's club of Lincoln, but tickets will be obtained at the Oliver, from 50 cents to $1.50. The audience will doubtless contain a large representation of University people.

The Phi Psi Party.

The Phi Psi fraternity held its annual party at the Lincoln hotel yesterday evening. About fifty-five couples were present and music was furnished by Eddie Walt's orchestra. The rotunda was decorated in crepe paper, Phi Psi colors, which are pink and lavender.

The parlor was decorated with University and fraternity pennants. About twenty men were present from out of town. The annual banquet will be held this evening, and covers will be laid for sixty-five.

Preston Search Lecture.

Dr. Preston Search addressed a good sized audience in Memorial hall last evening on the subject "Face to Face With High Ideals." Dr. Search directed his remarks to the teachers and prospective teachers among the student body, and clearly showed the influence of ideals in the minds of the young students.

Dr. Search has a vivid imagination, as well as some excellent ideas, and his lecture combined interest with instruction in an unusual degree. He will address the county teachers at the court house this afternoon at 2 o'clock. All are invited to attend.
