Mass Meeting in Chapel Tomorrow

Tomorrow morning a mass meeting will be held in Memorial hall for the purpose of rousing interest in the meet with Minnesota Saturday. This meet will be an event in which Nebraska has an opportunity to make a fine showing and if the proper sort of support is furnished it is felt that our representatives will win the meet. Minnesota is a formidable opponent, to be sure, but it is a certainty that all our men will be in good shape and able to do work of a record-breaking character.

Tomorrow's meeting will be largely an informal affair, and the students should turn out in large numbers and be convinced of the necessity of supporting the meet and find out why our men can be expected to show up to good effect. A comparison of the established abilities of our men and of the Gophers, shows that we have not only an even chance, but a strong likelihood of winning. A comparison of the individual records actually shows that Nebraska is the strongest on paper at least. Let all the students turn out tomorrow and attend the meeting, utilizing all their efforts in making it a success, and thus aiding the interests of the track meet Saturday.

CHANCES FOR STUDENTS.

Can Obtain Employment Enabling Them to See Worlds Fair.

Prof. T. M. Hodgman, reserved accommodations for five hundred people at the Christian Endeavor hotel in St. Louis last Saturday. This is the best hotel in the neighborhood of the exposition, clean, modern in every respect and one hundred feet from the entrance. The manager desires ten University men as dining room waiters, and five or six women. He will give three afternoons off each week and three tickets to the exposition, good room and board and pay one dollar per week. No one should apply to Prof. Hodgman who can not remain at least one month. This is a delightful stopping place, and a rare opportunity to study the wonders of the exposition at leisure.

Attended the Concert.

We have learned that Professors Caldwell, and Persinger purchased tickets to the Glee club concert, for which they were not given credit in the communication on that subject last week. Although Professor Caldwell was unable to be there, Mrs. Caldwell attended. Mr. Persinger both purchased a ticket and attended the concert. We are sorry that these mistakes were made, and would suggest that those handling us communications of this kind to print should first see that all their statements are accurate.

A BARB TICKET

Their Five Candidates Win in Athletic Board Election.

Yesterday the Barbs won out in the most exciting Athletic Board election ever held at this University. All five of their candidates were elected, which result seems to have furnished a complete surprise to both parties in the contest. The results are as follows: Borg 494, Beers, 466, Woods 436, Lane 434, Barta 432, Hewitt 427, Hagensick 379, Mason 366, Van Burg 345 and Molony 337. In all 829 votes were cast, although 832 were accounted for by the amount of fees received.

As was predicted Borg ran well and polled a large vote from both sides. Beers also ran well, coming second with a large vote. For the fraternity men Hewitt scored a strong vote, and the addition of six more votes or a change of three would have made his case secure. In fact Mr. Hewitt was a very popular candidate, and had many friends on both sides who were very desirous of seeing him elected.

The turnout was surprisingly large, being beyond expectations. During the hours that the polls were open an intermittent throng of voters exercised their right of suffrage.

The showing made by the Barbs was due largely to their organization and to the lack of community in the fraternity body. The Barbs have certainly made vigorous attempts to organize, having learned the value of organization, and profited by the lesson.

The girls voted to quite an extent. Many of them, however, insisted upon paying their own fee and would allow no one else to do it for them. Some of them absolutely refused to vote under any circumstances. But the great generality went out and exercised their right of franchise.

The election was indeed an exciting one, and stands without a parallel in the history of the institution. Quite a nice little sum was raised toward cutting down the athletic deficit, to which baseball games forfeited on account of rain have contributed a share.

PLANT THE IVY

Seniors Hold Most Impressive and Final Exercises.

Yesterday the Seniors held their annual Ivy Day program, which was attended by the most desirable degree of success. The main part of the program consisted of the class oration by Emory Buckner, which was finely conceived and delivered, and the class poem, by Miss Helen Streeter, which was well written and appropriate. "The Seniors Farewell," the class song, which was composed by Miss Mabel Stephens, was sung by the class. The ivy was planted so that it will climb the west wall of Memorial hall and shade the future generations of students. President Borg turned over the trowel to President Allen of the Junior class, to keep and treasure until death did 'em part. The Senior girls held a May Pole dance on the campus, with a large crowd of interested students as spectators.
