THE FAIR IS OVER

County Fair Saturday Proves a Big Attraction.

Nearly Two Hundred Dollars are Cleared on Shows.

The great County Fair, concerning which so much has been said during the past two weeks, is now a thing of the past. The red lynx has lost his charm and the grand galaxy of freaks no longer holds an interest for the Freshmen.

Financially the fair was the most successful in the history of the university, as the following table will show. The Pi Phi's Living Picture show proved to be the best money maker, with the Freaks not far behind. The red lynx, although showing greater resemblance to the dog than the cat family, also proved attractive. The receipts and disbursements of the fair were as follows:

REGENTS TO MEET

Regular Session of the Board of Regents Today.

The regular meeting of the board of regents will be held today. It is expected that business of unusual importance will be done, although the information was received last evening that Regents Ernst and Rich, of Omaha, will be unable to attend, and difficulty may be experienced in securing a quorum. The matter of inter-communicating phones will probably come up, as well as a discussion of the plans for the administration building.

Juniors Will Make Another Effort to Settle for '07 Caps.

This morning at chapel time the Juniors will meet in Memorial hall in another attempt to devise means for settling for the '07 caps. A number of methods for disposing of the matter have been announced, among them the proposition to buy Junior caps this year at wholesale and sell them out to the members of the class at retail prices. It is not expected, however, that the entire sum outstanding against the class can be raised in this way, and new suggestions will be received at the meeting this morning.

The plan which appeals to many of the class is an assessment on each member. It is thought that class pride would make this scheme effective, although it is confessed that the Juniors have not shown signs of a superabundance of this quality so far this year. Still other members of the class desire a class play or some such function which might be made a university affair.

The total debt against the class is in the neighborhood of $45.

The New York Tribune has offered a prize of $25 for the best letter not exceeding 800 words in length, setting forth the benefits which result to colleges and to the student body from college fraternities, and another prize of $25 for the best similar essay against college fraternities. Basketball Game With Gophers May be Played January 21.

A tentative date for a game of basketball with the University of Minnesota, has been made by Manager Beers for January 21st, in Minneapolis. If games can be scheduled en route to defray part of the expenses and warrant our accepting Minnesota's proposition, we will meet the Gophers on that date. With the lesson learned Friday evening in the game against Highland Park marked improvement should begin to be apparent from now on. Our forwards will have to learn how to hang on to swift passes, for to the fumbling of these swift throws are due many of the failures to score Friday night. Whether or not our long swift passes, if handled properly, are more effective than the short pass used by Highland Park is still a question. A combination of the two ought to be the best, and the short pass, at the side lines, where there is more open space and less chance of blocking should be practiced more.

Dr. Clapp has received a letter from Manager McAnahan of the Yale Basketball Team stating that Yale's western schedule is entirely made up, and regretting that they will be unable to meet Nebraska this year. He expresses the desire, however, that the two schools may meet at basketball some time in the future.

Highland Park won the game against Nebraska Friday evening by the same score made by Nebraska against the Methodists, 31-31, but Wesleyan has protested the game on a technical point and Highland Park agreed to have the question submitted to the Amateur Athletic union for settlement.

WANT INFORMATION

Other Universities Would Investigate System of Debating.

During the past few weeks the Rhetoric department has received several requests from outside colleges for information on subjects for debate, suggestions on wording of questions and other matters which signify the prestige Nebraska holds in forensic work among the western universities. The latest of these requests has been from Park college, Missouri.

The impression which Lee Louis and M. C. Reynolds made in the debate with Washington university in St. Louis last May, seems to have lasted. A letter was recently received from one of the high schools in St. Louis stating that an inter-high school debating contest upon the question of the Monroe Doctrine, was to occur in that city. The request was made for any information and coaching upon the subject that Nebraska might be disposed to give.

In the chess matches by correspondence, which the Nebraska Chess Association has in recent years played with teams of neighboring states, John L. Clark has made the good record of playing in every match and winning every game he played. The resignation of his Kansas opponent, just received, makes his tenth victory.
