A TRIP UP NORTH

Basketball Game With Minnesota to be Played.

A Challenge Has Been Received From Colorado.

The basketball men are practicing every night and rounding into shape for the games with Minnesota on January 20 and 21. There are enough men out every night to have practice games and the varsity spends a great deal of time on team work.

It is the intention of the management to play at least three other games besides the Minnesota games on the trip north.

If they make the trip over either the Great Western or Northwestern railways they will play two games on the way to Minneapolis. It is very likely that they will play the Sioux City team on the trip. If they do, a hard game is anticipated, as this team figured very prominently in the race for the championship at the St. Louis fair on last summer.

While in Minneapolis they will play a city Y. M. C. A. of that place, or one in St. Paul, it being a question of which one furnishes the best guarantee. Dr. Clapp will accompany the team on this trip and act as official referee.

Manager Morrison of the track team has not yet arranged any meets. Although there have been several institutions after meets with Nebraska. The manager of the Colorado team was in Lincoln on Saturday trying to settle upon a date for a meet between Colorado and Nebraska, but nothing definite was done. He also tried to schedule a football game for next fall but was given no definite answer.

Indications are that the Charter Day athletic exercises this year will surpass any performance held in previous years. There are a good number of men out every day in preparation for the different events. These exercises will be held a short time after the Christmas holidays are over. Until that time there will be practice three times a week, conducted by Dr. Clapp. The events will be the same this year as in previous years and medals of silver for first and bronze for second places will be awarded.

Railroad Rates Home.

For students going home the railroads have made a rate of one and one-third far for the round trip. Certificates must be secured at the registrar's office, and then presented at the Missouri Pacific office on 12th and O, where, upon payment of 25 cents the certificates are signed and are then to be presented to the office of the road to be used. These tickets are good going Wednesday afternoon and all day Thursday, and the return limit extends over vacation. For those not taking advantage of this rate the railroads have offered another rate of one and one-third plus 50 cents for the round trip, good December 24th, 25th, and 26th. These rates are straight, not on the certificate plan.

Just a Suggestion.

There is nothing you can give for Christmas that will be more appreciated than an artistic Portrait. Money spent in this way goes farther than in any other line.

"MESSIAH" TODAY

University Chorus Supporting Soloists.

The program of the "Messiah," as given in yesterday's issue, omitted the name of Miss Grace Castor from the list of soloists. Besides the university chorus, those participating in the rendition as given this morning will be: Soloists, Miss Grace Cutter, Miss Ada Castor, Mr. Everett B. Carder, Mr. B. B. Gillespie; organist, Miss Stella Rice; pianist, Miss Edith Burlingame; director, Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond. String orchestral accompaniment. The 11:30 classes will not be taken up until the close of the "Messiah."

New Course in Entomology.

A new course in Entomology will be offered by the department next semester. The course will be Entomology 12. It will be a special training course intending to prepare students for government and experiment station investigation work. The course comes as a result of a growing demand for persons to fill government positions in the various lines of investigation now being carried on by the government Bureau of Entomology. A meeting of all students who contemplate taking the course will be held immediately after school opens in January.

Last Saturday the case of Smith vs. Robinson, an ejection proceeding, was tried in the supreme court. The case was tried by the lower court where Smith prevailed, but the attorneys of Robinson brought it to the supreme court on error. The counsel for the plaintiff in error were Meyer and Ritchie; those for the defendant in error, were Ringer and Day. The opinions were taken by Chief Justice C. R. Sargent and Associate Justices Roscoe J. Anderson and H. G. Wellensick, but will not be handed down for several days.

The argument was begun on December 10, and concluded at the next sitting on December 17. It was perhaps the longest argument ever held in school, consuming seven and one-half hours. However, the importance of the case and the thoroughness with which it was worked up, fully justified this unusual length.

The counsel deserve high commendation for the result of their work. The case was well analyzed and all the law upon the subject, both English and American, were thoroughly digested.

"COVER UP" JUNIORS

Should Get '06 Lids as Soon as Possible.

