Editorial Remarks

THE PRODIGAL SON.

"There is considerable talk about resuming athletic relations with Nebraska. Many who saw the Nebraska-Haskell game feel sure that Kansas could have won from Nebraska if the Jayhawkers had only had the opportunity. However, relations should never be resumed on such a presumption as that if they are to be resumed. When Nebraska abides by rules of eligibility and when such professionals as Bender are thrown out, the Kansas should resume relations with the Nebraskans. It would doubtless be to the best interests of both schools and while each can live without the other at the same time. It looks as if some agreement might be reached whereby relations would be resumed. There was a day when Nebraska and Kansas were good friends and they are now in everything but athletics."

This is from The Kansan.
It is to laugh!

The editorial in yesterday's Nebraskan with reference to the posting of a notice of withdrawal of a student from the university conveys the idea that this action is the regular course in such cases. Upon inquiry we are informed that this is not the customary rule. Other reasons in addition to those given on the notice are responsible for its being publicly posted. Several students have been requested to withdraw on account of serious delinquency in work, but they were dismissed privately.

WILLITS TO SPEAK.

Noted Orator at Oliver Theatre Sunday.

Dr. A. A. Willits, who has been for half a century in the front rank of pulpit orators and lecturers, will address the men's meeting at the Oliver next Sunday at 4 p. m. Dr. Willits has traveled over this country from coast to coast. When Beecher, Phillips and Gough were on the platform, the name of Dr. Willits was common in the same connection.

Sam Jones says of him: "Dr. Willits is a sunbeam by daylight and an arc light by night." Dr. F. DeWitt Talmage, after hearing him said: "We all came away filled with good humor, and a resolution to more highly appreciate our homes. Long live Dr. Willits, the entertaining lecturer, the genial man."

The press all over the country has been enthusiastic in its praise for Dr. Willits.

Although an old man, Dr. Willits is still young in spirit, and as vigorous in thought and action as he has ever been. He has never missed a date through physical illness.

Miss Vera Upton will render several solos. The doors of the theatre will be open at 3:30 p. m. Seats free. All men invited.

Engineering Notes.

B. B. Abry, who was an electrical engineering student here in '00, died recently of typhoid fever at Pittsburg, Pa.

The American Balanced Valve Co. have ordered two models of their valve sent to the Mechanical Engineering department from their exhibit at the St. Louis exposition.

Linn M. Huntington, civil engineering, '04, who has been with the engineers on the Panama canal since last July, writes that he is in charge of a topography party. His party consists of one other white man and a number of negroes, and is organized as an instrument party and two cutting gangs.

A recent letter from the office of the engineer of maintenance of way of the Rock Island announces that F. E. Watson has been promoted to the position of division engineer of the Panhandle division of that road. Mr. Watson was formerly a student of civil engineering in this university.

New Songs.

Hinds, No. 6 & Eldridge, New York, have just published a new edition of songs called "The Most Popular College Songs." The edition contains the best of the songs found in several of their other publications. The songs in this edition are carefully selected, and are especially adapted for male voices. They are typical college songs, nearly all of which are old ones, but partially forgotten by the present generation of college students. The edition is in paper covers, and sells for 50 cents.

Miss Susan Barnheart returned Wednesday from Omaha, where she was called on some important school matters.
