

MAGEE & DEEMER

AN EXTRAORDINARY SUIT SALE

An extremely large purchase of exclusively Fine Suits from our Rochester manufacturer, on sale Saturday, May 28.

The entire remaining yardage of this season's new fabrics-41 different patterns, making Four Hundred Eighty-Four Suits, closed out to us at less than two thirds of their cost to make.

These suits we could not sell, if bought in a regular way-none less than $22.50-fully three-fourths of them not less than $25, $27.50 and $30. In order to better introduce our "Kensington" make--we place the entire lot on sale Saturday at the uniform price of

- = $15.00 = -

These striking reductions you cannot fully appreciate until you have seen the suits themselves. Not a sale of inferior-unseasonable goods-not a sale to make money, but rather a sale to better introduce and advertise this superior make of hand tailored garments for which we have exclusive sale in the state.

These suits consist of Homespun, Scotch Cheviots and almost an endless range of styles of fine fancy worsteds, for which, just now, there is great demand. We say confidently that you may come expecting to see the largest and best collection of All Fine Suits you have ever seen. Buy now-buy for your present and future needs-you'll not have another such opportunity. Suits will not be charged during this sale. Sent anywhere C. O. D. subject to examination.

A SUMMER SESSION

Conservatory of Music Offers Special Summer Course.

The mid-summer term of the School of Music will open on Monday, June 20th, and continue for eight weeks. It is the purpose of the management to make this short term during the summer months one of the most valuable and attractive of the year. Special courses for teachers will be offered, and for those preparing themselves for pedagogical work, these classes will be found of inestimable value.

Henry Eames will give lectures weekly on topics of interest to piano students and teachers, such as interpretation, phrasing, use of the pedal, proper teaching pieces, and exercises for development of strength and dexterity. He will also give several pianoforte recitals before the school and free to all.

Mr. Howard Kirkpatrick will conduct a class in vocal training, with lectures on the subjects of errors in singing, vocal physiology, care of the voice and health, temperamental conditions and other subjects of vital importance to the vocal student and teacher.

Harmony classes in all grades will be conducted from elementary principles to canon and fugue. This is an excellent opportunity for those who desire to make up unfinished work during the year or by studying privately to accomplish much more than is practicable by regular class instruction. Mrs. Lola M. Sutton of Cotner University will act as instructor in this department.

The normal features of this term will be made most prominent and every facility will be offered to those who find it inconvenient to pursue study except in the summer to make it a season of exceptional advantage as well as others who are continuing after the year's study.

The analytical lecture and the recitals by faculty and students will be given at the school to which any person will be admitted by the payment of a small fee for the course.

Classes in Children's Music, pursuing the Fletcher method, will be conducted by Miss Carrie W. Pettis. Convenient hours will be arranged for these classes and regular work continued.

A splendid opportunity to attend the St. Louis exposition is offered through the University, which will run a special train leaving June 27, 7 a. m. returning July 2. Round trip, including lodging for five nights, with fine accommodations at the Christian Endeavor Hotel just outside the grounds. The rate, $18.00 to Conservatory students for everything mentioned above, for whom a special coach is reserved, and application should be made early. It is a pleasure to note in this connection that Mr. Henry Eames will appear in Festival Hall on June 29th as piano soloist before the Music Teachers' National association. This is undoubtedly the finest opportunity students of the school will have to attend the exposition as it occurs during the great music festival, when many of the noted musicians of the country will be heard.

Special rate to students at Hendry's.
