A QUIET MEETING

Freshman Class Elects Officers Without Disturbance.

Meeting in Charge of Juniors.—Sophomores Are Excluded.

About three hundred Freshmen, together with several upper classmen met in Memorial Hall yesterday morning and succeeded in electing an entire official slate for the class of 1908. A large crowd of about three hundred Sophomores and other classmen gathered outside the hall, seeking admittance, but a number of guards stationed at the doors checked off the Freshmen who presented themselves, and permitted no one else to enter without credentials. A repetition of last Tuesday's violence was threatened at times, but the crowd dispersed after a short talk by Chancellor Andrews, and the Freshmen held their first meeting in peace.

As is usually the case with the Freshman elections, an old Lincoln high school man, Leonard Barwick, who has already attracted much attention on the football field, was elected president on the first ballot. Messrs. Swan, Tingly and Swensen, who each conducted an active campaign for the office, were also nominated, but failed to show enough supporters to prevent the election of Mr. Barwick. The first ballot resulted: Barwick 129, Swan 57, Swensen 55, and Tingly 25. Mr. Barwick, having a majority of the votes cast, was declared elected.

The names of several candidates for the other offices were presented, the successful ones following: Vice-president, Miss Hodges; secretary, Byron Eaton; treasurer, Miss Mossie Kimmel; sergeant-at-arms, Mr. Leslie Mills. Mr. Mills was the unanimous choice of the class for his office.

Mr. Lawrence Sidwell, president of the Junior class, presided as temporary chairman.

EXTENDS HELPING HAND.

Kansas Gallantly Comes to Nebraska's Assistance.

The following graceful announcement is taken from the last number of The Kansan, of Kansas University: This neighborly desire to help the management of Nebraska's poverty-stricken football team, will meet the heartiest commendation of all Nebraskans:

"Under the existing circumstances the game to be played at Kansas City on November 12, between the Haskell Braves and the Cornhuskers will be the championship game of the season in the Missouri Valley. Everyone in Lawrence confidently expects Haskell to win and the sympathies of the university are with her.

"Arrangements have been made by Superintendent Peairs and M. N. McNaughton to run an excursion to Kansas City on the day of the game. The train will leave Lawrence at 12:30 and return about 9:30 that evening. A round trip fare of $1.00 has been secured providing 200 persons will go.

"As it is necessary at once to know if the requisite number of tickets can be sold, all students desirous of seeing the Nebraska team humiliated, will leave their names at The Kansan desk, at the check stand, or see M. N. McNaughton."

RICHARDSON BETTER.

Big Nebraska Guard Now on the Road to Recovery.

A telegram received from Richardson last night stated that the Nebraska guard had fully recovered consciousness. Just when he will return is not yet known. Mills' right arm is in pretty bad shape, but is improving. He will be in the game again in a day or two.

Barta and Barwick were added to the list of men at the training table last night, making fourteen men there—Benedict, Mills, C. Mason, G. Mason, Bender, Borg, Eager, Fenlon, Speer, Eurns, Robertson and Cotton.

A round trip rate of $1.10 has been made to Omaha Saturday for the Creighton game, if 200 can be secured to take advantage of it. All roads have made the rate, but it is not known yet what road will be the "official carrier."

About twenty men were out for basketball practice last night, and some excellent material is in evidence. Several old men were back and a number of fast men from the Freshman class appeared. A good, swift practice was held. Basketball practice will occur tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, when everybody will be given a try. It is hoped all candidates will be on hand.

FACULTY CIRCUS

Plans Adopted for Big Attraction on October 20th.

Professors Will Provide Entertainment for College Settlement.

The board of management for the World's Greatest Combined Faculty Shows, to say nothing of the magnificent Consolidated Hippodrome and Menagerie, has completed arrangements for the big show. The menagerie will contain many wild beasts of great ferocity, captured at enormous sacrifice of human life in the wilds of Africa. Many of the faculty members will display in open cages the wonderful power of human intellect and will over the fiercest monsters of the jungle, and Professor Lucky, experienced by years of research in child-study, will fondle these terrible creatures as a mother would her baby.

The great hippodrome and horse show will be in charge of Professor Taylor and Colonel C. J. Bills. It will contain many horsemen and horsewomen of international renown, who have performed before all the crowned heads of Europe. Their first and final appearance before the people of Lincoln will create one of the sensations of the age. A broncho-busting exhibition, and a parade of thoroughbred steeds from the Mammoth Horse Importing company's farms, near Lincoln, will also attract much attention.

The program will be completed by a number of stupendous athletic contests, under the direction of Professor Clapp. Among other attractions, too many to enumerate, will be a faculty football game, a slow walking race, a tug-of-war, etc., etc.

Each feature of the program will be accompanied by music from a superb faculty band, composed of one hundred and ten pieces. An Indiana war dance by one of the fraternities is also one of the features under contemplation.

Ladies are requested to remove all head-gear, hereafter, in Professor Caldwell's American History classes. If this rule were observed in other large university classes there would be less elasticity between the head and shoulders exerted on the part of the one behind, in order to see the professor at the desk.

J. W. Crabtree, formerly state inspector of schools, now president of the Peru State Normal, was transacting business at the university Monday.

The Union Debating society will meet for the purpose of reorganization and election of officers, Saturday evening, October 15, in Union Hall.

C. W. Devorak, a Sophomore in the engineering department last year, is now at Chicago University taking work in civil engineering.

T. H. Halstead, an old time student who has been studying for the past two years at Oberlin University, is back at Nebraska this year.

C. G. Hrubesky, a prominent member of last year's Sophomore class, is surveying for the Burlington in Colorado.

F. T. Vasey, '04, now assistant principal of the Pawnee high school, was on the campus Saturday.

C. A. Exby, '04, is at Chicago University this year, taking work in the department of theology.
