TO ARRIVE TODAY

Iowa Men are Expected at 2:30 Over the Rock Island.

A Large Crowd of Students Will Meet Them at the Train.

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon the Iowa football team is expected to arrive in Lincoln over the Rock Island. A large crowd of students is expected to be on hand to welcome them to the university, and every hospitality will be shown them during their stay in Lincoln. Nebraskas' lineup will not be determined until the last minute before the game, but the men from Iowa will line up as follows:

Moore, center; Rockwood, L. G.; Atkinson, R. G.; White, R. T.; Stoltenberg, R. E.; Schwin, L. T.; Stuff, L. E.; Griffith, Q. B.; McGowan, F. B.; Jones, R. H. B.; Chalmers, L. H. B. Substitutes, Scallon, Nerum, E. H. White, Kent, Knapp, Lee, Murphy, Jordan. They are reported in good condition and promise to give Nebraska all she wants.

Last night's practice was mostly signal work. Some new plays and tricks were run through. Birkner's consistent work at full on the scrubs has landed him on the varsity squad. Last night he was given varsity signals and was at full during signal practice. Bender and Beendick were out again. In Wednesday night's practice Fred Lundin, who has been playing sub-tackle, was put in at guard on the varsity, and in a mix-up tore loose a tendon in his ankle. The injury will keep him out of the game for a couple of weeks, and may be the remainder of the season. This is Lundin's first year on the varsity squad, he having won his way up by hard work and consistent playing on the scrubs. The seats for the game tomorrow have gone fairly well. The railroads have made a round trip rate from Omaha of $1.10, and a rate of one and a third fare from points in the state. This will insure a good out-of-town crowd tomorrow. Iowa is expected this afternoon at 2:30 on the Rock Island, and a good crowd will be on hand at the station to give them the glad hand.

After devoting the better part of Tuesday's issue to the details of the Nebraska-Minnesota game of Saturday the Minnesota Daily draws the following editorial conclusion:

"Saturday's game, while a great disappointment to many of Minnesota's too sanguine adherents, was just such a struggle as was predicted and expected by the team itself.

"Few expected so close a score, but the men looked for a hard, close game.

MEMORIAL FOR GERE GIRLS ORGANIZE SQUAD

Passing of Ex-Regent to be Commemorated Sunday.

Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock memorial services for the late Charles H. Gere, of Lincoln, will be held in Memorial hall. Mr. Gere was a regent of the university from 1882 to 1892, and during his entire residence in Nebraska was one of the most steadfast friends the university had. His death is regarded as a great loss to the university, and a large audience will probably take part in Sunday's exercises. The following is the order of exercises:

Organ, large Dvorak
Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond.
Reading E. Benjamin Andrews
The Man Grove E. Barber
"Then Shall the Righteous Shine Forth" Mendelssohn.
Mr. George Johnston.

TRIBUTES.

Patron of the University
..... Charles S. Allen.
Patron of Letters
..... Stephen L. Giesthardt
Violin—Adagio Spohr
Miss Silence Dales.
Patron of Science
..... Charles E. Bessey
Regent of the University
..... Lucius A. Sherman
"God is Love" Hymn 402
The Audience.

ACADEMY SEATEN.

The junior class football team defeated the Lincoln academy eleven on the campus yesterday afternoon before a small crowd, the score being 5 to 0. The juniors had considerably the advantage in weight and only the plucky work of the "preps" prevented a larger score.

The academy kicked off to the juniors at 2 p. m. and Charlton made the first and only touchdown after twelve minutes of play. The first half ended with the ball about the center of the field. In the second half the academy made good gains until McNutt fumbled and the juniors secured the ball. They were held for downs and the ball went to the academy on their own thirty-five yard line. After a few plays the Juniors put up a "stone-wall" and got possession of the pigskin. The game ended with the ball in the academy's territory. The academy team was weakened by the absence of three of their regular players. The lineup was about the same as published in yesterday's Nebraskan.

Brown to Speak.

Hon. Norris Brown, republican candidate for state attorney general will address the Roosevelt League on the issues of the day, in Memorial hall at 8 o'clock this evening. Mr. Brown is a speaker of some repute, and a good crowd is expected to be on hand to hear him. Good music will provide an added interest to the meeting.

