BIG PREPARATIONS

Minnesotans to Give a Splendid Reception to Cornhuskers.

Much Interest is Being Taken in The Affair.

The way in which the Nebraska-Minnesota game is being regarded by the Gophers, is best shown by the elaborate preparations that are being made to entertain the visiting Cornhuskers. The Minnesota university papers have been full of comment during the past week, on the action of the press club, which has decided to give the first social function of its career on the eve of the big game. A large attendance at the game is expected from Nebraska, and the affair will, in reality, be a great reception for them.

The nature of the entertainment is best indicated by the following clipping from the Minnesota Daily "College pencil pushers composing the 'U' Press Club are preparing to break into society, on the night of October 28—the eve of the Nebraska game.

"They will give an informal at the Amory on that date, which will turn out to be one of the most unique as well as brilliant functions of the year. It will be an informal informal, of an appropriate Bohemian character, and between dances there will be all kinds of such college stunts as clogging and singing, by 'U' talent. The music will be the best in the Twin Cities; the price is $1.50.

"We have received the outline of a melodrama in process of construction by a person or persons unknown, members of the dramatic club. The title will be 'The Red Hand,' or 'Chicago Gone Mad.'

If the prospectus can be relied on the play will be several shades more lurid than the title. "No setting, situation or shudder of the stereotyped melodrama will be lacking. The sagacious child, the feeble minded heroine, the idiotic hero, the adventuress, the villain and the inevitable detective will all be there. "The scene of the play is laid in the stockyard district of Chicago at the time of the great packers' strike and the action reaches its climax in a great mob scene in the third act, where the hero after being desperately wounded with two-thirds of a brick, quells the mob, breaks the strike and wins the heroine. This pleasing scene is rendered complete by the arrest of the villain and the suicide of the adventuress. "The cast calls for sixteen speaking characters and a mob of three. "We will give a complete review as soon as we receive a copy of the play. "The play will be put on at some private hall about Nov. 17th. Attendance will be limited to the Dramatic Club and a few invited guests. "Just at the time of going to press we learn that the Press Club has opened negotiations with the author for the presentation of their masterpiece at the Press Club ball.

JUST A FEW NEW SONGS FOR THE ROOTERS

The Nebraskan has received the following new rooting song from Miss Mable H. Stephen, '04, of Omaha. Copies have also been sent to the rooting leaders, and to the band, and have met with much approval from both quarters. They will be tried as soon as the weather moderates sufficiently for the rooters to get out, and it is suggested that everyone save the Nebraskan or cut the songs out for handy reference:

1. Time "If I but Knew." If I but knew, what we would do When we line up 'gainst Minn'sota, I'd bet some more, upon our score And be so confident, and cheer so loud! Perhaps we'll win, and score like sin We surely will, if we keep still, This Saturday will make us gay Nebraska'll win, we're sure she will!!

2. Time "Listen to the Band." Oh see our bully team How splendidly they play! How well they pass the ball Hear everybody say! There's Eager, Mason, Mills And Bender swift you see We will surely win the day When our Bennie leads the way To victory, for dear old Nebraskee!!

3. Time "Tale of the Alamo." We'll shed some tears for Minnesota When our team runs up the score Our presence will be felt we guess When Bender runs some more No paper's tale of it will tell, How much we them outshone But we'll give a fair account of it When we get home.

4. Time "Here's to the Land which Gave Me Birth." Here's to the team we love so well Here's to our star and pride Here's to the scores that much do tell

Here's to our fame so wide! We'll show them all how to play football

With Booth behind to guide Nineteen four will show some more What Nebraska can do!

5. Yell. (Indian.) Sizzle, sizzle, Husky Poke Ou-rang-ou-tang, Ou-rang-ou-tang, A hic! haec! hoc! Boomerang a shanghi! ki yo! ki yo! Boomerang a shanghi! ki yo! ki yo! Biff! Baff' Bubbles! Bah! Osky, wow, wow! Nebraska!

Yell slow at first, then faster until last two lines are very fast and sharp—"Osky wow wow! like Indian war-whoop.

