In Society

The initiations of the various Greek letter societies still continue and crowd out all smaller functions at the frat houses. The formal initiation ceremonies will probably not be closed until November 1, as new pledges are constantly being added. Several large parties are being planned for sororities, but no definite dates can be announced as yet.

The numerous socials by the literary societies, as well as other interesting programs scheduled for the last of this week, broke delightfully into the monotony of school life. From this time on the social calendar will be filled and there will always be plenty doing.

Miss Pearl Fitzgerald of South Omaha is the latest pledge of Pi Phi's. An initiation of this fraternity will occur early next week.

Miss Mabel Clark of South Omaha will be the guest of Miss Pearl Fitzgerald and Miss Nell Ensor at the dormitory over Sunday.

The Sophomore hop, the second dance of the year, is looked forward to with much anticipation, as the committee has spared no pains to make the affair an enjoyable one.

This evening the Kappa Alpha Thetas will initiate into their sorority Misses Emma Swezey, Stella Trimble, Agnes Langevin, Hazel Davey, Jessie Powers and Selina Stuart. A supper at Miss Millar's will follow the ceremonies.

Advanced students in German, numbering about twenty, Profs. Fossler, Grummann and Miss Heppner met at Prof. Grummann's on Thursday evening to form a German club. This club will meet every two weeks for a social evening at the different members' homes.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilons will hold their formal initiation this evening at the frat house. The ceremonies will be followed by a "feed." Those who will enter the society are: Messrs. Schmidt of Fairbury, C. K. Ward of Tecumseh, Burton Green of Lincoln, Russell Burrus of Lincoln, Guy Teeter of Beatrice, George Thompson and Harry Putnam of Omaha, Guy Cameron of Lincoln and Glen Castille of York.

Miss Edna Black returned Thursday from her home in Hastings.

Mrs. LeMar, Newman's Grove; Roland Myers, Germantown; Julia Holben, Lincoln, and Anna Jorgenson, Staplehurst, enrolled at the University School of Music this week.

Miss Jones, Miss Dales and Miss Castor, of the School of Music, gave a concert at Seward, Neb., last Thursday night, before the State Federation of Woman's clubs. They were received with a great deal of favor and applause.

A. J. Peterson, who superintended the arrangement of the University Woman's building, left for St. Louis this afternoon. He will return some time in the near future, and arrange the Windsor Hotel for a boys' dormitory.
