TARGET PRACTICE

Men From Our Battalion Wanted To Compete At California.

The place of the annual cadet encampment will be announced as soon as Captain Chase can hear from all the towns with whom he is corresponding. York and Milford are yet to be heard from. A letter from Milford is expected today, and York will probably be heard from before the end of next week.

Captain Chase has received the following letter from the Olympic club, of San Francisco, which is self-explanatory. The invitation can not, of course, be complied with for obvious reasons, but it is considered as a decided compliment to the cadet battalion:

To the Commandant of Cadets, University of Nebraska, Lincoln:

Sir—Captain Waite, commandant of cadets, University of California, desiring to place the direction of the Inter-Collegiate rifle shoot, formerly conducted by him, in the hands of a disinterested party, and having requested me to assume charge thereof, I accept the position, and will endeavor to carry on the contest in accord with the conditions previously governing.

I therefore extend an invitation to your college to enter a team for this year's shoot, feeling sure that the contests in the past have developed an active interest in rifle practice in the cadet corps thereof.

The conditions governing are: Teams of ten men each; ten shots each, off hand; two hundred yards; Man Target "A"; Springfield rifle with regulation trigger pull; no sighting shots or other preliminary firing on day of contest; match to be shot on home range and results (original score sheet and bulletin) certified by commandant, and forwarded not later than June 30, 1904. Attention is called to Par. 436 and 535 in firing regulations for small arms for the United States army. Address all communications other than final scores to S. E. Montgomery, Berkeley, California, whom I have detailed as adjutant of the contest and who will furnish any information desired. A list of entries will be sent you as soon as possible and a certified statement of results will be forwarded by August 15, 1904. Entries should be made by April 30, 1904, if possible.

Judging from reports received from colleges entering teams in the 1903 shoot, this annual contest has been instrumental in creating and maintaining an active interest in target practice in the various corps.

I hope you will join in making another successful series of contests, and that this proposed action will meet with your approval and adoption. Very respectfully,

GEORGE E. SAGE,
Captain U. S. Army, Retired.

The first dress parade of the year was held on the campus last evening. The battalion appeared in white duck trousers, and made a surprisingly good showing. Considering the fact that the exercises were entirely new to a large number of the cadets, the showing was especially good. A large crowd containing a most inspiring proportion of Co-Eds, watched the movements from the grandstand, and the bleachers on the south end of the field.

The next issue of the Academy News will appear next week and will probably contain a cut of the victorious debaters. There will also be several signed articles of various points of interest. The May issue will be a woman's edition gotten out wholly by the women teachers and students. The men have a notion that they can easily beat this edition the following month. We shall see.
