Editorial Remarks

The clipping from The Kansan of Kansas University, which was published in yesterday's Nebraskan, has been the source of much comment, none of which was complimentary. It had been generally hoped and felt since the occasion of the Kansas-Nebraska debate in Lincoln last spring, that friendly relations might again be resumed by the two schools, and The Nebraskan, for one, had believed that sentiment in Kansas had grown less bitter toward Nebraska, as we know is the case here as regards Kansas. There has been no call for such spite as is evidenced by The Kansan's the spirit shown Monday is here to stay and to be shown. Speakers noted for their football enthusiasm and their ability to jolly the crowd will give evidence of these traits this morning and every seat should be filled and standing room put at a premium.

It was impossible to secure the chapel Friday and this is the last chance to get together before the Creighton game in Omaha Saturday. Plans for the excursion will be given out. Everybody turn out.

In Society

The Delta Delta Delta's have secured two new pledges, Miss Palmquist and Miss Covey.

Miss Madeline Hills of Omaha spent Sunday at the Delta Gamma house, as the guest of Miss Ellen True.

Miss Mamie Eustus of Auburn, Neb., was the guest of her cousin, Miss Allie Lurlong, for a few days last week.

Miss Nell Randolph of Omaha will be the guest of Miss Ella Harper at the Kappa Alpha Theta house the last of this week.

Another initiation of the Sigma Chis will be held October 21st, at the frat house. H. Carney of Stanton, Neb., and G. J. Prongfitt of Denver, Col., will be initiated. A banquet will be served at the Lindell after the ceremonies.

On Tuesday evening the Sigma Chis gave an informal chafing dish party to about fifteen young ladies. Mrs. Mary Fritzgerald acted as chaperone. After the spread, dancing and music were the order of the evening.

Miss Faith Hoel of Omaha is expected at the Kappa Alpha Theta house to attend the initiation, the last of this week. Miss Hoel is a member of this fraternity, but was unable to continue her studies at the university this year.

The girls of the dormitory held an informal dance on Tuesday evening. There is some talk of a cakewalk, to article. Kansas has no bone to pick with Nebraska now. Expressions and actions such as she is now apparently indulging in are childish, ridiculous and uncalled for.

But it is already apparent that if Kansas is to root for Haskell, Nebraskans will not be slow to take up the challenge. If Kansas's attitude toward us is still one of animosity, she may be certain that Nebraska will not be imposed upon. If Kansas as well as Haskell is to oppose us on November 12, we may assure them that Nebraska rooters will be as plentiful as those of weeping Kansas, and it behooves them to get busy if the contest is to be of interest.

This morning there will be the first football mass meeting of the year held in chapel. This is the first opportunity to prove to the team that be held on Friday evening, and the girls are busy preparing suitable costumes. The first regular monthly dance will probably be given next week.

The initiation of Alpha Theta Chi took place last Saturday evening. After the usual initiation ceremony a dinner at the fraternity house followed. Covers were laid for thirty. Among the alumnae were Dr. Clements, Doctor Dales, Professor Piper, Doctors Orr and Pointer and Neil Cronin of Lincoln.

The Kappa Kappa Gammas held their annual initiation at the frat house on Monday evening. The initiation ceremony was followed by a large "feed," at which alumni local members and "pledges" participated. Those initiated were Miss Eva Sly, Fern Leet and Ethel Burkett of Pawnee; Miss Verne Hall of Creston, Miss Ruth Baker, Edna Baker, Mary Minor, Florence Woods and Misses Estelle and R. Wier.