The Junior Cap committee, whose duty it is to sell a sufficient number of '06 insignias to lift the outstanding Junior debt incurred last spring at the famous Freshman cap bonfire, reports a general apathy among their classmates concerning this proposition. According to the complaints of this committee to whom the unpleasant task of soliciting cap orders is assigned, the Juniors are very chilly in their support of this measure, that was agreed upon by the major portion of them in a recent class meeting, as a means of lifting this debt that has been a "bug bear" to the class all year.

The orders will be held but a few more days as the time in which to purchase them has already been extended to an unreasonable length of time, so as a warning to those who want a Junior cap it will be well for them to brace up and order a "head gear."

The following, from The Illini, of the University of Illinois, will be of interest in connection with the big corn special now touring the state, and which was described at length in a recent number of The Nebraskan:

"Albert N. Hume, instructor in Farm crops is off for a week's trip with Professor Lyons of Nebraska university. The C. B. & Q. railroad is furnishing a free "corn train special," which will stop at all stations on that line in Nebraska. At each stop Professor Lyons and Mr. Hume will make rear platform speeches on "Up-to-date Corn Farming" and kindred subjects. This special trip is made by the railroad officials and representatives of the Agricultural Colleges in the interest of better farm practices in selecting, testing, planting and harvesting, with the direct object of obtaining a larger corn crop next year. Similar trips will be made in Iowa, Missouri and Illinois."

A very enjoyable time was experienced by a number of university people last Saturday evening on the lake near the Fair grounds. The ice was in an unusually good condition and the calm weather, together with the beautiful moonlight evening, made the conditions for skating ideal.

THE SOPHS - LAWS

The Inter-Class Championship to be Decided.

The Contest Promises to be One of the Finest This Season.

The much disputed football contest between the Freshman Laws and the Sophomores to decide the inter-class championship, will be played tomorrow. This game promises to be intensely interesting, not merely because of its significance in deciding the class championship, but because of the animated spirit and the long-drawn litigation between the two classes that has been smoldering for the past two weeks. Both teams will enter the contest with the strongest determination to win, which will produce the greatest exertions from both throughout the whole game.

The comparative strength of the two teams is hard to estimate because they have not been playing for some time and any way it would be hard to make a comparison of the two teams that won the championship in two entirely different fields. At any rate, there will be some brisk playing on both sides.

Summer Session Plans

The Course of Study Committee and the Inspector of Accredited High Schools perfected arrangements last Saturday afternoon for the next Summer School session of the university. The regents have made increased appropriation for this important work and prospects seem very hopeful for a largely increased attendance. The director submitted several innovations and was advised to work them out. The School of superintendence was heartily approved and will be made even more prominent than last summer. This is an unusually practical course for superintendents and principals in our graduating classes. It is concededly worth one year of experience.

A Message From Great Britain.

Miss C. Ruth Rouse, who is from Girton college, Cambridge, England, will visit the University of Nebraska January 28-30, 1905, in the interest of the Student Volunteer movement for Foreign Missions.

While a student, Miss Rouse was active in the Student Volunteer and Christian association work of Great Britain, and since leaving college has been employed as traveling secretary of the British Student Volunteer Union, and later in the same capacity for the American movement. She then became one of the workers in connection with the University Women's Christian Settlement at Bombay, India, and is now traveling secretary for the World's Student Christian Federation. Probably no other woman has worked among the students of as many different nations as has Miss Rouse. Through the efforts of Mr. John R. Mott she has been secured for a short visit to colleges of America, and Nebraska is fortunate enough to be included in the small list thus prepared.

For those wishing to attend the annual meeting of the Teachers' association to be held in Omaha just after Christmas, the Rock Island has made a rate of $1.10 for the round trip from Lincoln, providing two hundred can be secured to take advantage of this low rate. If this number can be obtained the Rock Island will furnish a special train for the movement. At present there seems to be no one at the head of an organizing party, and the rate may be lost for lack of patronage. There ought to be 500 Lincoln people sufficiently interested in this meeting to take advantage of this opportunity, and it would be well if somebody would take it upon himself to see that the 200 is guaranteed.
