Track Men Preparing to Meet South Dakota.

From all reports coming from South Dakota the team there has not done as well as our men. They were pretty badly defeated on the 15th by the Brookings Agricultural College. Their sprinters do not appear to be very fast, as Brookings took most of these events. Comparing these with our records, the home men should win most of them.

The mile run was won in 5:15, while States made it in 4:42 last Saturday.

The 100-yard dash was won in 10 3-5, 220-yard in 23 2-5, by the Brookings men, so that Nebraska should take first and second in these events. They, however, won the hammer throw at 117 feet, which means a close contest in that event. In the discus throw they made 98 feet, and about 34 feet in the shot put.

It is expected Hauser will win first in both hurdle races.

South Dakota may take the broad jump from us as their man has made 21 feet 5 inches.

On the whole Nebraska ought to win the meet handily, although a team can improve wonderfully in the space of three weeks.

In the meet Monday Nebraska ought to show marked superiority. The showing made against Minnesota was consistent with the true class and speed of our men when they are in their best form. In fact it was the first try-out that they have had in which it was possible for them to show their true form and the effects of their training.

The last time we met South Dakota we were outclassed, but at the coming meet it is more than probable that Nebraska will show up to much better effect. The comparison of records certainly argues well for us, and these can not deceive to such an extent as to turn the balance against us.

Next Monday our baseball men will play two games with the brawny men from Havelock. Last year our team defeated the Havelock men quite handily. This year the Law team has lost several well played games to them. Havelock, however, plays a strong game of ball throughout the whole season. They had a rattling good team last year, and the games Monday ought to be good ones.

Considerable interest has been manifested in the great dual meet between Yale and Harvard last Saturday, in which Yale was the winner by a score of 57 7-12 to 46 7-12. Four dual records were broken—in the two mile run, the 120-yard hurdles, the shot-put and the hammer throw. The time for the two mile run was 9 minutes 54 1-5 seconds, and for the 120-yard hurdles, 15 3-5 seconds. The distance for the hammer throw was 143 feet 8 1-4 inches, and for the shot-put, 45 feet 1 1/2 inches. Because of this meet Yale and Harvard are tied in the number of meets won.

Mr. C. B. Cornell, E. E., and Mr. L. A. Sheldon, M. E., both of the class of 1905, have been elected to Sigma Tau.

L. H. S. Alumni Banquet.

The committee which has in charge arrangements for the banquet of the Lincoln high school alumni, to be held at Fraternity hall on Friday, June 3, urges that every alumnus make it a point to be present, as the immediate success of the enterprise, as well as the permanency of the association, depends on the interest shown in such a reunion. There has been a notable lack of interest in the past few years. This is perhaps due to the fact that the banquet as originally instituted was given up too much to dancing, a form of amusement which the older members do not enjoy. This pleasant feature will be eliminated by the judicious arrangement of the program. A reception committee has been appointed and the reception rooms will be open at 7:30. At 8:30 an elaborate banquet will be served, which will be followed by a number of toasts. Mr. Dean Ringer will act as toastmaster. Those desiring to dance at 10:30 will be supplied with a good program of Mr. Walt's best music. Everyone should be there, if only for a part of the evening. Tickets, one dollar and fifty cents, of the committee or at the high school. Remember the date.

New Periodical Obtained.

The first number of the new periodical, The Journal of Experimental Zoology, has arrived at the University. It is a large octavo in form, with 195 pages and many figures. The name of Dr. Henry B. Ward appears among the collaborators. The journal will be published quarterly at Baltimore, and includes only papers embodying original research of an experimental nature.

When making graduation presents, whether they be books, monogram stationery, pictures, or burned wood novelties, don't forget that the Lincoln Book Store carries the most artistic and original lines in the city.

DEFENDS PRES; McLEAN.

An Opinion from Iowa Concerning Difficulties There.

Few authentic opinions have come from the University of Iowa concerning the difficulty in which President MacLean has been involved. Hence the following from the Daily Iowan may prove interesting to those who knew President MacLean when at this University:

"The widespread circulation of reports both pro and con concerning President MacLean have resulted in nothing but a wild chaos of press dispatches and denials. That this attack should be made by an alumni organization is uncertain and improbable since it lacks the judiciousness and sane policy which generally characterize the proceedings of any alumni body. That it might be the attack of an individual inspired by a personal motive is hard to believe for such an attack to receive credence at all should be signed. Thus far to all appearances it seems to be another outbreak of yellow journalism. The untruthful quoting of the University faculty and their prompt denial of any statement whatsoever and the impossibility of finding the source or foundation of the many reports would seem to demand that public opinion be suspended and no credence at all be given to such vague and unauthorized reports. When dollars and cents appeal more to such journalism than honor and truth it is difficult for one to keep silent. In a land where free speech and the liberty of the press is maintained it is not strange that a few abnormal species should result once in a while. It is a matter of evolution simply. Not until public sentiment maintains a stricter censorship upon its own credulity will we ever hope to be free of such. The higher one proceeds in the scale of life the fewer parasites one finds in evidence. But the virulence and tenacity of the few, however, is startling. For once in the history of the world let the human race condemn such undesirable detestable growths."

SOAKED BY RAIN

Cadets Go Into Camp at York Under Weeping Skies.

(From our Staff Correspondent, Camp E. Benjamin Andrews.)
York, Neb., May 25, 1904.

The battalion of cadets arrived safely at York at 8 p. m., Tuesday evening, and immediately marched to Camp Andrews. The camp is located on a pretty slope, one-half mile southwest of York, near the city park. The camp was in readiness and the cadets assumed the strenuous duties of camp life in true style. A soaking rain was the only feature of the first twenty-four hours. The guard house is well filled and "roustabouts" are numerous. The following order was issued by Commandant Chase:

Special Orders No. 22—

1. The camp of instruction of the battalion, established at York, Neb., will be known as Camp Andrews, in honor of the Chancellor of the University.

2. The Commandant desires to call the attention of the cadets to the fact that the camp is established for the purpose of instruction, and it is expected, and all cadets will be required, to observe strictly all camp orders and regulations. No cadet will be allowed to leave camp without the authority of the Commandant. Any misconduct on the part of any cadet in or out of camp will result in his expulsion from the camp and a special report in his case will be made to the chancellor. By order of

An Error in History Corrected.

The recent article on the Morton History of Nebraska which appeared in The Nebraskan and which attracted widespread attention was prepared with a great deal of care, but one error inadvertently crept in. It was said that the chapter on the animal life of Nebraska was written by Professor Lawrence Fossler, whereas it should have been credited to Professor Lawrence Bruner, the eminent authority on this subject. The article in question was widely quoted and we make this explanation in justice to Professor Bruner.
