GIFT FROM BRYAN.

Noted Nebraskan Makes Donation to Museum.

The university received a gift Thursday, from Hon. W. J. Bryan, which is at once unique and valuable. It consists of a section of a silicified log of Sequoia, from the petrified forests, now a national park and reservation six miles south of Adamana, Ariz. There are 145 square miles in the two national petrified forest reservations, and it is only by express written permission from the government that the petrified wood can be removed from the preserves. The section donated by Mr. Bryan is about fourteen inches in diameter and beautifully colored. It will be exhibited with the Bryan collection, in the north wall case of the state museum.

Inter-Class Game.

A game has been scheduled between the freshmen and sophomores to take place on the football field next Thursday afternoon. The contest promises to be hard-fought, being the first inter-class game of the year. Odds are about even at present between the two teams, the freshmen having larger numbers to draw from than their opponents, while the latter's men have had more experience. Practice has been going on by both teams for about two weeks, and it is thought that they will be closely matched by Thursday.

Last night in Memorial hall, Hon. Norris Brown addressed a fair-sized audience on the political issues of the day. Mr. Brown, who is republican candidate for state attorney-general, spoke under the auspices of the Roosevelt league. His talk was forceful and impressive throughout and commanded the thorough interest of his hearers.
