Banquet Tickets on Sale.
Tickets went on sale yesterday for the Cornhusker banquet which will be held at the Lindell next Monday, December 12. The price of plates is $1.50 per, which is surely low enough to insure a big crowd. At such events the more there are so much the merrier things always are. A big crowd of students and supporters of the team should be on hand Monday evening. Tickets can be had at the treasurer's office, or from a number of men on the campus.

Red Lynx on Way.
The article in Saturday's Nebraskan concerning the Samarian red lynx has aroused great curiosity. Dr. Ward of the zoology department is very anxious to see the animal upon its arrival. He says that if it is the genuine Samarian red lynx it will be worth going miles to see. Its chief peculiarity is, he says, that at first glance one cannot tell its head from its tail end. The name of the prospective recipient is not known, but she will doubtless give the zoology department an opportunity to examine the animal.

Just a Suggestion.
There is nothing you can give for Christmas that will be more appreciated than an artistic Portrait. Money spent in this way goes farther than in any other line.
See what we are producing in fine portraiture and make appointments immediately.
TOWNSEND'S ELITE STUDIO.
226 S. 11th street.

Mr. C. B. Cornell, ex-'05, well known to the students as the trombone player in the Cadet band for three years, was married to Miss Harie Larson, in Paris, Tex., on Thanksgiving day. Mr. Cornell has been touring with a concert company, and his bride is the soprano soloist for the same company.

The last day for the approval by the department of Rhetoric of subjects of the first Junior themes (due Monday, Dec. 19) is Wednesday, December 7. DEPARTMENT OF RHETORIC.

All Seniors must have their pictures taken at Townsend's by next Saturday in order to get them into the Senior Annual. COMMITTEE.
