Campus Gleanings.

The Academy News is delayed this issue and will not appear until next Monday.

The Historical society rooms were closed yesterday all day because of a holiday.

Those who have not yet paid their Freshmen dues are requested to do so at once.

Mr. Slutenille, a former University student, is principal of the Gerling schools this year.

The Academy and Sophomore baseball teams were unable to play this week on account of the bad weather.

Professor Hodgman returned yesterday from a trip to Central City, where he acted as judge in an oratorical contest.

Manager Meyers of the Academy football team states that he has scheduled a game for next year with the Omaha High School.

The Union society attended the basket-ball game in a body last evening. Immediately after the game the following program was given in the hall:

Today is the last day of grace for those who wish to order Freshmen caps. A large number have already ordered and the representation will be large.

The Palladian Literary society has succeeded in raising almost $1,000 of the $1,500 pledged to the Temple fund, and if no bad luck intervenes they will succeed in the promise they have made toward the structure.

The Palladian Literary Society had a very enjoyable time last evening considering the large number who were absent in attendance on the basket-ball game. Those who were present made up for the absent ones by an increased effort.

The Geology II class on Tuesday will be divided into two divisions, part going to the laboratory and the rest remaining in the chapel. Those whose names begin with A and above but not including K will go to laboratory, the rest will remain in the room.

GRADUATING EXERCISES.

Commencement of School of Agriculture Last Evening.

The second annual commencement of the Nebraska School of Agriculture was held last night and seventeen men were granted certificates of graduation, showing the completion of the three years' course.

The exercises took place in the Art room, which was especially decorated for the occasion. The program began promptly at 8 o'clock by the rendition of a piano solo by Miss Ethel Syford. After the invocation by Rev. Bullock, Mrs. Henry B. Ward sang.

The commencement address was given by Dr. Albert Boynton Storms, president of Iowa State College. Dr. Storms chose for his subject, "By-Products," which he handled in a most scholarly manner. With a deep, pleasing voice, coming from a sympathetic breast, reminiscences of farm life were clothed in poetic expressions and the beauties of nature pictured as only the student of nature can picture them.

After the presentation of certificates a vocal duet was rendered by Miss Vera Upton and Mr. Bradford.

The following men received certificates:

THE
AMERICAN MONTHLY
REVIEW OF REVIEWS

How Can I Keep Up with the Times?

IT is pretty hard to keep well informed on the political news, the scientific news, the literary news, the educational movements, the great business developments, the hundreds of interesting and valuable articles in the hundreds of excellent magazines. About the only way it can be done by the average busy man and woman is to read a magazine like "The Review of Reviews," and, as it is the only magazine of the sort, it is a good thing to send $2.50 for a year's subscription.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT says:
"I know that through its columns views have been presented to me that I could not otherwise have had access to; because all earnest and thoughtful men, no matter how widely their ideas diverge, are given free utterance in its columns."

EX-PRESIDENT GROVER CLEVELAND says:
"I consider it a very valuable addition to my library."