They Decide to Root at the Big Game Saturday.

It is now a settled fact that rooting at Nebraska football games will no longer be confined to the male element of the school. Yesterday's meeting proved conclusively that the girls have the "proper spirit" and have taken hold of this affair with marked enthusiasm.

At convocation period yesterday morning about 500 girls assembled in the chapel. The male contingent was entirely excluded, with the exception of privileged "Bill" Ramsey. But even Bill Ramsey couldn't stand the pressure of the "lone man" and before the end of the meeting he was joined by another brave soul—Mr. Davis.

For a rooting organization the meeting was conducted in a most orderly manner. Miss Howell was elected chairman and she in turn called upon diacrent representative athletes for a few remarks. Mrs. Clapp responded with a few words expressing her hearty approval of the plan and her desire to aid the girls in any way possible. Miss Pound urged the girls to keep up their good work and make a lasting organization.

There were cries for more speeches and several of the girls were named, but Miss Raymond appeared with her baton and ended such outbursts of enthusiasm. Then came the practice of the songs, some old ones and a number of new catchy hits.

For all his bravery Bill Ramsey didn't get a chance to come out on the platform and Mr. Davis had just time to make a few remarks before the gong sounded. It was explained by Mr. Davis that a reduced rate would be given the "girl rooters" for a section of seats at Saturday's game.

Dems. to Continue Organization

The university Jeffersonian club met Wednesday evening for a final rally before election. A good crowd was present and the necessary business was soon disposed of.

A new feature for the club was proposed which, if adopted, will make interest in the club permanent. The plan in effect, provides that the organization be converted into a semi-literary club. Monthly meetings will be held at which discussions and programs concerning the lives and works of great politicians of the nation will be given. The life of Jefferson would, of course, be the first to be studied, followed by other prominent men of the same political faith.

Magoon at Convocation.

Hon. Charles Magoon of Washington, D. C., has been secured by the convocation committee to speak at Monday's convocation. Mr. Magoon is a man of international reputation, and is at present general counsel of the Isthmian Canal Commission. His appearance at chapel will be greeted with much interest by the student body.

The second monthly cabinet meeting will be held in the Y. W. C. A. rooms on Monday evening from seven to eight.

ANOTHER CHANCE

Nebraska to Have Scholarship at Oxford This Year.

Two University Men Stand Good Show to Land the Prize.

Chancellor Andrews has received the following communication from Mr. George R. Parkin who has charge of the Rhodes scholarships for America: London, England, Oct. 23, '04.

Dear Chancellor Andrews:

Nebraska is to have another scholarship next year and the two run at Oxford concurrently. We shall therefore have to ask you to exercise your selecting powers again. The year 1906 will be blank, but in 1907 another man will be selected to take the place of the first student, whose course will then be through.

"I trust that this makes the situation clear to you. I observe that four candidates passed in your state this year. The three who did not get the scholarship, but received the certificate of the examiners need not pass again to be eligible, provided that they have satisfied the other requirements. But any new men who enter themselves for examination this year should have an equal chance with them.

"The circulars about the examination will be issued in a few weeks, and I hope to be in America myself at the beginning of the year. I have not yet seen your Nebraska scholar, Mr. Coon, but hope to do so before long, as I am to be in Oxford. I see that he has been taken in at Lincoln, an ancient college with a distinguished history, and I hope he will add something to its traditions.

"Believe me,

"Yours sincerely,

"George R. Parkin."

This clears up several matters which have been in doubt for some time, the first of which is the assurance that Nebraska will be allowed another representative at Oxford this year. Last year two men from the university, Mr. A. H. Marsh and Mr. Frank Peterson qualified for entrance to the eastern school, but Mr. Coon, of Grand Island college, was selected on account of other qualifications in addition to scholarship. Both Mr. Marsh and Mr. Peterson are in school again this year and according to the above letter, one of them should stand a good show to be the second man to represent this state in England.

The examinations this year will be held in January instead of April, as last year.

The leaders for the noon prayer meetings for next week are: Mon. Miss Coppock, Tues. Mrs. Kellogg, Wed. Miss Lillian Chambers, Thurs. Miss Lucella Agee, Fri. Miss Patton.
