Alumni

Word reaches the University that W. F. Meier, 1903, law 1903, who is this year teaching English and debate in the Spokane, Washington, high school, is arousing a great deal of interest in debate throughout the state of Washington by the organization of an inter-high school debating league. This league consists of eight of the leading high schools of the state, Spafford, a graduate of Nebraska, 1902, who is teaching in the Davenport (Wash.) high school, is also interested in this organization. The first debate of the series will occur soon between Spokane

Warren B. Cattlin, 1903, a member of the Nebraska inter-state debating teams in 1902 and 1903, who was instructor in languages in the Hamburg, (Iowa) high school during the last year is now instructor in English in the Dubuque high school. Mr. Cattlin has organized a debating club which is a new institution in that school and which promises to be very prosperous.

R. C. James, law 1903, a member of Nebraska debating team against Kansas in 1903, who was elected county attorney of Richardson county last fall changed his address last week from Humboldt to Fall City where he will enter upon his official duties.

The debate held yesterday by Rhetoric 15 upon the immigration question was judged by Professor Fogg to be a distinct advance over the team's first debate in the course. Billings and Gibson argued for the affirmative and Tunison and Driscoll responded for the negative of the question.
