Academy Notes.

The Debating club reorganized for the new year last Friday evening in the academy rooms. Greatly to the surprise and pleasure of the men, Miss Dean appeared on the scene accompanied by a group of young women, partly present because of a newly aroused interest in debate than the influence of the course in argumentation; and partly because they wished to express to the fellows their appreciation of the solid worth of the club to the Academy. A surprising result of this social call was a determination on the part of the young men to reorganize on co-educational lines. Don Russell was elected president, J. H. Morgau, vice president; Miss Hazel Cameron, secretary; C. V. Smith, treasurer; Naosoburo Tatsukawa, sergeant-at-arms. As hitherto, the sessions will be held once in two weeks, Friday evenings. All desiring this splendid drill are cordially invited to join.

Friday at 3:30 p. m. the first Academy basketball team will play the Lincoln high school girls in their own gymnasium. They may be defeated, but are determined to make those tall high school maidens do some rapid work to accomplish this.

A small admission fee of 15 cents will be charged. Tickets will be left with Miss McGahey, Miss Mitchell and her girls deserve hearty support.

This reminds the writer that subscription papers are being circulated among the students for the purpose of in part raising the heavy load of debt under which the football team closed the season. No debt must be repudiated by the Academy.

The next meeting of the Social Horn club is this (Wednesday) afternoon, at 7 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. T. M. Hodgman, 1426 I street. This is the first time the new home of the principal has been thrown open to Academy people and a large attendance of young women is expected. Unless other plans are made, part of the hour will be spent by Mrs. Hodgman in a serious and profitable study of one of the world's great pictures. The approach of the opening of the annual exhibit of the Nebraska association makes this study opportune.

The next issue of the Academy News will appear next week. It will contain a Christmas design in colors, and will be the most ambitious number yet issued. Material must be handed in at once.

Miss Dean's mother was a welcome caller at the Academy yesterday and an interested observer of her daughter's skill in teaching.

Dinners and suppers $2.50 per week. The Home Cafe, 214 S. 12th.
