Academy Notes.

While the students are taking a well earned vacation the principal will make a heroic attempt to appear joyful while he is arranging the program of the summer session of the university, attending the N. T. A. in Omaha, arranging for the publication of the monthly paper for the accredited schools, making a card catalog of accredited school statistics, advertising, corresponding—and a few other duties.

The sensationalism and bad taste displayed by the Lincoln Evening News in its issue of last Friday evening in a certain academy misunderstanding, has had no good effect, but has blocked the principal in his efforts to restore good feeling. It is customary for the papers to air the petty troubles of the high school, but never before has the Academy been gossiped about. This is primarily due to the fact that no troubles ever arise here nor shall they if students and principal have their way. Life is too short and too precious to waste over imaginary wrongs.

The Christmas number of The Academy News appeared yesterday. It is the product solely of students minds and hands and is particularly creditable to the editors. The color design on the first page was drawn by Mr. Paul Butler and engraved by W. G. Cornell. The number is expensive and is a Christmas present to the students by the principal. Soon faculty and students will scatter to their waiting homes and despite the sadness of the thought that never again will all assemble in Academy halls, may joy and comfort be the portion of each!

Mrs. F. M. Hall gave an interesting talk to the Social Hour club last Wednesday at Mrs. Hodgman's home. Her topic was the art of the St. Louis fair, and was illustrated by numerous pictures taken by herself. How much Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hall are doing for art in Lincoln is seldom realized by the public. Academy and university students are deeply indebted to them by reason of the generous hospitality of their artistic home and their indispensable support of the art exhibit—the eleventh of which begins next Monday evening.

The principal earnestly desires the Academy public to take advantage of this splendid opportunity to cultivate eye, heart and mind. Books alone do not educate.

We have met the enemy and we are theirs. The way those tall maidens of the Lincoln High School intimidated our basketball girls last Friday afternoon would bring tears from a stone. They were too big and too fast, as the score of 86 to 16, all too well attests. An excellent attendance greeted the teams and a jolly good time was enjoyed, despite the fact that some rowdies of the high school showed their poor breeding by silly remarks and boisterous calls. The Academy men, on the contrary, were gentlemen, as they always are, and gave courteous and hearty support to their team. The principal acknowledges with gratitude the generous attendance and support of Academy students and makes a solemn promise for Miss Mitchell and her girls that never—no never—again, will such a score be piled up against them.