Tune, "Under the Anheuser Bush." Talk about the teams of the vaunted Big Nine.

Praise their lightning plays and their strong beefy line.

There's a little squad that's the pride of our state,

You've seen them play and you know that they're great;

Often in a game when the fierce struggle's on,

If a moment comes when the play seems in doubt,

Watch and see—Cornhusker grit will win out.

Chorus.

Come, come, come help the boys to win, Yell for the Scarlet and Cream—

Come, come stir up a joyous din, Cheer our victorious team,

Hear our brave Uni band, (Ach du Heber Augustine)

Just shake the old grandstand, Yah! Do, do wake and get some life in you, Yell for the Scarlet and Cream.

SHOW TOMORROW

Long Awaited Faculty Carnival Near at Hand.

New Features Added to Already Long List of Attractions.

The first L.g event on the program of the Great Faculty Circus, which will show on the athletic field tomorrow afternoon will be the Calvacade, and fancy evolutions of the troop of twenty-five trained horses under the directions of Colonel Bills and Professor Taylor. An exhibition of two trained horses will also be given, as well as a broncho-busting exhibition.

Much mystery is connected with the wild animal part of the show, and we have not been able to find out much concerning it. A lassoing contest, which is also scheduled, is being kept quiet, and some startling surprises are promised.

The Indian war dance, which was called off, has again been placed on the program. The races will consist of a slow bicycle race, in which Professor Caldwell is expected to beat Professor Barber, by at least half a mile, a walking race, 100-yard dash wheel barrow race, etc. The football team will line up under Professors Emerson and Condra. The band of 110 pieces will be in charge of Dean Pound.

A number of university girls will compose the population of a German village. They will be costumed as Deutschers, and will dispense refreshments if handsomely remunerated. No clowns will be on hand, but a country doctor, not Dr. Ward, a genuine reub, and other well known freaks among the faculty will be present.

BAND GETS OFFICERS.

Appointments Are Announced at Drill Last Night.

At drill last evening the regular university commissions were given to the commissioned officers of the battalion. Captain Chase presentem them, with a few well chosen remarks. It was also announced that a number of the cadet uniforms had arrived, and might be had at the down-town clothing stores. The following appointments were made in the battalion, to take effect at once:

RAIN INTERFERES.

Preparation for Knox Game is Spoiled by Wet Weather.

On account of the wet weather yesterday, light practice was held on the campus last night. The recent changes made in the line-up, make this especially deplorable just at this time, on account of the hard game with Knox next Saturday. The Galesburg men have one of the best teams in their history this year and promise to furnish one of the closest and hardest games on the schedule. Their game with Illinois resulted in a score of 11-0 against them, while Illinois was able to beat Indiana by a score of only 10-0 last Saturday.

Manager Davis has returned from his trip to Kansas City where he went to close arrangements for the Haskell Indian game, to be played in that city on Nov. 12th. As the park management failed to guarantee sufficient seating capacity for the game no contract was signed, and if those having the park in charge do not come to time there is a possibility of transferring the game with the Indians to Omaha. This is not thought probable, however, as there is a strong feeling of interest already worked up in Kansas City and the foot-ball fans would not consent to allow the game to be transferred if they could help it. A large crowd is expected at the Haskell game, and the feeling, mostly for Nebraska, is very gratifying so long before the game.

As yet no definite rates have been made either to Minneapolis or to Kansas City. Low rates to both points will undoubtedly be made, however, and a large crowd ought to go with the team on both these trips.

Regular basket ball practice last night brought out a good number of players. After some preliminary goal throwing and passing the men were placed in two teams with Capt. Hoar, Reers, Hagensick, Burruss and Durkee against Krake, Fowler, Tyner, Van Burg and Mathewson. The older and more experienced men succeeded in keeping their opponents from scoring, but were compelled to play swift ball to do so. Fowler, a new man, has the height to make him a valuable man when he develops more speed and accuracy. Hauser, of track athletics fame, is intending to get out for basket ball practice soon. His height, with the necessary speed would make him a valuable man at centre. Basket ball practice will be held Thursday afternoon, if the gym is open. Notice will be posted to-day or in Thursday's paper.
