FENCE BEING PUT UP.

Athletic Field Undergoing Change New Football Rules.

The clearing and surveying of the site for the new physics building has been completed, and in consequence the appearance of the athletic field is beginning to change. Posts have been placed for a fence running west from the main hall the width of the field. Within the enclosure the new structure will stand. During the football season the fence will be torn out, as the intervening distance between it and the wing must be used. The north fence has been moved out to the T street curb, and the north end will be filled in and made level with the rest of the field. For this purpose the dirt from the excavation for the basement of the physics building will be used.

The lumber from the south forty feet of the grandstand, which was torn down, is being piled up at the north end of the structure, and will be utilized for the building of a new addition. At present the field looks very limited, as it is, but the matter of space has been figured out nicely. There will be fifteen extra feet at the north end of the field, so that in defending their goal line no team can mass and brace itself against the fence, and thus gain possession of the ball on account of the failure of its opponents to gain the proper distance. At the south end, where the L shaped wing extends out, there will be five feet of free space. The goal posts are at a reasonable distance west of the northwest corner of the wing, so that the space around it will be free.

Some notable changes have been made in the football rules for next year, to which we will briefly call attention. Six men must be in the line of scrimmage at all times, and four men besides the quarterback may be played back of the line, but one of these men may play outside of either end of the line.

A drop or place kick will only count four points instead of five, as heretofore. The quarterback will be allowed to run with the ball in any part of the field, provided he runs the required five yards from the man who snaps the ball. Penalties are to be limited to five and fifteen yards. The umpire's whistle will be heard no more. He must have a bell or horn, in order that his signal may be distinguished from those of the other officials. After the umpire gives the signal, the team completes the play that has been started, paying no attention to the signal until the ball is downed. If a long run has resulted from the play during which the foul is committed, the run is allowed if the foul has in no way caused or interfered with the checking of the runner.

A deliberate attempt to draw an opponent off-side will call for a penalizing of five yards. If a fair catch is interfered with in any way, the catcher is allowed fifteen yards and the privilege of putting the ball in play in scrimmage or receive five yards and have a free kick.

When a team is forced to bring the ball out from behind the goal line after a touchback or a safety, and the ball be kicked twice out of bounds, the opponents must put it in play from the 35-yard line by scrimmage instead of on the 25-yard line as formerly.

On a punt after a touchdown the opposing team must stand no closer than 15 feet from the punter.

The Minnesota Daily makes in part the following complimentary mention of the entertainment accorded the girls' basket ball team by Nebraska:

"Enough can not be said in praise of the hospitality shown the Minnesota girls by the Nebraskans. One social event followed another in rapid succession. The girls were met at the train by a large delegation and were at once claimed by their various hostesses."
