Editorial Remarks

Some criticism has arisen from the fact that the price of last Saturday's game was advertised in the Nebraskan as 50 cents and $1, while 75 cents and $1 were charged at the gate. The error was not the fault of the Nebraskan. Before advertising the game, we secured the prices for seats from the Harley Drug Co., where the seats were on sale. The block containing these prices was run on the front page of the Nebraskan for several days before the game, and it was the duty of the football management or the athletic board to notify us of the change in prices. We feel that the Nebraskan may have been done some undeserved injury by this neglect, and take this method of clearing the matter.

Tomorrow morning the second football mass meeting of the year will be held. Every person in the university knows the purpose of this meeting. Now, as never before, the football team needs the support of every lover of the scarlet and cream.

Without some evidence of enthusiasm on the part of the student, the Cornhuskers will surely be defeated. If, on the other hand, it is evident that the student body is with the team at the game, either figuratively or literally, victory will surely be ours.

The work done in the Knox game amply demonstrated what the team is made of. Tomorrow morning will show what the students of Nebraska think of the team. It is the duty of every man and every girl and every member of the faculty to GO TO THE MASS MEETING AND ROOT.

The Famous will give a special discount of 10 per cent to university students on all purchases of millinery, kid gloves, corsets, etc.

Academy Notes.

Monday evening the young women and the women teachers, to the number of fifty-five, gathered at the home of Mrs. F. M. Hodgman for a 6 o'clock buffet supper. This hour was chosen so that no one would be disturbed in her study hours or evening engagements. After an enjoyable supper the officers of the Social Hour club were elected for this semester. Miss Eleanor Barbour was made president; Miss Helen Bonekemper, vice-president, and Miss Marie Talbot secretary for the evening. It was decided that a different secretary should be elected for each monthly meeting, in order that the reports for the academy news might be as varied as possible. The meetings will be monthly and probably from 4 to 6 o'clock. The exact place, time and the extent of the refreshments were left to the executive committee. The principal then brought up the matter of basketball, and was greatly encouraged by the hearty response given. Miss Mitchell met the girls interested in this movement Monday evening at the academy, but the results are not known to the reporter.

The principal also urged the young women to make Mrs. Hodgman their confidante in all perplexing problems, whether financial, school or social. Girls have problems of their own to solve and Mrs. Hodgman would gladly be friend and adviser in loco parentis to every lonely girl. Miss Virginia De Steigner and others made the piano an effective adjunct to the sociability which was marked and hearty. By 7:30 the girls were departing to studies and other duties with new friendships formed and leaving a stronger conviction than ever in the minds of teachers and officers that for integrity, serious purpose and ladylike conduct, the academy girls are exceptional.

At 11 o'clock this morning a rally in the interest of the game with Omaha, next Saturday, takes place with Mr. G. A. Lee in the chair, Coach Elliott Graves and Manager H. G. Myers will present the importance of academy support if creditable work is to be done by the team. The game will be played on the university grounds and will be a battle from start to finish. To outsiders the nerve of the academy team seems preposterous, but Coach Graves says that despite the lightness of his men and the fact that all practically are new to the sport, he promises a creditable showing against the haughty giants from the city on the Big Muddy. There is no university game Saturday in Lincoln, and football cranks are urged to come out and give the plucky academy boys an enthusiastic support. These boys will soon be in the university and candidates for positions on the first eleven. Come out and see if they are any good.

The team lost the game with Weeping Water by a score of 5 to . The fellows do not, however, feel the least bit bad. It was beef against science in which beef had a trifle the better. Even then the result would have been different had not the principal at the moment of departure refused to allow fullback Heagy to play because his mother was opposed to the matter. Mr. Heagy is one of the strong members of the team and the principal realized that he was defeating the team by his action, but both he and the coach are resolved that football shall be a square game, no matter what the consequences.

FUNERAL OF L. C. FOLTS.

Many Students at the Burial of Old Uni. Man.

Yesterday at 2:30 o'clock the funeral of Mr. Louis C. Folts was held at his home in East Lincoln. Mr. Folts was an ex-Nebraska man, with many friends in the university. While in school he took a prominent part in university affairs, and was a member of the fraternity of Phi Kappa Psi. The members of the fraternity were present at the funeral yesterday, together with many other university people.

In Mr. Folts' death the university has lost a good friend and enthusiastic supporter, and his removal is sincerely mourned by a host of friends.

Solid Talk About Pianos

The Piano Business demands especial and distinct treatment by the highest commercial capacity. Your thoughtful attention to the following facts will enable us to save you many dollars.

Piano buyers are the most exacting people in the world. They have a right to be. The money involved is not small; and, money aside, the responsibility of a musical education rests on the right piano. Tone is everything. Case is only the outward show. Any one with capital can buy wire, wood, felt, ivory, ebony, varnish; but it takes more than money to put people in possession of artistic temperament, genius of organization and the powerful principal to make pianos right, because nothing less than right will do.

PACKARD, STARR, SMITH & BARNES, RICHMOND.

The more they are studied, the clearer it becomes their makers have been given the grasp upon the certainties of piano building. The limits of tone and beauty they possess are almost incapable of definition. They are not sold from bargain counters, but for prices having proportionate relation to real values. Pay by the month if you prefer.
