Campus Gleanings. University Bulletin

Another set of plans from the gulf coast of the southern states has just been received by the department of botany for addition to the University herbarium.

Professor Bessey received a little collection of South African ferns a few days ago. Some of these are very rare and curious species not often found in collections.

Mr. G. N. Porter, who is instructor in English at the State Normal, attended the debate Friday evening, with his team, who will debate the State Normal of Kansas on the same question next Saturday night.

The department of botany placed an order for microscopes and apparatus with the firm of Bausch & Lomb of Rochester, N. Y., amounting to about $400.00.

Special rate to students at Hendry's.
