No provision has yet been made for English II under Miss Woodman, who was called away.

The Academy baseball team will play the Cotner team this afternoon at Colner.

Mr. Beal, who has been absent for more than a week, has again returned to resume his work in the University.

Alph Theta Chi will initiate this afternoon at the chapter house. The annual banquet of the fraternity will follow in the evening at the Lincoln.

M. P. Campbell, popularly known as "Bump," left last night for his home in Lead, S. D., where he will take up business with his father.

Dr. Heald was out to the state experiment station yesterday afternoon planning some experiments for some work on the nature of diseases of the raspberry.

The girl who sits and waits for a man to propose feels about the same as she would feel if she sat down and watched a rat hole. We can't tell how the man feels or what he is thinking about, but the chances are that if he had anything to blow about in the way of a ticket to the Glee Club Concert, he wouldn't keep her waiting. With apologies to the Illini, who stole it from the Actna Life.

A very enjoyable party was given Thursday evening at Walsh hall by the inter-fraternity society of Vikings. Some forty couples, including Vikings and others in the fraternities, represented in the Vikings, enjoyed the music of Eddie Walt's orchestra, which was at its best. The hall was decorated in the purple and green of the Vikings.

Between dances light refreshments were served.

Messrs. Douglas of Omaha and Southwick of Frined, came on for the dance.

Among the Alumni

Myron Elson, '03, recently visited Willis Warner, '01, at Youngstown, O., and saw the wonderful sights connected with the manufacture of steel at the Republic's Bessemer plant.

A curious circular letter has been received from Sam Anderson, '03, containing the program of the annual field day of the Syrian Protestant College, at Beirut, on Saturday, March 26. The program is printed in English, but some of the names form a stumbling block to ready perusal and pronunciation. Four departments—the medical and pharmaceutical, the collegiate, the commercial and the preparatory—are represented, each one having its own flag and colors. Among the events we note the following: 100-yard dash, discus throw, running high jump, potato race, still race, three-legged race, sack race, campus race, interclass relay, 440-yard run, shot-put, physical drill, half-mile run, Jarcod throw, 120-yard hurdle, Indian club swinging, running broad jump and a relay race. Medals were distributed among the winners by Hon. G. Ble Ravndal, U.S. consul at Beirut. Following these events was a football game for the college championship.

We quote the following from the Omaha Bee regarding Mr. H. P. Leavitt, an alumnus of the University, and now an attorney at Omaha:

"By the election of H. P. Leavitt as its president with a strong array of under officers the McKinley club has put itself in shape to do effective work for republicanism in the coming presidential campaign. Mr. Leavitt is a young man of promise who is alive to the opportunities of the club. A well disciplined and intelligently directed body of young men such as make up this organization can be a most useful adjunct to the regularly constituted agencies of the party, to say nothing of the benefits derived by the individual members themselves and the social features connected with the annual banquet the club has undertaken to promote."

Junior Reception to the Seniors

In the usual order of spring functions comes the Junior reception to the Seniors, which is announced to occur May 14. The Juniors this year will tender the usual reception, but with the difference that all classes and University people are invited. The belief that all should join in such an expression of good will and respect for the Seniors is general. So every student should attend for his own enjoyment and to make the occasion a pleasant memory with those who leave the University this year.
